Winter's Worst Storm Late This Year

By JERRY KRIEGER
County-Farm Editor

The worst storm of the winter waited until spring; then unloaded a barrage of sleet, rain, snow and wind on southwestern Michigan overnight.

Winds up to 35 miles an hour whipped the snow into tight drifts, superimposed on an icy crust that formed late yesterday afternoon. Drifts were reported up to five feet deep in places in both Berrien and Van Buren counties.

With county road commission employes on strike, Berrien county was especially hard hit by drifted roads. Supervisory employes manned eight snowplows but were scarcely able to keep up with the fast forming drifts on just some of the main traffic arteries. Secondary roads generally were drifted. Some were completely plugged and others were barely passable on one-lane wheel tracks.

Several factories closed for the day and numerous meetings scheduled for today and tonight were called off. Most schools on the area were closed for spring vacation this week, but virtually all of those not on vacation were closed by the storm.

Tom Webb, engineer-manager of the Berrien road commission said the snowfall amounted to about 5 to 7 inches in the Lake Michigan Beach in the northern part of the county, and that most of the rest of the county had about 4 to 5 inches. Herb Teichman, weather observer near Eau Claire said it was difficult to record snowfall with instruments because much of the snow was blown into drifts. He estimated the snow at four inches, plus the rain and sleet.

Paul Kaiser, Van Buren road commission head, estimated snowfall between 8 and 12 inches, with drifts up to five feet. He said the heaviest snow was near Lake Michigan. Snowfall at Paw Paw was reported as 9 inches by Harry Bush, head of the village public works department.

In Watervliet a Watervliet city snowplow driver had a narrow escape when his truck got stuck in heavy drifting over the C&O railroad track. Driver Danny Baldwin, 28, of Watervliet, "bailed out" of the truck just before it was struck by an onrushing train.

According to Police Chief Bartley Rose the driver was not injured, no tickets were issued but the plow was heavily damaged. Accident ccurred today at 1:30 a.m. on M-140 at Pleasant street, Rose added.

A house was reported destroyed by fire this morning on Blue Creek road in Benton township, when fire tricks were delayed in getting to the scene by drifts.

A number of cars were left abandoned in roadways during the night and early today. A number of interchange ramps to I-94 were reported plugged by

'April Showers' Bury Michigan Residents

Michigan National Guardsmen were called up today to aid stranded motorists in the Flint area as a late snowstorm slammed into most areas of Michigan.

State Police of the Flint Post who reported a 17-inch snowfall in the past 36 hours made the appeal for guard troops.

Within hours, the 46th Engineering Construction Co. of the 125th Infantry Division was mobilized and sent out to rescue scores of motorists trapped on Interstate 75 and 69 and M21.

State government offices in Greater Lansing were closed because of the snow, affecting about 20,000 workers. State officials said closings of state offices in other parts of the state were up to local officials depending on weather conditions.

Michigan State University suspended classes today because of the storm, marking the first time since 1967 it has taken such action. Central Michigan University also halted its classes for the day as did Western Michigan University while Wayne State University said its offices would remain open today, even tho classes are in the midst of a semester break.

The National Weather Service said high winds, accompanied by snow and freezing rain, hit the southern part of the state. Thundershowers ranged from Battle Creek to Detroit as the storm whizzed across Michigan at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

While the storm receded in some areas today, other cities were inundated. In Saginaw, for instance, the city was virtually paralyzed as schools and many plants were closed and snow plows ran off the road.

Police said they were handling only emergency cases. Other schools were reported closed in a belt running from Barry to Sanilac counties.

Weather reports this morning snow was indicated over the south half of Lower Michigan and locally heavy in the extreme

Troopers Get Needed Blood To Hospital

A state Police relay team battled the worst storm of the year this morning to drive blood from Kalamazoo to St. Joseph Memorial hospital in relatively fast time of 98 minutes. Trooper Ron Olsen said state police from the Paw Paw post picked up four pints of blood from Borgess hospital in Kalamazoo at 3:25 a.m. and drove the blood to Watervliet. Troopers from Benton Harbor post picked it up there and got it to Memorial by 5:03 a.m. Memorial hospital said the blood was needed for several patients.

Explosions Rock Mid-Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Four explosions echoed through mid-Manhattan late Wednesday night and early Thursday, police reported. Officers said that one person was slightly injured.

Two of the explosions occurred at insurance company buildings, a third at a bank and the fourth at a Japanese restaurant.

One man was cut by flying glass caused by one of the explosions and four firemen were injured while knocking remnants from broken plate windows, police said.

A young man claiming to represent a Puerto Rican nationalist organization calling itself the FALN (Armed Forces of National Liberation), called The Associated Press at 12:53 a.m. and said:

"This is the FALN. We just threw bombs. You will find a communication in a telephone booth at 88th Street and Lexington Avenue." The caller then hung up.

The FALN is the group that claimed responsibility for the Fraunces Tavern explosion in the Wall Street financial district Jan. 24 which killed four persons and injured scores.

The latest blasts were spaced over a 35-minute period, with the first coming at 16 minutes to midnight and the last at 19 minutes after midnight.

Police said one of the explosions occurred at a Bankers Trust branch at 280 Park Ave. near East 49th Street. The bomb, apparently placed in the grille-work outside the bank in the courtyard, blew out plate glass windows.

The Bankers Trust security guard, Bernard Byron of the Bronx, said he was waiting for his midnight relief when at 11:55 p.m. he got up to make a final check of doors and windows.

A few minutes later, "The place just went up," he said. Byron ducked behind his desk, and after a few seconds, he ran to get the cleaning staff out of the building, he said.

A second witness to that explosion said he saw two men running away, but he would not comment further to newsmen.

Two other explosions occurred at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. building at East 25 Street and Park Avenue South, and at the New York Life Insurance Co. at 67 Madison Ave.

The fourth explosion occurred outside a Japanese restaurant and a fast food restaurant between 5 and 7 W. 46th St.

Mechanic Says Repair Law Will Cost Customers More

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state's new auto repair law was blasted by mechanics who say it will cost car owners money and praised by the Michigan Consumers Council, which says its files are loaded with complaints.

"Customers are going to pay through the nose," Ted Lentz, who operates a Lansing service station, told a panel of state officials Wednesday. The Secretary of State and his office's new auto repair bureau are considering proposed rules to implement the law.

"These rules are so complicated," said Lentz. "You have to spend a lot of time explaining things to the customer. Everyone could save a lot of time and money by writing just two paragraphs. One paragraph would say automotive repairmen convicted of cheating customers be thrown in jail. The second paragraph would say any customer convicted of using this law to evade paying valid repair bills should be thrown in the same jail, the same cell and the key thrown away."

"Car repair problems rank No. 1 in our complaint handling unit," said Linda Joy, executive director of the Michigan Consumers Council. "We hope to see the end of the long list of cases where a consumer signs a

Wholesale Prices Decline For Fourth Month In Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices declined in March for the fourth consecutive month, dropping sixtenths of a per cent as agricultural prices fell sharply while industrial goods rose only slightly, the government reported today.

The report from the Labor Department provided further indication of an easing in the nation's inflationary rate. Although the declines at wholesale have not been fully reflected at the retail level, administration economists predict consumers can expect further relief in the coming months.

The six-tenths of a per cent decline in wholesale prices last month followed a drop of eight-tenths in February and marked the first time since late 1963 that wholesale prices had fallen four months in a row. They were down five-tenths in December and three-tenths in January. In 1963, they fell a total of seven-tenths in January through April.

There's No Santa Claus In Energy Supply Field

Americans still believe in Santa Claus when it comes to energy. Many people remain convinced that just before the energy crisis becomes really crippling, Santa will show up with a bag full of energy goodies — nuclear fusion, solar heat, hydrogen fuel, ocean thermal converters or windmill power plants. He'll lay them at our feet and vanish up the chimney, taking the outdated fossil fuel era with him.

Energy experts are less optimistic about the timing or the likelihood of Santa's visit. Jack Bridges, director of the National Energy Program at Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies, spends much of his time trying to convince Americans that "the majority of the energy crisis is actually horribly real." Bridges maintains that "In the next few years we have no choice but to go after increased raw supplies of fossil fuels" and to reduce U. S. dependence on costly and unreliable imports.

The Ford Foundation's Energy Policy Project reached a similar conclusion in its final report, A Time To Choose: America's Energy Future: "Our judgment is that the oil and gas resource base in this country is far from exhausted and can supply over half the U.S. energy supply in the Technical Fix scenario for the remainder of the century." The project's "Technical Fix" scenario envisions that U.S. energy consumption will grow at a rate of about 2 per cent per year compared to the historical growth rate of about 3.4 per cent annually. "Limitations on oil and gas availability are likely to stem from a combination of environmental, social and political constraints on rates of development rather than from a physical limit on the quantities in the ground that could in theory be available," the Project concluded.

Estimates vary greatly on the size of remaining U.S. oil and gas reserves, however, making predictions risky. The American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists, at their annual meeting April 7-9 in Dallas, Texas, will consider these problems. Until Santa arrives, America may have no choice but to rely on petroleum geologists and economic mineralogists.

Hoover Commission Should Be Brought Back

Few voters remember the Hoover Commissions, except in general terms. Most politicians forgot them years ago.

As a quick refresher it need only be remembered that a number of people in and out of Congress about a quarter century ago decided the federal government had developed in a pattern akin to an octopus, and that a major study of administration and efficiency was a first step toward correcting the trend.

Headed by former President Herbert Hoover, the first commission explored the labyrinths of government in 1947-49. A second Hoover Commission in 1953-55 complemented the first. Out of both came a number of executive reorganization bills.

Two decades have passed since the second Hoover Commission. The federal government has experienced a fantastic growth during this period, measured both by the hundreds of new agencies and hundreds of thousands of additional employes. It has ventured forth into vast new welfare fields and far-reaching commitments with the states through regional commissions and revenue-sharing.

In this period no comprehensive study has been made concerning the administrative organization of the federal government. For this reason, if no other, support should be given for a new reorganization study.

It is a pity that of all the "watchdog" committees and commissions in government, including the General Accounting Office, not one is charged with a broadscale effort to maintain efficiency in the world's largest and most complicated business enterprise.

An extensive study once in 20 years is a poor substitute for continuing review, but it is better than a vacuum.

Summer Belongs To Baseball

Baseball, the favorite sport of trivia freaks, is obsessed with anniversaries. It celebrated its centennial in 1939 to honor Abner Doubleday for inventing the game at Cooperstown, N.Y. Sorry about that, Abner. Frank G. Menke, author of The Encyclopedia of Sports, firmly states: "Doubleday probably never played baseball. The game was an established sport long before 1839, and the chances are that the villagers of Cooperstown never knew what a baseball looked like until the Civil War, or afterward."

Undaunted, the National and American leagues celebrated another centennial in 1969. This time the excuse was that the Cincinnati Red Stockings had first played for pay 100 years earlier. A more valid reason for sticking 100 lighted candles on a giant pastry baseball would be to commemorate the founding of the first professional baseball league. The National League, in fact, was formed a century ago this season, and the American League is starting its 75th year of play. But no big deal is being made of this. Enough is enough, even for baseball executives.

Still, if the 1975 major league season provides as much action as took place off the field this winter, baseball fans should be more than content. At long last, baseball has its first black manager in Frank Robinson of the Cleveland Indians. The trading market was unusually active, with such big names as Henry Aaron, Catfish Hunter, Harmon Killebrew and Willie Davis moving on to new clubs. Johnny Bench got married. And Washington — first in war, first in peace, and no longer in the American League — was treated to its annual ration of news stories suggesting that it might get another franchise (the Orioles).

But the Hot Stove League season is past, and the Grapefruit League will shortly be a memory. The regular season opens next Monday, April 7, and will run for 25 weeks. By the time it is all over the football season will be in progress, and pro hockey and basketball teams will be preparing for regular-season play. No matter. The warm-weather months belong to The Boys of Summer.

Attention: Dr. Browe
Dear Dr. Browe:

Tonight after returning home upon the conclusion of the course that Ken Neidlinger and you presented, I wanted to extent my sincere thanks. thanks for the time and effort that the two of you extended in presenting a very interesting and informative course on How to Catch Big Fish Close to Home.

It was very apparent to me, that the two of you spent much time and effort in preparing each of the six classes, as you had a wealth of subject matter for each of the classes.

Both of you knew your subject very well and very unselfishly shared your secrets with the entire class.

I personally am glad that you did not allow the editorial in our local newspaper the night of our first class (Feb. 20) to deter your efforts in presenting a fine quality and highly informative class.

Havng lived in this community all of my life, I am glad to see that LMC is interested and willing to present informative classes that have interest to persons from a hobby as well as from an academic standpoint. From the expressions and interest extended by many of my fellow class members (approximately 30), I feel that they also share my feelings.

We are truly blessed to live in an area that provides both outstanding river and big lake fishing which is enjoyed by thousands of area residents and visitors. The subject and content of your class was of great interest to at least 30 of these fishermen.

Again, a sincere thanks!

FLORIDA REPORT FROM A READER

Editor,

The temperature here has been in the upper 80s for several days now and hot sunshine! We have had some rains, though.

Numerous thousands have come to Florida during the past week. There are approximately 200,000 college boys and girls at Daytona Beach for the Easter holidays, while there are approximately 50,000 at Ft. Lauderdale. The popular book and movie: "Where the Boys Are" caused police at Ft. Lauderdale to crack-down on the collegians, practically barring thousands from going there! But collegians are not the only people from various other states coming to Florida this year!

Florida's tourists have already spent record shattering amounts of money. Disneyworld, near Orlando, and Cypress Gardens, here, have reported record attendance this year. All this despite the rumors of a recession and the large number of people laid off from their jobs and are now on welfare!

I hope there are good fruit and vegetable crops in Michigan this year. Many here rely on the crops in Michigan to "carry us over" until the fall citrus crop begins to be gathered mid-October yearly. Each year's crop usually lasts from mid-October until July — there's only three to four months we can't pick citrus daily, yearly.

A new high in employment in the twin city area by midsummer and an actual shortage of workers was forecast today by the Michigan state employment service office here in its monthly report. The report indicated that with the approach of the spring season and seasonal employment characterizing the local economy, the labor market will probably be exhausted by mid-July. Some 1,500 jobs will be available in the twin city area in the next few months, the report indicated.

A local chapter of the B'nai B'rith society, the largest and most prominently known of Jewish organizations, was formed here last night. Grand officers of the organization came here to get the local chapter underway. The local chapter starts out with an enthusiastic membership of 38 and the following officers: President, Jack Kohen; Vice-president, Albert H. Pollyea; Secretary, Charles S. Joseph; Treasurer, Oscar Hennes; Conductor, William Bender. The initiatory ceremonies were held at the Highland avenue, Benton Harbor, synagogue. B'nai B'rith is a notable Jewish organization which is fast growing and which is playing a prominent role in a program of welfare and other work among the Jewish residents of America.

South Vietnam Against The Wall

WASHINGTON — We may do as we choose about cutting off aid for South Vietnam. But there are facts we must face.

Newspaper have recently reported hundreds of thousands of refugees, with more coming, as more provinces fall or are given up because Saigon lacks the means to supply them.

This is in addition to 504,000 refugees in 1974, 818,000 in 1973 and 10,271,000 in the 10 years before.

A Senate committee estimates many more uncounted.

This is, of course, much duplication, in that some families have been refugees two, three and four times in the course of war. But however much one discounts the total, those fleeing number in the millions.

A few years ago it was popular in some circles to say these men, women and children were fleeing American and South Vietnamese aerial and artillery raids. They didn't care where they went so long as they escaped this terror. That story no longer holds water. Today, it is the North Vietnamese who are able to mass superior forces and shell towns.

Note, too, that the local Viet Cong, once the backbone of the rural underground government and guerrilla forces, have given way to North Vietnamese units. It is now estimated between two thirds and three fourths of the Communist cadre and military forces are men from Hanoi.

South Vietnam has not become a democracy, except in contrast to the North. Freedoms are limited but are great when compared with the regimentation in Hanoi. There is still much economic and political corruption but less than the political-power corruption in North Vietnam. And there is less cruelty, again in comparison to the invaders.

We must also face the fact that the difficulty in which South Vietnam now finds itself is the result of sloppy negotiating by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Had Kissinger insisted in 1973 on an air-tight arrangement whereby neither North Vietnam nor the U.S. would resupply Saigon or the Viet Cong, and neither Russia nor China resupply Hanoi, and if he had made realistic inspection a part of the arrangement instead of phantom inspection which meant no inspection at all, we would not be asked today to send arms to Saigon.

We had before us the failure of toothless inspection teams in North Korea and Laos, subject to communist veto and therefore in no position to check on their violations. In North Korea, the treaty was grossly violated before the ink was dry. In Laos, Hanoi's troops never left. Resupply in violation of the agreements began immediately by Mao Tse-tung in North Korea and by Ho Chi Minh in Laos. The treaties failed because there were no means provided for enforcement. Kissinger knew all this.

South Korea was saved by two decades of U.S. military aid and the presence of U.S. troops. Laos held because this country organized one of the more skillful underground operations in our history and fought fire with fire until recently.

The Educational Wheeler-Dealers

Well, now there comes — at the University of Massachusetts — another colorful financial ripoff, a mini campus Teapot Dome complete with Grand Jury investigations, FBI involvement, resignations, and all the rest of it.

Ah, the new jargon, magic keys to the public till: interdisciplinary, cross-cultural, innovative, comparative, compensatory, interactive, interface.

This modern academic entrepreneur is no tweedy Mr. Chips bumbling around with his Phi Beta key and his copy of Herodotus. Rather he is a promoter and a pitch man, often a swinger, who knows the shortest way into the Federal treasury. The academy has become a key component in the new "social concern" elite of communicators, project honchos, and social engineers that commands an ever expanding slice of the tax dollar.

Dean Dwight Allen, 44, of the School of Education at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst — former dean, I should say — is very much a man of his time, a perfect specimen in his ways, and well worth contemplating.

In his seven years as dean, he transformed the rather stodgy minor-league U. Mass. School of Education into, you guessed it, a "controversial" and "free wheeling" outfit. Dean Allen, a white man, dressed spectacularly, often in custom-tailored African garb. He was in perpetual motion, making 400 speeches a year. Best of all, he ad Midas' touch as a fund-raiser, pulling in some $15 million in Federal and tax-exempt foundation funds. In other words, Allen was sailing along on a sea of taxpayers' money.

These were the boom years at the School of Education. In the short space of three years, the school granted 387 doctoral degrees, and it did not matter much if a doctoral candidate lacked even an undergraduate degree. The prose in which many doctoral theses were written was sub-high school. But what did it matter? The cash would always flow, the music would always play, the dance would never end — because Allen's bag was "urban education" and "minority problems."

Alas, something untoward occurred. Assistant Dean Robert Suzuki began looking over the school's financial records. (Who let that guy Suzuki in?) He found possible misuse of funds. For his troubles, Suzuki had the windows of his home smashed and received threats: "Lay off, next time it's you."

To no avail, this campus resort to Mafia-style intimidation. The FBI and a Grand Jury got into the act, and — as Bob Haldeman would put it — the the toothpaste was out of the tube. Part of a Federal grant for a fashionably virtuous University-sponsored teaching project in Bronklyn appeared to have been spent for "academic retreats" in Montreal hotels. Fees were paid to non-existent consultants; and, in connection with this caper, an assistant professor quickly resigned. The various probes continue, and, marvelous to relate, former Dean Allen is now setting up a teachers' college in Lesotho, an autonomous black nation inside the Republic of South Africa.

Time magazine quotes two of his colleagues on Allen: "Dwight is an operator, a wheeler-dealer." "He's a P.T. Barnum type. He knew damn well he could not make the school rank in the top two or three in a few years by scholarly rigor. So he went into all of the innovations that were hot in the late '60s — all the things that were the beneficiaries of Federal money."

Even so. The Federal treasury is the Big Apple to the new social-concern elite. The real outrage here is not the sort of thing they are now blowing the whistle on — those Montreal hotel bills and those non-existent consultants. The real outrage is those 387 doctoral degrees in three years, bankrolled by the taxpayers.

There's No Santa Claus In Energy Supply Field

Americans still believe in Santa Claus when it comes to energy. Many people remain convinced that just before the energy crisis becomes really crippling, Santa will show up with a bag full of energy goodies — nuclear fusion, solar heat, hydrogen fuel, ocean thermal converters or windmill power plants. He'll lay them at our feet and vanish up the chimney, taking the outdated fossil fuel era with him.

Energy experts are less optimistic about the timing or the likelihood of Santa's visit. Jack Bridges, director of the National Energy Program at Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies, spends much of his time trying to convince Americans that "the majority of the energy crisis is actually horribly real." Bridges maintains that "In the next few years we have no choice but to go after increased raw supplies of fossil fuels" and to reduce U. S. dependence on costly and unreliable imports.

The Ford Foundation's Energy Policy Project reached a similar conclusion in its final report, A Time To Choose: America's Energy Future: "Our judgment is that the oil and gas resource base in this country is far from exhausted and can supply over half the U.S. energy supply in the Technical Fix scenario for the remainder of the century." The project's "Technical Fix" scenario envisions that U.S. energy consumption will grow at a rate of about 2 per cent per year compared to the historical growth rate of about 3.4 per cent annually. "Limitations on oil and gas availability are likely to stem from a combination of environmental, social and political constraints on rates of development rather than from a physical limit on the quantities in the ground that could in theory be available," the Project concluded.

Estimates vary greatly on the size of remaining U.S, oil and gas reserves, however, making predictions risky. The American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists, at their annual meeting April 7-9 in Dallas, Texas, will consider these problems. Until Santa arrives, America may have no choice but to rely on petroleum geologists and economic mineralogists.

Hoover Commission Should Be Brought Back

Few voters remember the Hoover Commissions, except in general terms. Most politicians forgot them years ago.

As a quick refresher it need only be remembered that a number of people in and out of Congress about a quarter century ago decided the federal government had developed in a pattern akin to an octopus, and that a major study of administration and efficiency was a first step toward correcting the trend.

Headed by former President Herbert Hoover, the first commission explored the labyrinths of government in 1947-49. A second Hoover Commission in 1953-55 complemented the first. Out of both came a number of executive reorganization bills.

Two decades have passed since the second Hoover Commission. The federal government has experienced a fantastic growth during this period, measured both by the hundreds of new agencies and hundreds of thousands of additional employes. It has ventured forth into vast new welfare fields and far-reaching commitments with the states through regional commissions and revenue-sharing.

In this period no comprehensive study has been made concerning the administrative organization of the federal government. For this reason, if no other, support should be given for a new reorganization study.

It is a pity that of all the "watchdog" committees and commissions in government, including the General Accounting Office, not one is charged with a broadscale effort to maintain efficiency in the world's largest and most complicated business enterprise.

An extensive study once in 20 years is a poor substitute for continuing review, but it is better than a vacuum.

Summer Belongs To Baseball

Baseball, the favorite sport of trivia freaks, is obsessed with anniversaries. It celebrated its centennial in 1939 to honor Abner Doubleday for inventing the game at Cooperstown, N.Y. Sorry about that, Abner. Frank G. Menke, author of The Encyclopedia of Sports, firmly states: "Doubleday probably never played baseball. The game was an established sport long before 1839, and the chances are that the villagers of Cooperstown never knew what a baseball looked like until the Civil War, or afterward."

Undaunted, the National and American leagues celebrated another centennial in 1969. This time the excuse was that the Cincinnati Red Stockings had first played for pay 100 years earlier. A more valid reason for sticking 100 lighted candles on a giant pastry baseball would be to commemorate the founding of the first professional baseball league. The National League, in fact, was formed a century ago this season, and the American League is starting its 75th year of play. But no big deal is being made of this. Enough is enough, even for baseball executives.

Still, if the 1975 major league season provides as much action as took place off the field this winter, baseball fans should be more than content. At long last, baseball has its first black manager in Frank Robinson of the Cleveland Indians. The trading market was unusually active, with such big names as Henry Aaron, Catfish Hunter, Harmon Killebrew and Willie Davis moving on to new clubs. Johnny Bench got married. And Washington — first in war, first in peace, and no longer in the American League — was treated to its annual ration of news stories suggesting that it might get another franchise (the Orioles).

But the Hot Stove League season is past, and the Grapefruit League will shortly be a memory. The regular season opens next Monday, April 7, and will run for 25 weeks. By the time it is all over the football season will be in progress, and pro hockey and basketball teams will be preparing for regular-season play. No matter. The warm-weather months belong to The Boys of Summer.

Attention: Dr. Browe
Dear Dr. Browe:

Tonight after returning home upon the conclusion of the course that Ken Neidlinger and you presented, I wanted to extent my sincere thanks. . . thanks for the time and effort that the two of you extended in presenting a very interesting and informative course on How to Catch Big Fish Close to Home.

It was very apparent to me, that the two of you spent much time and effort in preparing each of the six classes, as you had a wealth of subject matter for each of the classes.

Both of you knew your subject very well and very unselfishly shared your secrets with the entire class.

I personally am glad that you did not allow the editorial in our local newspaper the night of our first class (Feb. 20) to deter your efforts in presenting a fine quality and highly informative class.

Havng lived in this community all of my life, I am glad to see that LMC is interested and willing to present informative classes that have interest to persons from a hobby as well as from an academic standpoint. From the expressions and interest extended by many of my fellow class members (approximately 30) I feel that they also share my feelings.

We are truly blessed to live in an area that provides both outstanding river and big lake fishing which is enjoyed by thousands of area residents and visitors. The subject and content of your class was of great interest to at least 30 of these fishermen.

Again, a sincere thanks!

FLORIDA REPORT FROM A READER

Editor,

The temperature here has been in the upper 80s for several days now and hot sunshine! We have had some rains, though.

Numerous thousands have come to Florida during the past week. There are approximately 200,000 college boys and girls at Daytona Beach for the Easter holidays, while there are approximately 50,000 at Ft. Lauderdale. The popular book and movie: "Where the Boys Are" caused police at Ft. Lauderdale to crack-down on the collegians, practically barring thousands from going there! But collegians are not the only people from various other states coming to Florida this year!

Florida's tourists have already spent record shattering amounts of money. Disneyworld, near Orlando, and Cypress Gardens, here, have reported record attendance this year. All this despite the rumors of a recession and the large number of people laid off from their jobs and are now on welfare!

I hope there are good fruit and vegetable crops in Michigan this year. Many here rely on the crops in Michigan to "carry us over" until the fall citrus crop begins to be gathered mid-October yearly. Each year's crop usually lasts from mid-October until July — there's only three to four months we can't pick citrus daily, yearly.

SJ Permit Needed For Bluff Dumping

By DICK DERRICK
SJ City Editor

Dumping debris over the Lake Michigan bluff in the City of St. Joseph requires a permit from the St. Joseph building and inspection department, Director Carl Conklin announced today.

Conklin said St. Joseph has permitted bluff property owners to dump a wide variety of items over the bluff ranging from old truck bodies to leaves and brush.

However, Conklin said with the state highway department seawall protecting the bluff from wave erosion there is no need for the junk fill.

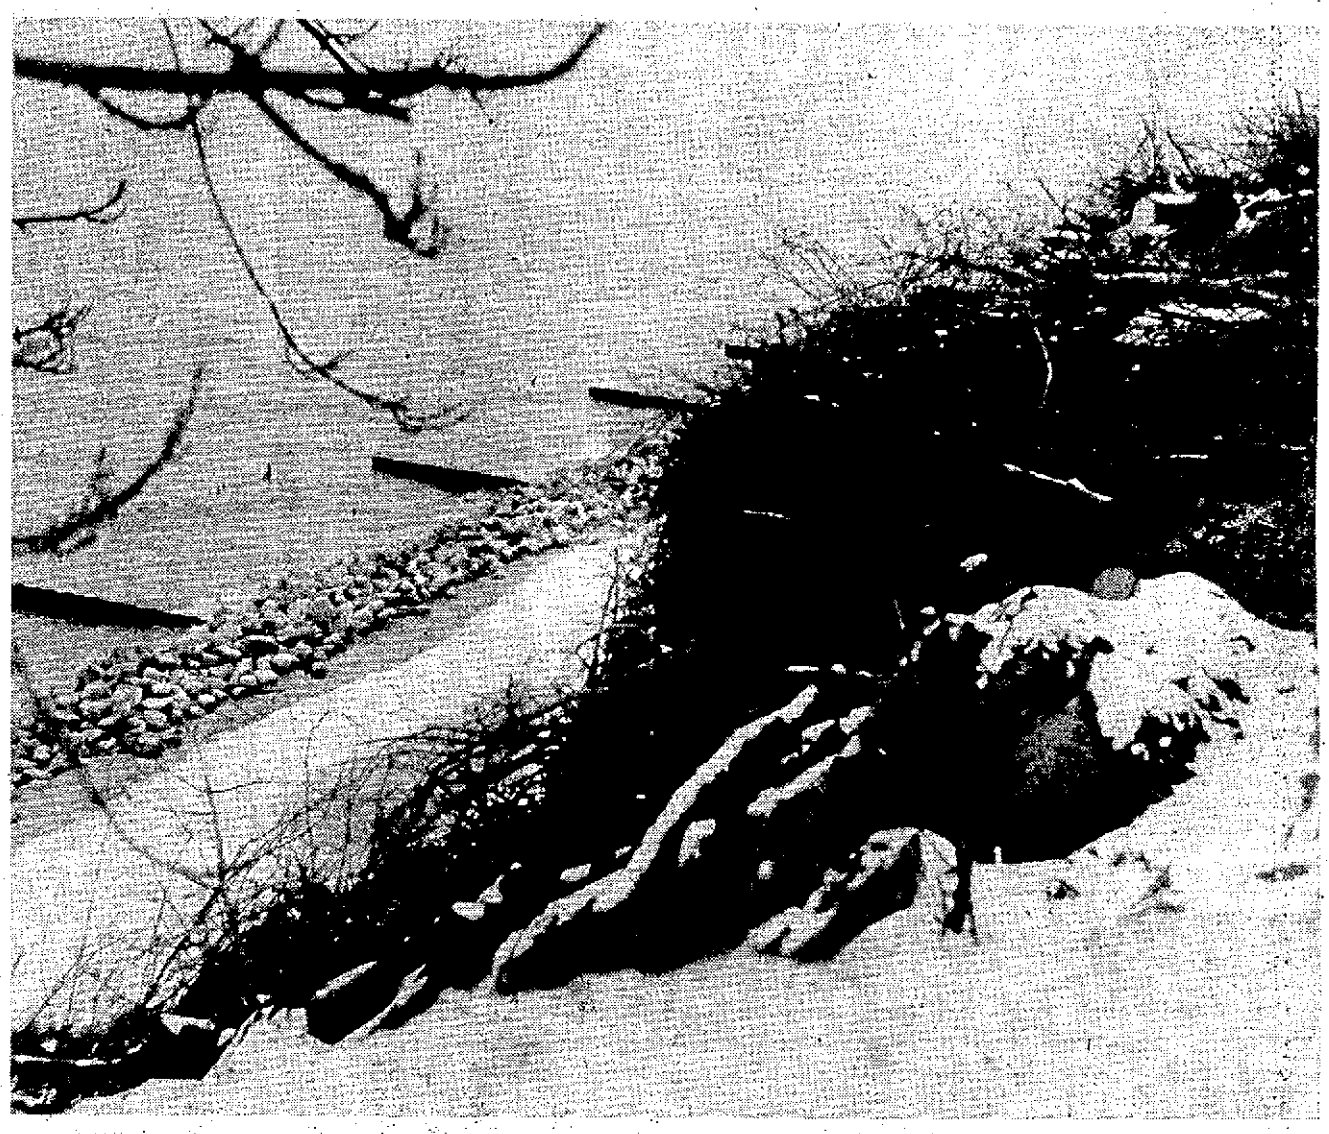

Conklin said only clean fill will be permitted from now on. He ruled out dumping tree limbs, branches, leaves and wood chips. Also prohibited are tires, wrecked cars and appliances, other debris and junk. Clean fill includes sand, dirt and rip rap.

Most of the erosion from the face of the bluff stems from drainage and not wave action, Conklin said. The $2 million highway department seawall extends from the C&O Railway seawall to a point opposite Hawthorne avenue and has effectively blunted the force of the lake.

The biggest complaint against dumping tree limbs and debris from tree trimming operations is that the brush serves as a habitat for rats. Conklin said his department has received numerous complaints of the rat problem.

Conklin said dumping debris at the top of the bluff gives the appearance from Lake Shore drive that the lake is a junk yard.

Whirlpool Man Recipient Of National Award

VINCENT A. MILLER

The Bliss award, the highest presented to an individual by ASTD, is in memory of Gordon M. Bliss, the society's first executive director.

According to ASTD, the award, first presented in 1970, recognizes Miller's many contributions to the training profession through ASTD activities, community activities and his own organization.

Miller, ASTD's immediate past president, has been a member of the society for more than nine years.

He will be presented with the award at ASTD's 31st National conference, May 11-15 at the MGM Grand hotel in Las Vegas.

ASTD is a professional society representing more than 10,000 people throughout the U.S. and abroad. National headquarters are in Madison, Wis.

BH Firemen's Union Wins Fight

Captains Ordered Reclassified

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The union representing Benton Harbor firemen won its case against the City of Benton Harbor yesterday when a Berrien circuit judge ruled a decision by the city's civil service board was binding.

Judge William S. White in an opinion delivered from the bench ruled the city must immediately and retroactively reclassify two fire captains into a higher pay category.

White's ruling came in a suit filed by Local 685 of the International Association of Firefighters for Capts. Roy Hearn and Richard Nichols. The suit sought a writ of mandamus compelling the city to comply with an award rendered by the city's civil service board.

The judge ordered that the captains be reclassified from Class 18, with an annual salary of $12,474, to Class 20, with a salary of $13,753.

The firemen's union claimed that the union and city in 1973 entered into a two-year collective bargaining agreement, which in part said unresolved grievances would be submitted to the civil service board for binding arbitration.

Last July, the two captains submitted a grievance, claiming the city's reclassification of fire captains for pay purposes violated the terms of the collective bargaining agreement. The civil service board then upheld the captains' grievance, and ordered that they be reclassified. But the city did not comply.

The city took the position that the board's decision conflicted with the city's compensation and classification ordinance.

But White noted: "Where such a conflict exists, Michigan courts have consistently held that the provisions of the collective bargaining agreement takes precedence over, and supersede the provisions of prior laws."

"The reason behind this is clear," the judge continued. "To hold otherwise, public employers could unilaterally restrict the scope of mandatory bargaining by merely enacting ordinances governing wages, hours, or working conditions so as to remove these issues from collective bargaining."

He also said that the parties, as evidenced in other cases, are bound by the decision of the arbitrators, which in this case was the civil service board.

White also noted the court cannot re-examine the merits of the arbitrators' decision unless it is tainted by fraud or an outside influence. In the case involving the firefighters and city, White said both sides agreed there was no such fraud or influence.

Twin Cities Area DART Passenger Rolls Growing

Twin Cities area Dial-A-Ride buses carried 59,335 passengers during the first six months of operation through March, according to Wilbert Brown, director.

Brown said the number of passengers transported has increased on the average of 15 per cent each month, and more people who own cars are now tending to ride the buses.

Dial-A-Ride service locally began last Oct. 1, and has operated in the immediate Twin Cities area. It was announced recently that the service next Monday will be expanded to include all of Lincoln, St. Joseph and Benton townships.

Brown said when service began, most riders were senior citizens (over 58) who pay half-price for tickets. In March, 65 per cent of the riders were between ages 12 and 58, Brown said.

Dial-A-Ride during its first month carried 8,350 passengers, and last month carried 13,161, Brown said.

Brown said the 59,335 passengers carried exceeds the goal hoped for during the first six months. He said the goal was 52,000.

Brown said he hopes citizens who support the service will voice opinions next Saturday afternoon during annual township meetings at Benton, St. Joseph, and Lincln townships, all participants in the program.

Firemen Delayed By Snow

A house was destroyed by fire this morning as Benton and Sodus township fire departments were delayed in reaching the scene because of snow-blocked roads.

Firemen said two trucks were stuck in snowdrifts and were delayed 10 to 20 minutes. The fire was reported about 4 a.m. at Blue Creek road between Meadowbrook and Townline roads in Benton township. Sodus firemen were called to assist.

No injuries were reported. Firemen said the owner of the house was not known. A neighbor said she did not know who lived in the house, but it appeared no one was at home when the fire broke out.

Bentley, Scott Undecided On Second BH Board Term

Two Benton Harbor board of education members, whose terms expire this year, say they are undecided whether to seek re-election.

Expiring are the terms of E.E. (Bill) Bentley, board president; and Mrs. Janet Scott, treasurer. Each is completing a first term of four years.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Monday, May 12, according to Robert W. Payne, deputy superintendent for administrative services.

Two board seats will be filled at the annual school election, Monday, June 9. Both will be four-year terms, ending in 1979.

Candidates may pick up nominating petitions at the school district's business office, 711 East Britain avenue. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Payne said each petition must contain not less than 20 and no more than 60 valid signatures of registered voters in the school district. A person may not sign more petitions than there are vacancies.

St. Joe Girl And Boy Scouts Collect Newspapers, Cans, Glass Saturday

It's Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts together Saturday, April 5, for collection of newspapers, cans and glass in St. Joseph. Boy Scouts run the paper collection on the first Saturday of each month on a rotating basis among troops. This Saturday's collection is in charge of Troop 607 of E. P. Clarke school, according to Committeeman Chairman Warren Kurtz. Girl Scout Cadets Troop 317, sponsored by Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, collects cans and glass every Saturday. All collections are at the St. Joseph public works department, 1160 Broad street, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. People are asked to bring old newspapers which have been bagged and tied; and cans and glass. Cans and glass should be rinsed and cans flattened. Metal objects should be removed from glass, but it is not necessary to remove labels. Materials collected by the Scouts will be recycled for further use.

SJ Permit Needed For Bluff Dumping

By DICK DERRICK
SJ City Editor

Dumping debris over the Lake Michigan bluff in the City of St. Joseph requires a permit from the St. Joseph building and inspection department, Director Carl Conklin announced today.

Conklin said St. Joseph has permitted bluff property owners to dump a wide variety of items over the bluff ranging from old truck bodies to leaves and brush.

However, Conklin said with the state highway department seawall protecting the bluff from wave erosion there is no need for the junk fill.

Conklin said only clean fill will be permitted from now on. He ruled out dumping tree limbs, branches, leaves and wood chips. Also prohibited are tires, wrecked cars and appliances, other debris and junk. Clean fill includes sand, dirt and rip rap.

Most of the erosion from the face of the bluff stems from drainage and not wave action, Conklin said. The $2 million highway department seawall extends from the C&O Railway seawall to a point opposite Hawthorne avenue and has effectively blunted the force of the lake.

The biggest complaint against dumping tree limbs and debris from tree trimming operations is that the brush serves as a habitat for rats. Conklin said his department has received numerous complaints of the rat problem.

Conklin said dumping debris at the top of the bluff gives the appearance from Lake Shore drive that the lake is a junk yard.

PROHIBITED: Dumping brush like this over the lake bluff is now prohibited in City of St. Joseph. Only clean fill is permitted to be dumped and that requires permit from city building and inspection department. Seawall along shoreline is doing good job of protecting shore from wave action, according to Carl Conklin, director of inspection. (Staff photo)

Whirlpool Man Recipient Of National Award

Vincent A. Miller, general manager of consumer affairs training for Whirlpool Corp., Benton Harbor, has been named as the 1975 recipient of the American Society for Training and Development's (ASTD) Gordon M. Bliss award.

VINCENT A. MILLER

The Bliss award, the highest presented to an individual by ASTD, is in memory of Gordon M. Bliss, the society's first executive director.

According to ASTD, the award, first presented in 1970, recognizes Miller's many contributions to the training profession through ASTD activities, community activities and his own organization.

Miller, ASTD's immediate past president, has been a member of the society for more than nine years.

He will be presented with the award at ASTD's 31st National conference, May 11-15 at the MGM Grand hotel in Las Vegas.

ASTD is a professional society representing more than 10,000 people throughout the U.S. and abroad. National headquarters are in Madison, Wis.

Miller and his wife, Augusta, live at 923 State street, St. Joseph.

Occupant Sleeps As Fire Doused

Benton Harbor firemen extinguished a fire this morning at a Vineyard street apartment while the occupant was asleep in another room.

Firemen were called to 417 Vineyard street about 4 a.m. by a man in another apartment in the house who smelled smoke. Firemen entered the apartment, saw a pan burning on a stove and extinguished the fire.

William Turner, the apartment occupant, was awakened after the stove was turned off and the fire was out.

Captains Ordered Reclassified

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The union representing Benton Harbor firemen won its case against the City of Benton Harbor yesterday when a Berrien circuit judge ruled a decision by the city's civil service board was binding.

Judge William S. White in an opinion delivered from the bench ruled the city must immediately and retroactively reclassify two fire captains into a higher pay category.

White's ruling came in a suit filed by Local 685 of the International Association of Firefighters for Capts. Roy Hearn and Richard Nichols. The suit sought a writ of mandamus compelling the city to comply with an award rendered by the city's civil service board.

The judge ordered that the captains be reclassified from Class 18, with an annual salary of $12,474, to Class 20, with a salary of $13,753.

The firemen's union claimed that the union and city in 1973 entered into a two-year collective bargaining agreement, which in part said unresolved grievances would be submitted to the civil service board for binding arbitration.

Last July, the two captains submitted a grievance, claiming the city's reclassification of fire captains for pay purposes violated the terms of the collective bargaining agreement. The civil service board then ipheld the captains' grievance, and ordered that they be reclassified. But the city did not comply.

The city took the position that the board's decision conflicted with the city's compensation and classification ordinance.

But White noted: "Where such a conflict exists, Michigan courts have consistently held that the provisions of the collective bargaining agreement takes precedence over, and supersede the provisions of prior laws."

"The reason behind this is clear," the judge continued. "To hold otherwise, public employers could unilaterally restrict the scope of mandatory bargaining by merely enacting ordinances governing wages, hours, or working conditions so as to remove these issues from collective bargaining."

He also said that the parties, as evidenced in other cases, are bound by the decision of the arbitrators, which in this case was the civil service board.

White also noted the court cannot re-examine the merits of the arbitrators' decision unless it is tainted by fraud or an outside influence. In the case involving the firefighters and city, White said both sides agreed there was no such fraud or influence.

What's Denim Into Now?

Judging from the wealth of new looks designed in denim for spring, there's just no let up in the demand for this fashion fabric.

And today especially, in view of the current economic crunch, the reasonable price of denim makes it a better value than ever.

Men will find their denim styled in such diverse apparel as swim trunks with floral embroideries, and unconstructed sports jackets that mix shades of blue for a pannelled effect sometimes accented with colorful appliques. There are also plenty of the basic, gutsy looks that made denim famous: straight leg jeans with quarter top pockets emphasize a now cleaner, less gimmicky look, while the Western suit — jeans plus a waist length snap closing jacket — continues to climb in popularity due to the growing influence of leisure suits.

Women's denim pants suits feature belted safari styles with buttoned flap pockets and suits with shirt style jackets. Other denim looks for her include a-line jeans skirts overing about the knee, and romantic, ankle-length dirndls tied with soft string belts at wide waistbands. There is denim swimwear here too as seen in a halter-necked, almost sideless bikini that is sure to prove, once again — a little bit of denim goes a long, long way.

BEST BET: The newest look in jeans features a cleaner, less gimmicky look than seen in recent seasons. This design in cotton blend denim has straight legs and quarter top pockets. More good news: long lasting, comfortable and durable, jeans at most reasonable price makes them one of the best fashion values around.

MARKETING WITH MARYANN

Know What's Abundant

Uncertain economic conditions have begun to make some consumers more conscious once again of their food spending patterns. Knowing what's expected to be in good supply for the month ahead can help you better plan and save at the same time, says Maryann Beckman, Food Marketing Agent.

Beef will be in abundant supply again this month and probably throughout the spring and summer, which is good news for consumers but bad for producers. Note and be alert too, to the relationship of beef supplies and prices to all other meats.

Pork, broiler, turkey and egg production are all down from a year ago, for example, due to high feed costs forcing producers to cut back. Decreased production normally means prices advance, and fast, on these other meats. But lower beef prices and large supplies have kept other meat prices fairly steady as they compete for consumer dollars. This situation will probably continue, except for pork which is expected to begin going up fairly soon.

Though the total situation is not a pleasant one for producers, it means consumers will be buying almost all meat for less than normal, under the circumstances. Look for eggs to drop a few cents now that Easter has gone by, a usual occurrence — and then begin to rise again by mid-month. Look, too, for some sales on tuna and slightly lower red salmon prices.

Be alert, too, to the fact that beef grades are changing. The revised beef grading standards will become effective on April 14, 1975. Under the new grading system, the beef graded will be required to be identified by both quality and yield or percentage of retail cuts, at the packer level.

Changes have been made in the marbling-maturity relationship that are used in determing the quality of the meat. The conformation of the carcass, which formerly was one of the grading criteria, has been eliminated.

For consumers, these revisions will allow for slightly leaner beef to qualify for Prime and Choice grades, while establishing a more restrictive Good grade. The new standard should also provide more uniformity in each grade.

Many processed fruits and vegetables will be in good supply in April because consumer demand has been relatively slow and supplies must be moved before the new packing season starts.

You'll continue to see specials on canned applesauce, fruit cocktail, freestone peaches, pears, canned asparagus, green beans, canned dry beans, dehydrated potatoes and some tomato products.

Canned peas, corn, tomatoes, apricots and pineapple are all in short supply until new packing time.

Though supplies of processed products are larger than a year ago and some are being featured, prices are higher, due to increased costs of raw materials, processing and marketing. If and when you see specials, though, stock up a few cans, for prices probably won't be lower until well after the new crop is harvested and packed, and maybe not even then.

Many fresh fruits and vegetables will be in good supply during April as supplies increase seasonally. Peak supply time will be April and May for such things as asparagus, rhubarb, pineapple, strawberries and avocados. Fifty per cent more strawberries reach markets in April than in March, for example, and prices are dropping accordingly.

Avocado lovers will be pleased to note that the avocado crop this year is 77 per cent larger than a year ago. Avocados typically produce a light crop one year, a heavy crop the next and this is the heavy year, with correspondingly lower prices.

What's Denim Into Now?

Judging from the wealth of new looks designed in denim for spring, there's just no let up in the demand for this fashion fabric.

And today especially, in view of the current economic crunch, the reasonable price of denim makes it a better value than ever.

Men will find their denim styled in such diverse apparel as swim trunks with floral embroideries, and unconstructed sports jackets that mix shades of blue for a pannelled effect sometimes accented with colorful appliques. There are also plenty of the basic, gutsy looks that made denim famous: straight leg jeans with quarter top pockets emphasize a now cleaner, less gimmicky look, while the Western suit — jeans plus a waist length snap closing jacket — continues to climb in popularity due to the growing influence of leisure suits.

Women's denim pants suits feature belted safari styles with buttoned flap pockets and suits with shirt style jackets. Other denim looks for her include a-line jeans skirts overing about the knee, and romantic, ankle-length dirndls tied with soft string belts at wide waistbands. There is denim swimwear here too as seen in a halter-necked, almost sideless bikini that is sure to prove, once again — a little bit of denim goes a long, long way.

BEST BET: The newest look in jeans features a cleaner, less gimmicky look than seen in recent seasons. This design in cotton blend denim has straight legs and quarter top pockets. More good news: long lasting, comfortable and durable, jeans present reasonable price makes them one of the best fashion values around.

Know What's Abundant

Uncertain economic conditions have begun to make some consumers more conscious once again of their food spending patterns. Knowing what's expected to be in good supply for the month ahead can help you better plan and save at the same time, says Maryann Beckman, Food Marketing Agent.

Beef will be in abundant supply again this month and probably throughout the spring and summer, which is good news for consumers but bad for producers. Note and be alert too, to the relationship of beef supplies and prices to all other meats.

Pork, broiler, turkey and egg production are all down from a year ago, for example, due to high feed costs forcing producers to cut back. Decreased production normally means prices advance, and fast, on these other meats. But lower beef prices and large supplies have kept other meat prices fairly steady as they compete for consumer dollars. This situation will probably continue, except for pork which is expected to begin going up fairly soon.

Though the total situation is not a pleasant one for producers, it means consumers will be buying almost all meat for less than normal, under the circumstances. Look for eggs to drop a few cents now that Easter has gone by, a usual occurrence — and then begin to rise again by mid-month. Look, too, for some sales on tuna and slightly lower red salmon prices.

Be alert, too, to the fact that beef grades are changing. The revised beef grading standards will become effective on April 14, 1975. Under the new grading system, the beef graded will be required to be identified by both quality and yield or percentage of retail cuts, at the packer level.

Changes have been made in the marbling-maturity relationship that are used in determing the quality of the meat. The conformation of the carcass, which formerly was one of the grading criteria, has been eliminated.

For consumers, these revisions will allow for slightly leaner beef to qualify for Prime and Choice grades, while establishing a more restrictive Good grade. The new standard should also provide more uniformity in each grade.

Many processed fruits and vegetables will be in good supply in April because consumer demand has been relatively slow and supplies must be moved before the new packing season starts.

You'll continue to see specials on canned applesauce, fruit cocktail, freestone peaches, pears, canned asparagus, green beans, canned dry beans, dehydrated potatoes and some tomato products.

Canned peas, corn, tomatoes, apricots and pineapple are all in short supply until new packing time.

Though supplies of processed products are larger than a year ago and some are being featured, prices are higher, due to increased costs of raw materials, processing and marketing. If and when you see specials, though, stock up a few cans, for prices probably won't be lower until well after the new crop is harvested and packed, and maybe not even then.

Many fresh fruits and vegetables will be in good supply during April as supplies increase seasonally. Peak supply time will be April and May for such things as asparagus, rhubarb, pineapple, strawberries and avocados. Fifty per cent more strawberries reach markets in April than in March, for example, and prices are dropping accordingly.

Avocado lovers will be pleased to note that the avocado crop this year is 77 per cent larger than a year ago. Avocados typically produce a light crop one year, a heavy crop the next and this is the heavy year, with correspondingly lower prices.

Jazz Concert At SJHS

The St. Joseph high school stage band will present a Jazz Concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 12, in the high school auditorium.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students and are available from high school school band member and at the door.

The concert will include jazz, Dixie, jazz-rock and rock music, according to Robert W. Brown, director.

The program will include "Two O'clock Jump," "Good Night Blués," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," "Harlem Nocturne," "Dues' Blues," "Who's Sorry Now," "Darktown Strutters' Ball," "A Little Space Music," "Hang In There," "Session At The Strand," "Rainy Days" and "Fugue For Two."

Senior Citizens Elect

LAWRENCE — McKinley Poole has been elected president of the Lawrence senior citizens group at its organizational meeting.

The group will meet the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 1:30 p.m. in the social rooms of the American National Bank building. The next meeting will be April 10.

Senior citizens from area communities are invited.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Edwin McComb, Mrs. Tignor Brown, Mrs. William Conklin or Mrs. Harry Tucker.

Commissioner Says 'Know Your Rights'

NEW YORK — Like most of us, she hates to complain, although she is Commissioner of Consumer Affairs for the City of New York.

To offset citizen reluctance, this city — as so many others — has a set of consumer laws to protect "little people." It is Elinor Guggenheimer's job to enforce these laws here.

The 62 - year - old commissioner is tireless in her efforts to make sure that metropolitan consumers get an even break. She looks fragile — size 10, 5 foot 4½ inches — and projects a deceptive naivete — but she's made many an unscrupulous businessman quake as she polices the marketplace and fights against consumer fraud.

"Ellie" Guggenheimer was appointed to her salaried post in January 1974 following Bess Meyerson and Betty Furness. "With the exception of Ralph Nader, consumerism is a woman's field," she notes. New York has perhaps the "grandmother" of consumer agencies, with 450 paid staff members and a large volunteer contingent. "But today just about every community has some consumer representative, from state attornies general to local volunteers," she explains, although there is no national agency as yet. "It was voted down," she says with obvious annoyance.

Mrs. Randolph Guggenheimer has never shirked public service. Born to wealth, she could have opted for a lifetime of bridge-playing and beauty parlors. "That was my generation's choice," she says with a rueful smile. Instead, after raising two sons, she plunged into a series of activities.

"If you think you can do it — you can!" is the way Mrs. Guggenheimer explains her successful record of organizing day-care programs, serving as an outspoken member of the City Planning Commission, working with the National Recreation and Parks Association and co-hosting a local television talk show.

Being the consumer watchdog has been an eye-opening experience for Elinor Guggenheimer. "The first three months were devastating. I had to learn about agriculture, consumer deception laws and a lot more economics that I ever learned in school." It also taught her to be a better food shopper — advice that she passes on to others.

"Know your rights and what the laws are," she recommends. "Take advantage of unit pricing if it exists in your community. Use consumer scales to weigh your produce or you risk getting short-changed." Food prices, now steady, will be climbing again soon, the commissioner warns, so follow food ads carefully.

In addition to being a supermarket sleuth, Mrs. Guggenheimer concentrates on deceptive practices. Businesses giving her agency the trouble right now are the furniture industry, mail order houses, record clubs, home improvement firms and appliance and automotive repair operations. "In the furniture industry, deliveries are often late," she says, "and it's one of the few businesses that can use your money for working capital." Mrs. Guggenheimer intends to do something about that.

Consumerism is "the newest form of democracy," the feisty commissioner declares, "and the way the average citizen has some control over his fate."

Mrs. Randolph Guggenheimer has never shirked public service. Born to wealth, she could have opted for a lifetime of bridge-playing and beauty parlors. "That was my generation's choice," she says with a rueful smile. Instead, after raising two sons, she plunged into a series of activities.

"If you think you can do it — you can!" is the way Mrs. Guggenheimer explains her successful record of organizing day-care programs, serving as an outspoken member of the City Planning Commission, working with the National Recreation and Parks Association and co-hosting a local television talk show.

Being the consumer watchdog has been an eye-opening experience for Elinor Guggenheimer. "The first three months were devastating. I had to learn about agriculture, consumer deception laws and a lot more economics that I ever learned in school." It also taught her to be a better food shopper — advice that she passes on to others.

"Know your rights and what the laws are," she recommends. "Take advantage of unit pricing if it exists in your community. Use consumer scales to weigh your produce or you risk getting short-changed." Food prices, now steady, will be climbing again soon, the commissioner warns, so follow food ads carefully.

In addition to being a supermarket sleuth, Mrs. Guggenheimer concentrates on deceptive practices. Businesses giving her agency the trouble right now are the furniture industry, mail order houses, record clubs, home improvement firms and appliance and automotive repair operations. "In the furniture industry, deliveries are often late," she says, "and it's one of the few businesses that can use your money for working capital." Mrs. Guggenheimer intends to do something about that.

Consumerism is "the newest form of democracy," the feisty commissioner declares, "and the way the average citizen has some control over his fate."

In Concert At WMU April 6

Two Western Michigan university students from Benton Harbor will perform with the University Chorale and Collegiate Singers in a concert Sunday, April 6, at 3 p.m. in Miller auditorium at WMU under the direction of Mel Ivey.

Students include Sara Bunce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bunce, route 2, Box 391, Benton Harbor, and Karen Mattheeussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Mattheeussen, 2320 Kerlikowske, Benton Harbor.

The WMU department of music will also present a three-day Festival of New Music Thursday, April 3, through Saturday, April 5.

The festival will begin with a New Structures in Sound program in Oakland recital hall Thursday, April 3, at 8 p.m.

The Jazz Orchestra will present a concert Friday, April 4, at 8 p.m. at the University Student Center. Under the direction of Trent Kynaston, the ensemble, in its first year of existence, won the All-Midwest College Jazz Festival held March 15 at Elmhurst college in Illinois.

The three-day festival will conclude Saturday, April 5, with a performance by the New Music Ensemble, directed by Ramon Zupko, at Oakland recital hall at 8 p.m.

All four programs are open to the public free of charge.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Curiosity's Killing Her

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't think I am crazy. I need some help. My problem is one of normal curiosity — anyone in my spot would do the same thing, but it's ruining my health.

I live in an apartment complex that has a courtyard. A married woman who lives across the way from me entertains a man almost every night — and I do mean entertains. I have a very powerful pair of binoculars and can see everything that goes on.

Sometimes this man stays until 3 o'clock in the morning and I have to get up at six-thirty to go to work. It's horrible when I try to drag my tired body out of bed after so little sleep.

It might sound awful, but I've been considering writing the woman's husband an anonymous letter, tipping him off. Then perhaps he would stay home more and I could get some rest. What do you think? — No Will Power

Dear N.W.P.: I think you ought to give those binoculars to a friend, draw the draperies before the show goes on and get some sleep before you collapse from sheer exhaustion.

Man Or Beast?

Dear Ann Landers: The bumper sticker that reads: "WARNING: I BRAKE FOR ANIMALS" is incomplete. It should read: "I BRAKE FOR ANIMALS AND KILL PEOPLE."

Scores of lives are lost every year in accidents caused by drivers who foolishly avoid hitting a dumb beast. Is it worth it? What do you say? — I Love Animals, Too — But

Dear Love: An alert driver can sometimes glance in his rear-view mirror and see if anyone is behind him. If no one is, he should brake and spare the animal.

If the driver spots traffic on his tail, he should keep going and pray that the cat, dog, rabbit or chipmunk makes it. A cow, on the other hand, poses a serious problem if there is oncoming traffic. The driver has to choose between the head-on or the cow. The cow would be my choice since it would involve less human carnage.

Dead Letters

Dear Ann Landers: People complain about paying ten cents for a stamp, yet they won't bother to make certain their letter reaches its destination by checking the zip code to be sure it's right. Nor will they take the extra minute to write their name and return address on the envelope — just in case. I work in the dead-letter section in a post office in St. Louis. During the holidays it made me sick to see the beautiful cards that would never be received because of illegible handwriting, incorrect zip codes and wrong addresses. If the sender had put down HIS address he could at least have tried again.

ANN LANDERS

I wonder how many people are hurt because they receive no reply to a letter that ended up in the dead-letter section of a post office. — A Witness

Dear Witness: Thank you for the reminder. And thanks, too, for an opportunity to say a word to people who send money for my booklets, enclose the stamped envelope and address it to Ann Landers instead of to themselves!

CONFIDENTIAL to WHY????: If you tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the universe, he'll believe you. But if you tell him a bench has just been painted, he has to touch it to be sure. There's no explaining human nature.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Lander's booklet, "Marriage—What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Choir Festival April 8

KALAMAZOO — Choirs from Bangor, Lakeshore, Mattawan and South Haven high schools will participate in the Southwestern Michigan Vocal Festival Association and Western Michigan university's department of music 37th annual festival Tuesday, April 8.

The festival will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Miller auditorium. The public is invited to the free concert.

The Festival chorus will perform the complete "Requiem" of Gabriel Fauer with Gayle Savage of South Haven as featured soprano soloist.

The 1,600-voice chorus will be conducted by Lloyd Pfautsch, professor of sacred music and director of choral activities at Southern Methodist university.

Heppler Chosen For Tour

NEW BUFFALO — Perry Heppler, a student at Westminster Choir college, Princeton, N.J., has been selected as a member of the college's Touring choir.

The 47 singers selected from the larger Chapel choir of 120 freshmen will perform in schools and churches in New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina and Washington, D.C. during the choir's annual tour in the spring semester.

Heppler, a graduate of New Buffalo high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heppler, New Buffalo.

FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A last-minute switch in tactics will deprive you of the brass ring you could have grabbed if things went as planned.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful today you don't slight an old friend to make points with a new one whose worth is yet unknown.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Someone is going to give you important information to pass on. Write it down or you may not relay it accurately.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you're using equipment or tools today that belong to another, be sure you know how they work before you throw the switch.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22) Your mate is going to be irritated by your actions today when you do the exact opposite of what you agreed to.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your most productive time is early in the day. Toward evening you tend to be more careless than usual with tasks or assignments.

LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you're going out with friends tonight, decide how much you want to spend. Undisciplined fun and games will be too expensive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't spring unexpected guests on your mate today or you're likely to find the welcome mat pulled from under your feet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're apt to make some changes in social plans that will inconvenience others more than you think. They'll let you know about it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) When you draw funds for the weekend, take a little extra to be prepared for anything unexpected.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't depend on an influential acquaintance you've met recently. He's not prepared to do as much for you as you'd hoped.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Think before you speak today or you may unwittingly leave another with a very poor impression. You have a tendency to put your foot in your mouth.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Are some antibiotics stronger than others? It seems to me that when I get an infection it lasts longer than with other people.
Mrs. G.E., Tex.

Dear Mrs. E.:

Your letter typifies the confusion that many people have about drugs. Antibiotics are chosen by physicians to kill a specific germ. Cultures are frequently made to determine the exact antibiotic known to destroy or to inhibit the growth of a particular germ.

It is for this reason that one cannot compare his own infection with those of friends who may have "similar symptoms".

There are no "stronger" or "weaker" antibiotics. It is the amount of antibiotics that determine the "strength." For example, 500 mg. of an antibiotic is obviously "stronger" than 250 mg. Similarly, an antibiotic taken six times a day is "stronger" than one taken three times a day.

This same idea can be translated to the use of any other drug. There is no "stronger" aspirin made by one manufacturer than by another. Most aspirin come in five grain tablets. Again, three tablets can be considered "stronger" than one.

You must depend on your doctor's judgment for the strength of a drug, for the frequency for which it is taken, and the duration for which it is prescribed.

I have heard there is a new clinic in Mexico for the treatment of arthritis. Do you know anything about it and where it's located?
Mr. E.G.M., Penn

Dear Mr. M.:

I am certain that you did not hear about this clinic from a reliable doctor, from the Arthritis Foundation, or from the director of the arthritis clinic in your own local hospital.

It is estimated that almost half a billion dollars are extracted from arthritis sufferers each year. Miracle cures, special diets, "break-through" gadgets and machines attract the sufferer who later finds that his best treatment is in the hands of those doctors trained in the specialty of rheumatism and arthritis.

The long, expensive treks to Mexico, to Canada, to Europe, to isolated towns in America, is fraught with disappointment.

And it delays the use of many of the newer drugs that are now being used successfully in some types of arthritis.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Use Dollar Without Spending It

A dollar bill, according to Lynn Raasch, consumer information specialist, is an efficient tool for determing whether the gasket around the inside of your refrigerator door is worn and leaky, and is, therefore, wasting energy and money.

The test is simple. Close the refrigerator door on the dollar bill. If it slides out easily you need a new gasket. The new gasket will cost a bit of money, but you'll still have the dollar bill.

Try Elegant, Easy Topping

For an easy but elegant ice cream topping, drain a 16 ounce can of cling peach slices, reserving ¼ cup syrup.

Combine peaches, reserved syrup, 1-2 cups mincemeat and ¼ cup chopped nuts. Bring to simmer; remove from heat. Stir in 2 tablespoons sherry, rum or brandy. Spoon hot over ice cream and serve. Makes 6-10 servings.

Save Money On Rolls

Save money on daily lunches — if you have a freezer make sandwiches a week at a time, then freeze.

Take them out for packing at breakfast and they should be well thawed by lunch time.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful today you don't slight an old friend to make points with a new one whose worth is yet unknown.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Someone is going to give you important information to pass on. Write it down or you may not relay it accurately.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you're using equipment or tools today that belong to another, be sure you know how they work before you throw the switch.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22) Your mate is going to be irritated by your actions today when you do the exact opposite of what you agreed to.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your most productive time is early in the day. Toward evening you tend to be more careless than usual with tasks or assignments.

LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you're going out with friends tonight, decide how much you want to spend. Undisciplined fun and games will be too expensive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't spring unexpected guests on your mate today or you're likely to find the welcome mat pulled from under your feet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're apt to make some changes in social plans that will inconvenience others more than you think. They'll let you know about it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) When you draw funds for the weekend, take a little extra to be prepared for anything unexpected.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't depend on an influential acquaintance you've met recently. He's not prepared to do as much for you as you'd hoped.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Think before you speak today or you may unwittingly leave another with a very poor impression. You have a tendency to put your foot in your mouth.

You'll have two interesting business propositions presented to you this year. The one with less glitter and sizzle has the best chance of succeeding.

Try Different Salad Plate

Shape into balls and chill. Drain canned cling peach halves, reserving syrup to make gelatins. Arrange on lettuce lined plates filling peach cups with cream cheese balls. A delightfully different salad plate.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Are some antibiotics stronger than others? It seems to me that when I get an infection it lasts longer than with other people.
Mrs. G.E., Tex.

Dear Mrs. E.:

Your letter typifies the confusion that many people have about drugs. Antibiotics are chosen by physicians to kill a specific germ. Cultures are frequently made to determine the exact antibiotic known to destroy or to inhibit the growth of a particular germ.

It is for this reason that one cannot compare his own infection with those of friends who may have "similar symptoms".

There are no "stronger" or "weaker" antibiotics. It is the amount of antibiotics that determine the "strength." For example, 500 mg. of an antibiotic is obviously "stronger" than 250 mg. Similarly, an antibiotic taken six times a day is "stronger" than one taken three times a day.

This same idea can be translated to the use of any other drug. There is no "stronger" aspirin made by one manufacturer than by another. Most aspirin come in five grain tablets. Again, three tablets can be considered "stronger" than one.

You must depend on your doctor's judgment for the strength of a drug, for the frequency for which it is taken, and the duration for which it is prescribed.

I have heard there is a new clinic in Mexico for the treatment of arthritis. Do you know anything about it and where it's located?
Mr. E.G.M., Penn

Dear Mr. M.:

I am certain that you did not hear about this clinic from a reliable doctor, from the Arthritis Foundation, or from the director of the arthritis clinic in your own local hospital.

It is estimated that almost half a billion dollars are extracted from arthritis sufferers each year. Miracle cures, special diets, "break-through" gadgets and machines attract the sufferer who later finds that his best treatment is in the hands of those doctors trained in the specialty of rheumatism and arthritis.

The long, expensive treks to Mexico, to Canada, to Europe, to isolated towns in America, is fraught with disappointment.

And it delays the use of many of the newer drugs that are now being used successfully in some types of arthritis.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Use Dollar Without Spending It

A dollar bill, according to Lynn Raasch, consumer information specialist, is an efficient tool for determing whether the gasket around the inside of your refrigerator door is worn and leaky, and is, therefore, wasting energy and money.

The test is simple. Close the refrigerator door on the dollar bill. If it slides out easily you need a new gasket. The new gasket will cost a bit of money, but you'll still have the dollar bill.

Try Elegant, Easy Topping

For an easy but elegant ice cream topping, drain a 16 ounce can of cling peach slices, reserving ¼ cup syrup.

Combine peaches, reserved syrup, 1-2 cups mincemeat and ¼ cup chopped nuts. Bring to simmer; remove from heat. Stir in 2 tablespoons sherry, rum or brandy. Spoon hot over ice cream and serve. Makes 6-10 servings.

Panel Studies Rights Of Nonsmokers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Some persons suggested that restaurants have their licenses lifted if they don't provide separate quarters for smokers and nonsmokers.

Others told of losing jobs because they could not abide with the smoking of colleagues.

In all, a conference Wednesday on the rights of nonsmokers was no place for a nicotine addict to be.

"We are studying the potential for protecting the rights of the nonsmoker," said Dr. Maurice Reizen, director of the state Department of Public Health, who called the conference under a directive from Gov. William Milliken.

Reizen is to recommend to Milliken the best possible approach to seeing that nonsmokers lungs, eyes, noses and rights are protected from the smoker. Reizen said he did not know when his recommendation would be made but noted eight bills in various forms dealing with nonsmokers' rights are now before the legislature.

"The department has tried to glean from these existing pieces of legislation the best portions and will attempt to draft legislation in the future," Reizen said.

PARAMEDIC: Angelique Joseph was graduated March 21 from Elkhart (Ind.) Institute of Technology and received credentials as a certified medical laboratory technician. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Joseph, Jr., 162 Hastings avenue, Benton Harbor, and a graduate of Benton Harbor high school.

The only laws on the books pertaining to smoking involve fire ordinances and prohibiting the sale of tobacco products to minors, said Walter Wheeler, also of the state public health department.

Making it a misdemeanor to smoke in certain places would have little effect, much like toothless ordinances banning smoking in elevators, said Gordon Adsit, Lansing fire marshal.

Instead, he suggested threatening to snatch the licenses of establishments such as bars and restaurants that fail to provide separate quarters for smokers and nonsmokers.

A law should be passed to prevent employers from discriminating against workers who refuse to labor in smoke-filled offices, said a representative of Michigan's Southeast Council on Smoking and Health.

A woman who identified herself as Pauline Darling said she had to quit her job after 26 years because colleagues' smoke hurt her lungs, and she kept losing her voice.

A reformed dozen-a-day cigar smoker, Sheldon Lublin, a Southfield junior high school teacher, says he used to irnore nonsmokers around him who coughed and wheezed.

Now that he has not touched a cigar for three years, nearby smokers ruin the taste of restaurant dinners for him, and he'd like to see something done about it, Lublin said.

LIGHTHOUSE

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP) — The last lighthouse on Lake Superior to be activated for the current season was staffed Wednesday when the Rock of Ages beacon near Isle Royal was given a crew of four men. This unit will serve to the end of the season in late December.

Milliken Appointments

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken announced two appointments Wednesday to the State Board of Veterinary Examiners. The appointments, for terms expiring Dec. 31, 1979, are subject to Senate confirmation. Appointed were Frank Merriman of Deckerville and Dr. Glenn Miller of Grand Ledge. Merriman, a dairy farmer and member of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University, succeeds Mrs. Lee Martin of Battle Creek.

Miller, a veterinarian specializing in small animals, has been on the board since 1969.

U.S. Carmakers Blast Rebates

DETROIT (AP) — Cash rebates cleared the auto industry's jammed parking lots, but now the automakers want to shelve the costly plan forever.

"We went into rebates kicking and screaming," says one GM analyst. "It was a hell of a merchandizing idea, very innovative, but we were unhappy because we knew it would cost a whole bunch of money."

"I'm told there were some rebates offered by General Motors in 1947 to get cars selling after the war," said another GM analyst. "It took us a long time to revive them and it could take just as long before we do it again."

An analyst at Ford Motor Co. adds: "I'd say the chances of rebates ever being used again are one out of 25 at best. The general attitude is that no one wants to do it, except for maybe Chrysler."

Chrysler is continuing rebates, mostly on its still bulky stock of unsold 1974 models.

A revival of rebates in at least the near future is given poor odds because, analysts say, most of the companies didn't want to use them in the first place. And when the firms begrudgingly acceded, they found the impact limited and the benefits accrued at a terribly high price.

Publicly, auto executives lauded the six-week experiment, in which cash rebates of up to $600 on mostly small and poorly selling models were given to customers direct from the factory.

The companies said the rebates perked up consumer interest in cars, led to a modest increase in sales, helped the makers whittle down burgeoning supplies of unsold models so dealers would buy from the factories again, and, most of all, created an aura of excitement in an industry where before there was only gloom.

"We put many millions of dollars into the program and consider much of the money well spent, as it brought people back to work in our plants and assisted our dealers through a difficult time," declared Ford Vice President John B. Naughton after most rebates ended Feb. 28.

Privately, however, company sources say, executives found the rebates too costly an experiment to test at a time when the industry is operating deep in the red.

Not only did the firms lose money on every car that came with a rebate, but sales of nonrebate models, which still provided a thin profit, continued to slip badly, the sources say.

The companies won't disclose how much they spent, but independent financial analysts estimate the rebate tab at $150 million, far more than the industry could expect to recoup from an increase in sales.

American Motors, the smallest of the auto makers, is the only company that openly criticized the rebates. AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr., told shareholders they are a "terrible penalty" the company must bear. And last week, Eugene V. Amoroso, the firm's executive sales director, said: "We would have been better off without rebates."

Foreign Imports May Set Record

DETROIT (AP) — An expected strong showing by foreign cars, combined with another drop in domestic sales, may have given imports a record share of the nation's auto market in March, industry analysts say.

March sales reports were due today from most importers and from the four major U.S. companies, who have completed their first month without widespread cash rebate plans.

Analysts said sales of U.S.-made cars would total about 530,000, down 19 per cent from the fuel-shortage depressed level of 653,246 a year ago.

The expected daily selling rate would be down about nine per cent from February's rate and set a 14-year low for a March.

March sales in recent years have been up an average five per cent from the previous month. But analysts said rebates boosted this February's sales above normal expectations, in part by borrowing sales that otherwise would have been recorded last month.

Meanwhile, import sales in March were expected to be up substantially in March, although analysts could not quote an estimated percentage increase. The rise would give the foreign makers at least 20 per cent of the U.S. market, they said.

Some analysts said the import share could exceed the record 22 per cent set in August 1971, just before the dollar devaluation and import surtax sent import prices up.

Most analysts, however, did not expect imports to match the March record 178,700 cars sold in 1973, although they said deliveries would be well above the disappointing 125,200 sold in March 1974, when the entire U.S. market was depressed by fuel shortages.

Nine of the 20 importers already have disclosed their sales results with each reporting a sharp gain over a year ago, ranging from 30 per cent by Mercedes Benz to 127 per cent by Peugeot, the tiny French importer.

Siberian Life Too Harsh For Soviet Workers

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer

BRATSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Siberia, the sleeping land, is stirring now, but it's a hard life for those who would win its riches.

Siberia is so abundant in natural resources — gas, oil, coal, iron, water, timber, copper, diamonds, gold — that the Soviet Union could be the richest country in the world in the 21st century.

The gigantic effort to develop those natural resources is well under way, but a major problem is finding people willing to endure the harsh climate and populate the vast area stretching for 3,400 miles across nine time zones from the Urals to the Pacific.

During a tour of six Siberian cities the story was the same everywhere — a critical need to build housing and provide the essential services and leisure-time facilities that will attract and hold people.

Officials in Irkutsk admitted that "our housing problem has not been solved" and that consumer goods remain difficult to get. At Ust Ilimsk where a new dam is nearing completion on the Angara River, the Communist party chief of the city conceded a main reason many people leave is lack of "normal, comfortable houses."

A few years ago, Siberian enthusiasts talked of 60 million persons living in Siberia by the year 2000. But since 1959, according to official statistics, the population of Siberia and the Soviet far east has grown only from 22.8 million to 26.3 million.

At that rate, the Soviet Union will be fortunate to have 35 million people living in Siberia by the turn of the century.

To a lesser degree, the rest of the Soviet Union has the same problems — lack of adequate housing, shortage of consumer goods and a tight labor supply. But at least most of the other places don't have to put up with bone-chilling cold for 10 months of winter and a two-month summer plagued by Siberian gnats.

Siberians can, and often do, pack up and leave. The central press cites with alarm statistics showing that half of all those who go to Siberia leave after three years and one of five persons leaves within a year.

The tour, arranged by the Soviet Foreign Ministry, concentrated on officials and left scant opportunity to meet ordinary people.

Yet statistics given out by official Siberian boosters and party officials pointed directly at housing difficulties. In Irkutsk, the most advanced city visited, average housing space was 83 square feet per person, they said.

Down the Angara River at Bratsk it was 80 square feet and in Ust Ilimsk only 55 square feet.

By comparison the Soviet "sanitary norm" is 97 square feet. A two-bedroom apartment in a Western country can easily contain 900 to 1,000 square feet of living space — 325 to 350 square feet a person for a family of three.

In Yakutsk, where old log houses sit near modern apartment buildings, city officials repeatedly refused to say how many of the city's 160,000 residents still used outdoor toilets.

"Well, Siberia is Siberia," said one construction engineer when asked what difficulties people faced.

With all the hardship there is at least a core of hardy people who plan to stay, and who take pride in being called Siberians.

"It gets so cold here you can't ski or skate," said one woman in Yakutsk. "But there are no problems. You can get vegetables now, sometimes flowers, and all you need to live here are warm clothes."

Residents of Yakutsk say you know its 50 below zero when a glass of water thrown on the ground freezes before it hits the earth.

Does anybody ever freeze? "Sometimes a touch of frostbite on noses or cheeks," a woman said. "But only drunken persons freeze to death."

Nearly all who work in Siberia get special "northern bonuses" that can push salaries up to two or three times the Moscow level. A Moscow worker earning 200 rubles — $280 — a month can easily get much more in Siberia.

At the Baykal-Amur railway line, newsmen were told a top paid worker who received all the bonuses for extra years in Siberia could earn 1,400 rubles — nearly $2,000 — a month — 10 times the average industrial wage in the Soviet Union.

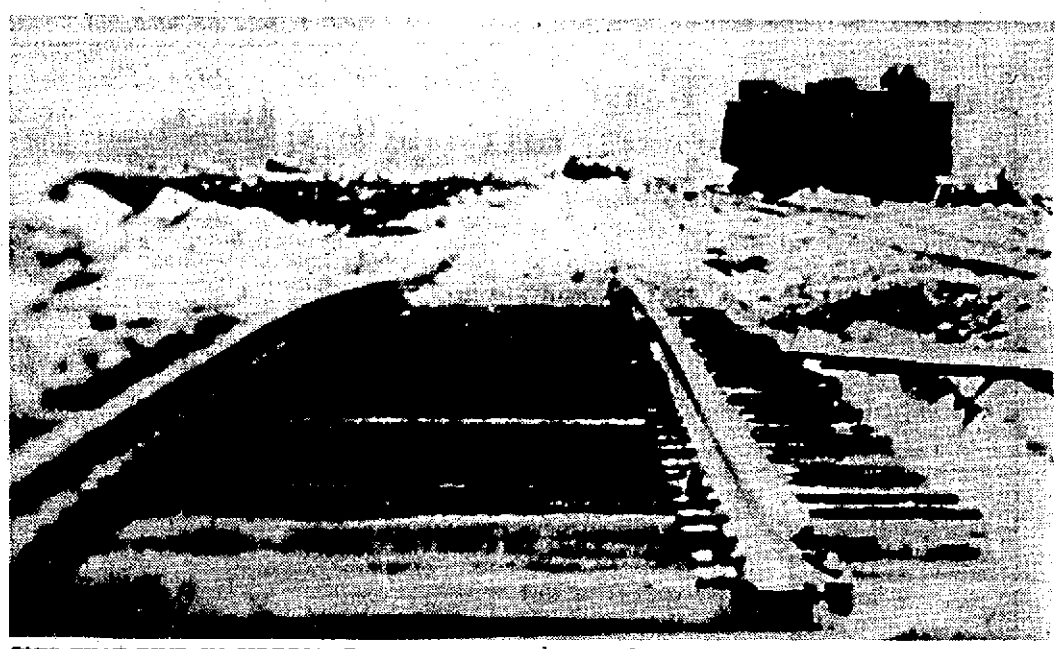

With all those inducements, people still leave Siberia. To build the Bratsk Dam and the Baykal-Amur railway, the government touched off a massive propaganda campaign to inspire young Communists to come to Siberia, no doubt hoping many would stay.

Not everything is grim and cold, however.

The comfortable Hotel Taiga restaurant in Bratsk has a party atmosphere every night with men and women dressed in the best.

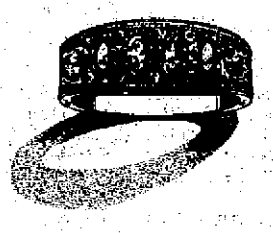

The restaurant offers food at least as good as Moscow restaurants, even though the stores have less variety of both food and clothing than the capital.

One Bratsk store was selling bright green, artificial Christmas trees in March. Asked why, a salesgirl replied: "Well, they are green and we have them so we sell them. People buy them all the time."

TIES THAT BIND IN SIBERIA: This is the point reached by construction at western segment of Soviet Union's new Baykal-Amur railway line, eight miles from Ust Kut in Siberia. At this railway line, newsmen were told a top paid worker who received all the bonusus for extra years in Siberia could earn 1,400 rubles — nearly $2,000 — a month, 10 times the average industrial wage in the Soviet Union. ## Here's Dish From Orient

"According to the Chinese calendar, this is the year of the hare. This little fellow looks as though he's about to sample some Chicken Velvet Soup. In the foreground, Sweet and Sour Pork Szechuan."

This week Family Weekly Food Editor Marilyn Hansen treats us to a recipe that's fun to cook and fun to eat — Chinese Sweet and Sour Pork.

Both hot and spicy, this Szechuan dish will put an end to the blandness blues. And all you need to cook it in is a skillet. What better way to enjoy the Year of the Hare than with Chicken Velvet Soup and Sweet and Sour Pork Szechuan?

Read it Saturday in Family Weekly magazine, a regular feature of The Herald-Palladium.

One Bratsk store was selling bright green, artificial Christmas trees in March. Asked why, a salesgirl replied: "Well, they are green and we have them so we sell them. People buy them all the time."

TIES THAT BIND IN SIBERIA: This is the point reached by construction at western segment of Soviet Union's new Baykal-Amur railway line, eight miles from Ust Kut in Siberia. At this railway line, newsmen were told a top paid worker who received all the bonusus for extra years in Siberia could earn 1,400 rubles — nearly $2,000 — a month, 10 times the average industrial wage in the Soviet Union. ## Here's Dish From Orient

"According to the Chinese calendar, this is the year of the hare. This little fellow looks as though he's about to sample some Chicken Velvet Soup. In the foreground, Sweet and Sour Pork Szechuan."

This week Family Weekly Food Editor Marilyn Hansen treats us to a recipe that's fun to cook and fun to eat — Chinese Sweet and Sour Pork.

Both hot and spicy, this Szechuan dish will put an end to the blandness blues. And all you need to cook it in is a skillet. What better way to enjoy the Year of the Hare than with Chicken Velvet Soup and Sweet and Sour Pork Szechuan?

Man Sentenced To Prison For Killing Girl, 12

DETROIT (AP) — A Highland Park man was sentenced Wednesday to serve seven to 21 years in prison for killing a 12-year-old newsgirl, who he thought was a hired killer.

Rudolph Acosta, 24, admitted during his trial that he killed Edith Perchman in edrly morning darkness last August as she delivered his morning paper but said he believed she was a hit man sent to kill him.

The sentence was criticized by both defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Defense attorney Charles Campbell said Acosta should have been put on probation and cited what he said was adverse pre-trial publicity. Prosecutor Morton Tatkeh said Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman shoud have been sentenced to serve a minumum of 15 years, the maximum term for manslaughter.

Kaufman said his sentence was influended by Acosta's past history, work record and family.

Acosta was convicted last month of second-degree murder. The conviction has been appealed.

State Police in Lansing said road conditions across the area hit by the storm were "terrible" and reported portions of Interstate 94 and 96 were virtually impassable, with many secondary and county roads closed by the snow. Troopers said an expressway in Flint was closed briefly.

In the central part of the peninsula, the storm was less severe, bringing mostly snow, while the northern portion only clouds were seen.

The weather service said from one to four inches of snow was expected in most areas, but reported there were 10 inches of snow on the ground in Lansing and seven in Muskegon.

Heavy snow warnings still were in effect early today for the central section of the Lower Peninsula, with traveler's advisories posted in the southern area. The storm caused waves up to nine feet high on the southwestern portion of Lake Michigan.

Cold, cloudy weather was predicted today for central and southern portions of the Lower Peninsula, with snow expected to diminish to flurries. A chance of snow showers was predicted for the northeastern area, with cool, partly sunny weather on tap for Friday.

Upper Peninsula residents, many of whom have had more than their share of snow this winter, can look for cold, cloudy weather with only occasional snow flurries today.

Winds bowled at more than 35 miles an hour in some areas of Illinois and Wisconsin Wednesday, making road clearing work virtually useless.

Roads and airports were closed throughout northern Indiana and Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, leaving hundreds of travelers stranded.

In Chicago, at least seven weather-related deaths were reported—two from traffic accidents on icy highways, the rest from heart attacks while shoveling snow or struggling through drifts.

Chicago reported 11 inches of snowfall, Grand Rapids, Mich., 8 and Milwaukee, Wis., 5.

The storm system creating snow in the upper Midwest is causing thundershowers in the Appalachians and eastern Ohio Valley. Rain also is reported from the Carolinas to the central and eastern Gulf coast.

Several tornadoes developed with the thundershowers. One caused minor damage to Benton Central High School near Lafayette, Ind.

Montgomery, Ala., received two and one-third inches of rain.

Skies were mostly clear from the plains to Southern California, but temperatures were chilly. Below zero readings were recorded across the northern plains, while subfreezing temperatures reached into Arkansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Shortly before midnight Wednesday, a record low for April 2 of 9 degrees was set at Sioux City, Iowa. A 19 at Kansas City also was a record.

Uniroyal Recalls 982 Tires

DETROIT (AP) — Uniroyal Inc. said Wednesday it is recalling 982 tires produced in 1970 because they may develop tread separations and partial loss of tread, especially at high speeds.

Covered by the recall are size H70-15 Uniroyal Tiger Paw tires of rayon-glass construction bearing serial numbers beginning with the letters "UN."

Uniroyal said blisters or bumps in the tread edge area, rough riding and thumping are indications of tread separation.

The firm said tread separation would make the tires more prone to blowouts.

Uniroyal said the problem was discovered through routine testing by the Department of Transportation. The firm said it knows of no accidents as a result of the defect.

Deputies Arrest 2 On Rape Charges

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NEW TROY — Berrien county sheriff's deputies from the Galien substation arrested James Martin, 28, rural Buchanan, and Donald Riggins, 20, Box 175, New Troy, here last night, on charges of assault with intent to commit rape.

Deputies said the two were arrested in connection with the reported rape of a Buchanan woman on March 10.

Deputies said Martin was arrested at a New Troy tavern about 10 p.m., and Riggins was arrested shortly afterwards at his home.

The two were arrested after warrants were authorized yesterday by Fifth District court Judge Lee Cook. A third person is still being sought in connection with the incident and a warrant has been issued, deputies said.

Buchanan city police said a 47-year-old Buchanan woman told officers three men forced their way into her southside Buchanan home on March 10 and raped her.

She told police at that time that two of the same men had broken into her house and raped her two weeks earlier.

Wholesale Price Dip Continues

processed foods and feed declined 2.5 per cent last month. This also marked the fourth drop in a row in that category. Industrial goods rose two-tenths of a per cent in March, less than half the five-tenths of a per cent increase in each of the previous two months and the smallest rise since December when those prices did not increase at all.

Consumer prices in the three months ending in February have risen at an adjusted annual rate of 8.1 per cent, compared to an increase of 13 per cent during the previous three month period.

Wholesale prices in the first quarter of 1975 have now declined at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6.7 per cent.

This contrasts with increases of 35.2 and 13.4 per cent in the third and fourth quarters of 1974, respectively.

Ford administration officials predict that inflation will taper off to a rate of about 6 or 7 per cent this year, down from the 12.2 per cent rate in 1974. The declining inflation rate has been due in part to the recession, which has sharply curbed consumer demand.

Declines at wholesale generally result in a falling or easing of consumer prices, but are not always fully passed on at retail as wholesalers and other middlemen try to maintain or widen their profit margins.

Police agencies said the icy crust, created late yesterday afternoon when rain and sleet fell atop a first round of snow, contributed to the problems of motorists.

State police said I-94 and I-196 were reduced to one lane of traffic during the night, but that all lanes were in use by early morning today.

Troopers at the Benton Harbor post and the Berrien sheriff's department each reported receiving over 50 call from stranded motorists.

Berrien Road Commission Head Webb noted that the wind swung around a full 180 degrees during the course of the storm. Snow, rain and sleet developed yesterday afternoon as the storm moved in out of the southeast. Through the night, the wind worked half way around the compass to the northwest. Webb said this produced drifting along both east and west roads, and north-south roads.

Webb indicated his supervisory workers on snowplows would do their "very best." He added the hope that the snow would melt down considerably during the day, from the effects of warm gound beneath the snow cover.

North Central Airlines cancelled all flights in and out of Ross field here. Fifth District court in the county courthouse, St. Joseph, closed for the day, and a trial in one circuit court courtroom was cancelled.

Several twin cities area factories were reported closed: Universal Looseleaf; Pier Division of Landis Machine; Williams Bros. Paper Box; Dieco Products.

It was reported mail deliveries in rural areas of Berrien county probably would be limited today.

IT'S GROWING: A growing problem, literally, are weeds sprouting from ancient Wailing Wall in Jerusalem, believed to be the remains of the third temple ever built in that Biblical city. Two of Israel's chief Rabbis are in dispute over how to remove the weeds — should they be pulled out, thus risking damage to the crumbling walls, or remain as a symbol of regrowth?

Thought Was Nice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thought was nice, but that hasn't prevented some red faces within Wisconsin's congressional delegation.

Seven of the state's nine representatives have co-sponsored a bill which would name a Green Bay, Wis., building in honor of former Rep. John W. Byrnes, D-Wis., who retired.

None of them were aware of a bill passed in Congress two years ago that named the building the John W. Byrnes Building.

"We just didn't check into it," admitted a staff member of Rep. Robert Cornell, D-Wis.

Red Soldiers Halt Advance Toward Saigon

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Little fighting and no more government retreats were reported in South Vietnam today, and it appeared that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong might be busy digesting their enormous territorial gains of the past month.

Five North Vietnamese infantry divisions, estimated to number up to 50,000 men, were poised 40 to 50 miles to the northwest and northeast of Saigon. But no movement toward the capital was detected. However, since the North Vietnamese control much of the roads around the city, an assault on it could be mounted quickly once the Communist command decided to move.

The South Vietnamese army, having lost half of its 13 divisions in the debacle that cost it the northern and central parts of the country, concentrated forces in Tay Ninh province to the northwest of Saigon and in Long Khanh province to the northeast.

Saigon also has about 50,000 men in the Saigon area, including three divisions and militia forces, and three more divisions southwest of the capital in the Mekong Delta.

Opposition to President Nguyen Van Thieu was growing daily in Saigon, and law and order was also threatened by armed military stragglers from the central and northern provinces who were slipping into the city without reporting to the army.

The local military commander today forbade mass assemblies, demonstrations and the carrying of weapons without a permit. "Local authorities have orders to shoot and kill on the spot those violators who try to resist or flee," a communique said.

The Viet Cong renewed its offer of peace negotiations if Saigon got rid of Thieu and formed a new government. But despite the opposition to him that was mounting in the capital itself, the president gave no indication that he might quit or that he was even listening to his opponents.

In Cambodia, a Khmer Rouge night attack backed by heavy artillery fire drove hundreds of government troops into retreat northwest of Phnom Penh and increased the threat of shelling attacks on the city. The insurgents' shells destroyed two more T28 light bombers and damaged two civilian planes at the Phnom Penh airport, but the American airlift of rice, ammunition and petroleum continued.

The U.S. government was marking time. Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said the Ford administration's aid policy would be reviewed when Gen. Fred C. Weyand, the U. S. Army chief of staff, returns to Washington from Saigon this weekend.

Schlesinger indicated that despite several planeloads of artillery and other military equipment flown to Saigon from the West Coast this week, large scale replacement of the South Vietnamese army's huge losses in equipment would depend on whether Weyand thinks the Saigon forces can stabilize a defense perimeter north of the city and "how they will perform when and if the test comes."

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller said the U.S. government at the moment can do nothing and it is up to the South Vietnamese to salvage their own situation.

Officials in Washington did announce that the government would sponsor an airlift in the new few days of 2,000 Vietnamese children from Saigon orphanages run by private agencies and charitable organizations. The children will be brought by chartered planes hired by the U.S. government.

blank work order, or doesn't even get a copy of the work order; where consumers are charged for unnecessary repairs, and where consumers are charged for repairs not performed."

"These rules could put my husband out of business," protested Mary Small, whose husband operates a one-man repair shop in Lansing. "He will quit before he hires somebody else." The proposed rules would prohibit employes who fill out repair orders from collecting commissions on parts or service. Mrs. Small said her husband prepares the orders and repairs the cars.

The proposed rules are unfair to license holders who inadvertantly commit one in a list of deceptive practices in advertising or repairing, said J. C. Purcell, director of consumer services for General Motors. Purcell said the word "knowingly" should be inserted so that repair shops will not be penalized for violating the rules by mistake.

The rules must be reviewed by a legislative committee and the attorney general's office.

The law went into effect April 1, but the timetable for implementing it extends through next April 1. Secretary of State Richard Austin asked the legislature to amend the law to speed up the timetable for implementing it.

The auto repair law will require all auto repair shop owners in Michigan to meet certain standards in order to be licensed by the state. In the past, the state did not regulate the auto repair business.

Man Sentenced To Prison For Killing Girl, 12

DETROIT (AP) — A Highland Park man was sentenced Wednesday to serve seven to 21 years in prison for killing a 12-year-old newsgirl, who he thought was a hired killer.

Rudolph Acosta, 24, admitted during his trial that he killed Edith Perchman in early morning darkness last August as she delivered his morning paper but said he believed she was a hit man sent to kill him.

The sentence was criticized by both defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Defense attorney Charles Campbell said Acosta should have been put on probation and cited what he said was adverse pre-trial publicity. Prosecutor Mortorr Tatken said Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman shoud have been sentenced to serve a minumum of 15 years, the maximum term for manslaughter.

Kaufman said his sentence was influended by Acosta's past history, work record and family.

Acosta was convicted last month of second-degree murder. The conviction has been appealed.

In the central part of the peninsula, the storm was less severe, bringing mostly snow, while the northern portion only clouds were seen.

The weather service said from one to four inches of snow was expected in most areas, but reported there were 10 inches of snow on the ground in Lansing and seven in Muskegon.

Heavy snow warnings still were in effect early today for the central section of the Lower Peninsula, with traveler's advisories posted in the southern area. The storm caused waves up to nine feet high on the southwestern portion of Lake Michigan.

Cold, cloudy weather was predicted today for central and southern portions of the Lower Peninsula, with snow expected to diminish to flurries. A chance of snow showers was predicted for the northeastern area, with cool, partly sunny weather on tap for Friday.

Upper Peninsula residents, many of whom have had more than their share of snow this winter, can look for cold, cloudy weather with only occasional snow flurries today.

Winds howled at more than 35 miles an hour in some areas of Illinois and Wisconsin Wednesday, making road clearing work virtually useless.

Roads and airports were closed throughout northern Indiana and Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, leaving hundreds of travelers stranded.

In Chicago, at least seven weather-related deaths were reported—two from traffic accidents on icy highways, the rest from heart attacks while shoveling snow or struggling through drifts.

Chicago reported 11 inches of snowfall, Grand Rapids, Mich., 8 and Milwaukee, Wis., 5.

The storm system creating snow in the upper Midwest is causing thundershowers in the Appalachians and eastern Ohio Valley. Rain also is reported from the Carolinas to the central and eastern Gulf coast.

Several tornadoes developed with the thundershowers. One caused minor damage to Benton Central High School near Lafayette, Ind.

Montgomery, Ala., received two and one-third inches of rain.

Skies were mostly clear from the plains to Southern California, but temperatures were chilly. Below zero readings were recorded across the northern plains, while subfreezing temperatures reached into Arkansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Shortly before midnight Wednesday, a record low for April 2 of 9 degrees was set at Sioux City, Iowa. A 19 at Kansas City also was a record.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 78 at Key West, Fla., to 3 below zero at Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

Deputies Arrest 2 On Rape Charges

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NEW TROY — Berrien county sheriff's deputies from the Galien substation arrested James Martin, 20, rural Buchanan, and Donald Riggins, 20, Box 175, New Troy, here last night, on charges of assault with intent to commit rape.

Deputies said the two were arrested in connection with the reported rape of a Buchanan woman on March 10.

Deputies said Martin was arrested at a New Troy tavern about 10 p.m., and Riggins was arrested shortly afterwards at his home.

The two were arrested after warrants Were authorized yesterday by Fifth District court Judge Leo Cook. A third person is still being sought in connection with the incident and a warrant has been issued, deputies said.

Buchanan city police said a 47-year-old Buchanan woman told officers three men forced their way into her southside Buchanan home on March 10 and raped her.

She told police at that time that two of the same men had broken into her house and raped her two weeks earlier.

Wholesale Price Dip Continues

processed foods and feed declined 2.5 per cent last month. This also marked the fourth drop in a row in that category. Industrial goods rose two-tenths of a per cent in March, less than half the five-tenths of a per cent increase in each of the previous two months and the smallest rise since December when those prices did not increase at all.

Consumer prices in the three months ending in February have risen at an adjusted annual rate of 8.1 per cent, compared to an increase of 13 per cent during the previous three month period.

Wholesale prices in the first quarter of 1975 have now declined at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6.7 per cent.

This contrasts with increases of 35.2 and 13.4 per cent in the third and fourth quarters of 1974, respectively.

Ford administration officials predict that inflation will taper off to a rate of about 6 or 7 per cent this year, down from the 12.2 per cent rate in 1974. The declining inflation rate has been due in part to the recession, which has sharply curbed consumer demand.

Declines at wholesale generally result in a falling or easing of consumer prices, but are not always fully passed on at retail as wholesalers and other middlemen try to maintain or widen their profit margins.

Police agencies said the icy crust, created late yesterday afternoon when rain and sleet fell atop a first round of snow, contributed to the problems of motorists.

State police said I-94 and I-196 were reduced to one-lane of traffic during the night, but that all lanes were in use by early morning today.

Troopers at the Benton Harbor post and the Berrien sheriff's department each reported receiving over 50 call from stranded motorists.

Berrien Road Commission Head Webb noted that the wind swung around a full 180 degrees during the course of the storm. Snow, rain and sleet developed yesterday afternoon as the storm moved in out of the southeast. Through the night, the wind worked half way around the compass to the northwest. Webb said this produced drifting along both east and west roads, and north-south roads.

Webb indicated his supervisory workers on snowplows would do their "very best." He added the hope that the snow would melt down considerably during the day, from the effects of warm gound beneath the snow cover.

North Central Airlines cancelled all flights in and out of Ross field here. Fifth District court in the county courthouse, St. Joseph, closed for the day, and a trial in one circuit court courtroom was cancelled.

Several twin cities area factories were reported closed: Universal Looseleaf; Pier Division of Landis Machine; Williams Bros. Paper Box; Dieco Products.

It was reported mail deliveries in rural areas of Berrien county probably would be limited today.

Thought Was Nice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thought was nice, but that hasn't prevented some red faces within Wisconsin's congressional delegation.

Seven of the state's nine representatives have co-sponsored a bill which would name a Green Bay, Wis., building in honor of former Rep. John W. Byrnes, D-Wis., who retired.

None of them were aware of a bill passed in Congress two years ago that named the building the John W. Byrnes Building.

"We just didn't check into it," admitted a staff member of Rep. Robert Cornell, D-Wis.

Red Soldiers Halt Advance Toward Saigon

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Little fighting and no more government retreats were reported in South Vietnam today, and it appeared that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong might be busy digesting their enormous territorial gains of the past month.

Five North Vietnamese infantry divisions, estimated to number up to 50,000 men, were poised 40 to 50 miles to the northwest and northeast of Saigon. But no movement toward the capital was detected. However, since the North Vietnamese control much of the roads around the city, an assault on it could be mounted quickly once the Communist command decided to move.

The South Vietnamese army, having lost half of its 13 divisions in the debacle that cost it the northern and central parts of the country, concentrated forces in Tay Ninh province to the northwest of Saigon and in Long Khanh province to the northeast.

Saigon also has about 50,000 men in the Saigon area, including three divisions and milita forces, and three more divisions southwest of the capital in the Mekong Delta.

Opposition to President Nguyen Van Thieu was growing daily in Saigon, and law and order was also threatened by armed military stragglers from the central and northern provinces who were slipping into the city without reporting to the army.

The local military commander today forbade mass assemblies, demonstrations and the carrying of weapons without a permit. "Local authorities have orders to shoot and kill on the spot those violators who try to resist or flee," a communique said.

The Viet Cong renewed its offer of peace negotiations if Saigon got rid of Thieu and formed a new government. But despite the opposition to him that was mounting in the capital itself, the president gave no indication that he might quit or that he was even listening to his opponents.

In Cambodia, a Khmer Rouge night attack backed by heavy artillery fire drove hundreds of government troops into retreat northwest of Phnom Penh and increased the threat of shelling attacks on the city. The insurgents' shells destroyed two more T28 light bombers and damaged two civilian planes at the Phnom Penh airport, but the American airlift of rice, ammunition and petroleum continued.

The U.S. government was marking time. Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said the Ford administration's aid policy would be reviewed when Gen. Fred C. Weyand, the U. S. Army chief of staff, returns to Washington from Saigon this weekend.

Schlesinger indicated that despite several planeloads of artillery and other military equipment flown to Saigon from the West Coast this week, large scale replacement of the South Vietnamese army's huge losses in equipment would depend on whether Weyand thinks the Saigon forces can stabilize a defense perimeter north of the city and "how they will perform when and if the test comes."

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller said the U.S. government at the moment can do nothing and it is up to the South Vietnamese to salvage their own situation.

Officials in Washington did announce that the government would sponsor an airlift in the new few days of 2,000 Vietnamese children from Saigon orphanages run by private agencies and charitable organizations. The children will be brought by chartered planes hired by the U.S. government.

blank work order, or doesn't even get a copy of the work order; where consumers are charged for unnecessary repairs, and where consumers are charged for repairs not performed."

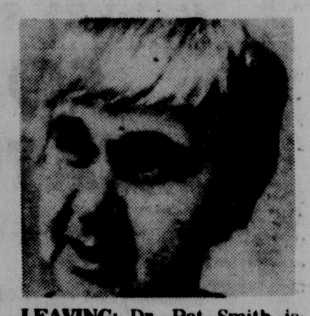

"These rules could put my husband out of business," protested Mary Small, whose husband operates a one-man repair shop in Lansing. "He will quit before he hires somebody else." The proposed rules would prohibit employes who fill out repair orders from collecting commissions on parts or service. Mrs. Small said her husband prepares the orders and repairs the cars.

The proposed rules are unfair to license holders who inadvertantly commit one in a list of deceptive practices in advertising or repairing, said J. C. Purcell, director of consumer services for General Motors. Purcell said the word "knowingly" should be inserted so that repair shops will not be penalized for violating the rules by mistake.

The rules must be reviewed by a legislative committee and the attorney general's office.

The law went into effect April 1, but the timetable for implementing it extends through next April 1. Secretary of State Richard Austin asked the legislature to amend the law to speed up the tinetable for implementing it.

The auto repair law will require all auto repair shop owners in Michigan to meet certain standards in order to be licensed by the state. In the past, the state did not regulate the auto repair business.

Cass Man's Charge Cut

CASSOPOLIS — A charge of attempted murder was reduced to felonious assault and bond set at $2,000 when a 43 - year - old Vandalia man was arraigned here in connection with a incident in which he allegedly shot at his children and sheriff's deputies Tuesday night.

Lodged in the Cass county jail this morning in lieu of $2,000 bond was Donald G. Yawkey, 43, Vandalia.

Yawkey appeared in Cass county Fourth District court yesterday and requested a court appointed lawyer. Court was adjourned for further arraignment until April 10 to give Yawkey time to confer with his lawyer, according to Cass County Prosecutor Michael E. Dodge.

Dodge said he authorized the reduced charge because, "It is very difficult to maintain a murder charge when no one was hurt."

Yawkey was arrested Tuesday night after Cass sheriff's deputies were called to the Yawkey home apprehend a man who allegedly fired rifle shots at the Yawkey children.

The children fled and were not injured. Sheriff's deputies were held at bay about an hour and three-quarters outside the Yawkey home on Water street. Deputies reported they were fired upon when they arrived at the scene.

Deputies subsequently arrested a man inside the Yawkey home after they lobbed in tear gas. He was arrested on a charge of attempted murder.

Officials Of Four Nations Like YF16s

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Defense ministers of Belgium, Denmark, the Netherlands and Norway agreed today that General Dynamics' YF16 "has undisputed advantages" over other fighter planes competing for what could become the biggest series of contracts in aviation history. The four countries are planning to order a total of 350 planes to replace their obsolete Lockheed F104G Starfighters. The total purchase would run about $2 billion.

The defense ministers said their information is sufficient for their governments to take decisions and that they would recommend that this be done by the end of April.

The other main contenders for the European contracts have been the French Mirage and the Swedish Viggen. The Norwegians and Danes were previously reported favoring the American plane, with the Belgians pressing for the Mirage and the Dutch undecided. The four countries have agreed to try and maintain efficiency and keep down costs by choosing the same type of plane, but because of strong sentiment in the Belgian government to buy the French plane there had been doubt that the agreement would hold. "The ministers agreed that from the point of view of operational qualities and program costs the YF16 has undisputed advantages over the other contending aircrafts," a joint statement said. "The evaluation of other aspects particularly in the industrial and economic fields is still continuing in some countries."

The announcement does not necessarily mean that the YF16 will be ordered by all four countries. The Belgian defense minister, Paul Vanden Boeynants, has said that it would be up to the government as a whole, after consulting parliament and trade unions, to decide on which plane to choose. Political considerations may also influence the final decisions of the three other governments.

When Belgium first went shopping for a warplane, the French-made Mirage was an early favorite, but the YF16 turned out to be cheaper. In addition, the American plane was helped by a story in the Flemish weekly Knack charging that Van Den Boeynants had distorted a report to make the Mirage look better than the YF16.

"The report makes it look as if the Mirage is in all ways superior to the YF16" and charged that the cabinet had "juggled" figures to make the Mirage and the U.S. plane look about the same price. Van Den Boeynants denied any bias and declared the difference in cost remains "7 per cent in favor of the YF16."

Probers Believe Young BH Girl Was Murdered; Have Suspect In Mind

A skeleton found in a heavily-wooded area near Berrien Springs Tuesday was identified today as that of Laverne Cornelius, 17, a Benton Harbor high school senior who disappeared the night of Feb. 7.

Berrien county Prosecutor John Smietanka, said in a news conference this morning at his office that the identification was made from dental records.

He said police are theorizing the girl was murdered. He said police have a suspect but that there has been no arrest and there is no one in custody in connection with the crime at this time.

Smietanka said the girl was last seen around 6 p.m., Feb. 7, when she left the home of her father, Robert E. Cornelius, 1923 Eastland, Benton township. The girl was pregnant at the time of her death, Smietanka said.

It is believed, the prosecutor said, that she received a telephone call shortly before she left the family home the night she disappeared.

Her father reported her as missing, the next day, Smietanka added.

There is no indication yet on how she might have died, he said.

Two teenagers walking along True road, about a half-mile east of M-140 in Berrien township, saw a dog carrying a human skull late Tuesday morning.

Smietanka said police believe the girl was murdered the same night she left her home, perhaps between 6 p.m. and midnight.

He asked for public assistance in in obtaining information from people who might have seen the girl or who might have seen or heard unusual things near the orchard the night of Feb. 7.

People with such information should call state police at Benton Harbor or Niles, he said.

Kurd Defectors Aid Iraqis

HALABCHA, Iraq (AP) — Kurdish defectors guided Iraqi columns through their minefields as the Baghad government's troops took control of the last rebel enclaves adjoining Iran. Field commanders said the Iraqi army would withdraw in about two weeks when the Kurdish Autonomous Council establishes its civilian administration in the mountain towns and villages. The fate of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, the leader of the Kurdish rebellion, remained a mystery. Iraqi officers said he had fled to Iran and that they had captured Haj Omran, his headquarters near the Iranian border. It appeared that Barzani's 13-year-old war for autonomy had crumbled without a shot. Most of his Pesh Merga guerrillas were either exiles in Iran or had surrendered to Iraqi authorities during the three-week amnesty period that expired Monday night.

Garbage Piles Decreasing

NEW YORK (AP) — The recession has come to roost in that last reflection of American society: the garbage dump. Cities across the country, contending in recent years with increasing mountains of trash, have suddenly found the amount of garbage they must collect is decreasing, and some officials blame the recession. "People are wasting less because they have less," was New York Environmental Protection Administor Robert Low's explanation. In many large cities, recession has cut the simple volume of garbage. But the decrease shows up in specific types of waste, too: Kansas City reports fewer big items such as appliances being thrown out.

Berrien Picked For Child Food Study

By JERRY KRIEGER
County-Farm Editor

Berrien county has been selected to take part in a pilot program to determine if an improved diet from the time of conception of a child until its fifth year will improve its brainpower and physical development.

The county health department was imformed Wednesday it was picked to take part in the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC).

The health department will get a U.S. Department of Agriculture grant of $110,000 for the next three months to provide certain foods to pregnant and lactating women and their children up through four years of age.

Dr. Locey, Berrien health department director, said some 1,370 women and children will be supplied milk, cheese juice, eggs and cereals free to supplement their normal diets. These foods are high protein items, and the cereals and juices will be vitamin C and iron-enriched brands.

Women and children eligible for participation will be from low income homes and must be determined by a health department nutritionist to be in need of supplemental foods. Dr. Locey said that actually most of the women will come from a Pre-Natal Care program the health department already is conducting.

The federal agriculture department has been funding the WIC program on a pilot basis for three years already, expanding the areas each succeeding year. It announced that with 44 other new areas added along with Berrien county, the caseload now includes some 736,000 women and children in 48 state and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Dr. Locey explained the program's goal of raising the brain capacity and early physical development of diet-deficient children is based on the medical belief that the pre-natal months of the child in the womb is probably the most important time for brain development. He said the brain is the most completely developed of a child's organs at birth. A diet deficiency in that period limits the brain development, he said, and impairs future intellectual and physical capacity.

The health department has begun to make arrangements with various grocery stores to furnish the approved foods to the participants in return for coupons the department will give the women.

A large share of the grant will go for the foods, and a minor share will be employed for evaluation testing and for administration of the program, Locey indicated.

He said the initial grant of about $110,000 is for the remaining three months of the federal fiscal year, through June 30, but added he anticipates the funding will go on a continuing basis for next year. No local matching money is required.

Dempsey Defends Staffing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Disputing complaints that the Wayne County Department of Social Services is inequitably staffed, state officials say the department is staffed "the same as all other counties."

John Dempsey, director of the state department, said Wednesday it is not allocating proportionally fewer staff to the Wayne County offices than to other county social service offices.

His statement came in reply to Detroit Councilwoman Maryann Mahaffey, who recently charged that the Wayne County office is not staffed sufficiently.

"The method for allocating professional and supportive positions is based on a county-by-county determination of need made at the state office level, using standard staffing ratios applied equally to all counties," Dempsey said.

He said the Wayne County offices earlier this year were allocated an additional 400 positions. He said this "resulted in Wayne County receiving 57 per cent of all the positions newly allocated."

John Dempsey, director of the state department, said Wednesday it is not allocating proportionally fewer staff to the Wayne County offices than to other county social service offices.

His statement came in reply to Detroit Councilwoman Maryann Mahaffey, who recently charged that the Wayne County office is not staffed sufficiently.

"The method for allocating professional and supportive positions is based on a county-by-county determination of need made at the state office level, using standard staffing ratios applied equally to all counties," Dempsey said.

He said the Wayne County offices earlier this year were allocated an additional 400 positions. He said this "resulted in Wayne County receiving 57 percent of all the positions newly allocated."

New Mississippi Floods Expected

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers is hustling Mississippi River trappers and fishermen to higher ground as it prepares to meet river crests higher than 1973 flood levels.

The crest is moving rapidly down the river toward New Orleans. Unless the corps opens one of its spillways to divert some of the water, the Mississippi will crest at 19.3 feet April 19, well above the 18.6 high water mark recorded in 1973 after the spillways were opened. The '73 floods were some of the worst on record.

The river crested at 56.2 Wednesday at Cairo, Ill. The 1973 crest was 55.7. The crest is projected to hit Memphis Sunday at 40.2, just below 1973's 40.4; Helena, Ark., Monday at 46.3, and Natchez, Miss., the following Monday at 54.8.

Some six million acres of land, from Southern Illinois down to the river's mouth, are already under water. About half of that is in Louisiana and Mississippi, most of it inside the levee structures.

One by one, the trappers and fishermen who live on the river side of the levees have been moving to higher land. For many it is an annual move. Even if the water from the Mississippi doesn't lap at their doorsteps, the ground beneath their cabins sometimes gets so soft it slides into the river.

Hardest hit so far have been families in the Yazoo Basin, Miss., where the swollen Mississippi has backed up into the Yazoo River, and near Jonesville, La., where the Black River is out of its banks.

Army engineers say "several hundred" persons — including farmers and cattlemen — have been evacuated from these and a few other areas.

If there isn't a lot more rain and snow, and if it doesn't drain into the Mississippi Valley all at once, Army engineers say they can withstand this year's floods without 1973's $1 billion losses.

Corps spokesman Bruce Sossaman says 1973 was unusual because runoff from early fall snows in the Ohio Valley had swollen the river by November, soaking and weakening levees all winter long until the final big crest in the spring.

He said the corps has been working since then to strengthen levee structures and build new ones where needed.

In some areas, from Cairo south, corps personnel are patrolling the levees 24 hours a day, watching for mud slides and sand boils, where the river runs underground for hundreds of feet, then pops out above ground.

It Might Be Annual Sale, Says Fremont Protester

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — "Maybe we'll have an annual sale," a veterinarian's wife said Wednesday after seeing her home in this western Michigan town sold for taxes she refused to pay because of her hatred for war.

Addie Snyder, 41, however, was happy about the sale because a group of friends purchased her home and she will buy it back without ever having to leave.

But Mrs. Snyder and her husband, Paul, 42, vowed they will continue to resist payment of taxes they believe go to the Defense Department despite the Internal Revenue Service seizure and sale of their $80,000 homestead.

"We figure it's cost us about $8,000 to resist that $2,500 in taxes but it's worth it," Mrs. Snyder said after the sale.

The Snyders refused to pay a portion of their 1971 through 1973 federal income tax because they believed it would go to the Defense Department. Snyder said it was about 45 per cent of their taxes and was based upon the Defense Department's share of the national budget.

The sale of part of the Snyders' four-acre homestead just outside this town, which bills itself as "The Baby Food Capital" since Gerber Products is headquartered here, took place on the snowy steps of the Post Office.

IRS agents announced the opening of bids, then went to a small basement room to privately determine the high bidder.

When they returned to announce that Carol Blizzard of Holton was the winner at $8,460, the Snyders were relieved.

Mrs. Blizzard is a longtime friend who formed a group of about 10 persons within two days to bid on the Snyder property. She said it will be sold back to them whenever they wish.

The Snyders actually owed $3,023 in taxes and penalties. The amount bid above that will be returned to them and then to the group headed by Mrs. Blizzard.

About 100 supporters ringed IRS OFFICERS AS THEY ANNOUNCED RESULTS OF THE SALE. The federal agents' refusal to specify the low bid they set for the sale sparked the only outcry.

"Oh, that's not fair," Mrs. Snyder shouted. Her goateed husband hugged her and said quietly, "It's been cool so far. Let's keep it."

After the sale about 40 persons gathered at the Snyder home and celebrated with coffee, doughnuts and baked beans they bought for the gathering.

Mrs. Snyder insisted she and her husband never wavered in their opposition to war although, she said, "we were called Communists" and "we did lose some friends — people who no longer want to associate with us because of this."

The Snyders said it was the Cambodia invasion of 1971 that changed them from "hard-working Republicans" to tax evaders.

SOO LOCKS OPEN ALL YEAR

Tanker's Passing A Milestone

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — The 384-foot tanker Saturn passed through the Soo Locks at 6:46 p.m. EST Wednesday, marking the first time the locks have been open for year-around shipping.

The Saturn, owned by the Cleveland Tanker Co., fought its way through the ice-clogged St. Mary River to narrowly beat the U.S. Steel vessel Avery for the honor of being the first to pass the locks in the 1975 season. The Saturn was bound from Cleveland to Taconite, Minn., to pick up a cargo of iron ore.

The last ship of the 1974 season through the locks was the 730-foot Frontenac of the Canada Steamship Line, which made the trip Wednesday morning. The season began at 1 p.m. on April 2, 1974, when the U.S. Steel ship R. Bruce Angus made the passage.

Traditionally, the locks have closed about mid-December because of heavy ice. But in 1968, the season was extended with the help of Coast Guard icebreakers, and it has gotten longer every year.

Col. James Hayes of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said something new has been learned every year of the extended winter navigation program.

Some 9.13 million tons of cargo passed through the locks during the extended part of the season, bringing the season's total to nearly 102 million tons for the entire 1974 season.

Israeli Premier Sees No War

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Premier Yitzhak Rabin says Israel is "militarily in good shape" and able to defend itself against attack. But he doubts a new Middle East war is imminent despite the breakdown of U.S. peace efforts.

He added in an interview with The Associated Press that he does not envision any Middle East solution coming out of the impending Geneva conference; that Israel believes the United States will fulfill its obligations to the Jewish state under previous agreements, and that the Arab economic boycott, while potentially dangerous, has as yet had little impact on his country.

He also said Israel still refuses to negotiate with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), which the Arab nations have designated the representative of the Palestine people.

Referring to the announcement by President Anwar Sadat of Egypt that the Suez Canal will be reopened June 5, the 53-year-old premier said the Soviet Union stands to gain more than anyone else because its naval operations in the Middle East will be helped.

"I don't see how the Russian navy will be prevented from crossing the canal once the canal is reopened," Rabin said. Asked if this posed a new threat in the Mideast, his only reply was:

"I prefer that the Red Sea will remain the Red Sea in name, and not filled with Red navy units."

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's peace initiative was suspended when talks broke down, Rabin said, and Israel is "very sorry" about the U.S. decision to halt arms negotiations until Washington reassessed its Middle East policy. But no parallel should be drawn between Israel's dependence on U.S. arms and the withdrawal of American military support in Indochina.

Following are excerpts from the 75-minute interview:

Q: Considering recent events such as the failure of the Kissinger mission and President Sadat's statements, how do you assess the Middle East now?

A: I see what happened as an effort to move from war to peace that for the time being has been suspended. Judging from the Egyptian position...they keep all options open — the use of force, continuation of the efforts to bring about an interim settlement with Israel, and the convening of the Geneva Conference...

In addition to that the Egyptians decided to reopen the Suez Canal. Allow me to say that I don't consider it as a gift toward Israel. Israel is not going to gain anything from the reopening of the Suez Canal. The only country that is going to gain is Egypt, because they will get a revenue that they did not have for the last eight years.

Four Found Slain In Waterford

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The bodies of three men and a woman were found Wednesday shot to death in a home in nearby Waterford Township following an execution-style slaying, police said.

Officers said the victims were lying face down in a back room and had been shot in the back of the head.

Sgt. Phil Bowser of the Waterford Township Police said the house had been ransacked in an apparent search for drugs.

The names of the victims were not immediately known.

He added in an interview with The Associated Press that he does not envision any Middle East solution coming out of the impending Geneva conference; that Israel believes the United States will fulfill its obligations to the Jewish state under previous agreements, and that the Arab economic boycott, while potentially dangerous, has as yet had little impact on his country.

He also said Israel still refuses to negotiate with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), which the Arab nations have designated the representative of the Palestine people.

Referring to the announcement by President Anwar Sadat of Egypt that the Suez Canal will be reopened June 5, the 53-year-old premier said the Soviet Union stands to gain more than anyone else because its naval operations in the Middle East will be helped.

"I don't see how the Russian navy will be prevented from crossing the canal once the canal is reopened," Rabin said. Askad if this posed a new threat in the Mideast, his only reply was:

"I prefer that the Red Sea will remain the Red Sea in name, and not filled with Red navy units."

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's peace initiative was suspended when talks broke down, Rabin said, and Israel is "very sorry" about the U.S. decision to halt arms negotiations until Washington reassessed its Middle East policy. But no parallel should be drawn between Israel's dependence on U.S. arms and the withdrawal of American military support in Indochina.

Following are excerpts from the 75-minute interview:

Q: Considering recent events such as the failure of the Kissinger mission and President Sadat's statements, how do you assess the Middle East now?

A: I see what happened as an effort to move from war to peace that for the time being has been suspended. Judging from the Egyptian position...they keep all options open — the use of force, continuation of the efforts to being about an interim settlement with Israel, and the convening of the Geneva Conference...

In addition to that the Egyptians decided to reopen the Suez Canal. Allow me to say that I don't consider it as a gift toward Israel. Israel is not going to gain anything from the reopening of the Suez Canal. The only country that is going to gain is Egypt, because they will get a revenue that they did not have for the last eight years.

Four Found Slain In Waterford

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The bodies of three men and a woman were found Wednesday shot to death in a home in nearby Waterford Township following an execution-style slaying, police said.

Officers said the victims were lying face down in a back room and had been shot in the back of the head.

Sgt. Phil Bowser of the Waterford Township Police said the house had been ransacked in an apparent search for drugs.

FISCHER LOSES BY DEFAULT

Russian Awarded Chess Crown

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — The International Chess Federation awarded Bobby Fischer's world chess crown to the young Soviet grandmaster Anatoly Karpov by default today after Fischer failed to send word he would play the Russian challenger under rules voted by the federation.

The action by FIDE (Federation Internationale des Echecs) was expected. Fischer's acceptance or rejection of the rules was due in Amsterdam by midnight Tuesday, but FIDE president Max Euwe of the Netherlands extended the deadline for 24 hours on the slight chance that the eccentric American would not pass up his chance to win $3,175,000. However, Euwe announced Wednesday that if the second deadline passed and Fischer did not accept, the title would go to Karpov.

Fischer has kept himself away from newsmen for some time and his whereabouts are a mystery. But a chess expert close to him said on Tuesday that he felt his principles were at stake and he would not relent.

Fischer told FIDE last spring that he would not play Karpov and would resign his championship unless it met two rules demands for the match, which was to have opened in Manila in June.

One was that victory would go to the first player winning 10 games, that there would be no limit on the number of games played, and that draws would not count. His second demand was for the defending champion to be declared the winner if the match reached a 9-9 tie.

FIDE at first rejected both demands, voting instead to put a 36-game limit on the match with victory going to the man in the lead. But when it realized that Fischer — the man who made chess a million-dollar attraction — probably would bow out, it agreed to the no-limit rule but not to the other.

"It's tragic for Fischer, for chess in the world and for Karpov," said Col. E. B. Edmondson, the director of the U.S. Chess Federation when it became apparent Tuesday that Fischer would not defend his title.

"Poor Fischer won't have his title; Karpov will have a paper title, and the world won't have its match. We're all losers," Edmondson added.

Fischer was 29 and the youngest champion ever when he won the title from Boris Spassky of the Soviet Union on September 1, 1972. The new champion, Karpov, is only 23.

Both were youthful grandmasters — Fischer at 15 and Karpov at 19.

Fischer's victory at Reykjavik, Iceland, ended 25 years of Soviet possession of the world title. And the young American's headline-making antics and temperamental outbursts coupled with his remarkable skill made chess big money around the world after years in polite obscurity.

The match in Iceland was followed with avidity by millions who hadn't the remotest idea what was happening on the chess board. But millions took up the game, and the sale of sets and books boomed.

The Philippine government's offer of $5 million in prize money for the Fischer-Karpov match was an indication of what Fischer did for the game. Before the Reykjavik match, the winner of nine champs94 ,ffdot a few thousand dollars.

The prize money made no difference to the long string of Soviet champions since their government subsidized them and probably would have confiscated the purses if they had been sizable. But Fischer, after much talk about how much the championship would be worth to him, went into seclusion and never played another public match after he won the title.

The Soviets have been grooming Karpov since 1972 as the player to bring the title back to Moscow. But the young wizard was a long shot against Fischer.

After grueling zone and interzone tournaments, he entered the candidates' round matches and defeated another Russian, Lev Polugaevski, 3-0 with five draws in the quarterfinals. Karpov then dispatched Spassky in the semifinals 4-1 with six ties.

In the finals of the candidates' tournament Karpov appeared to falter. After taking a three-game advantage over Viktor Korchnoi, also of the Soviet Union, Karpov lost two games before winning 3-2 with 19 draws. Some American students of the game contended that Korchnoi's two wins were rigged in an attempt to put Fischer off his guard.

Stalled Trucker Ends Up In Jail

A driver whose truck ran off snow-clogged I-94 early today was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon, according to state police of the Benton Harbor post.

Booked at the county jail was Charles Harris Herron, 34, of Jackson, Tenn. A .38 caliber revolver was seized, troopers said.

Trooper Ron Olson reported that Herron was arrested at 4:20 a.m. after a truck he was driving ran off I-94 at a rest area near Coloma.

Troopers said another man was arrested Wednesday morning on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon after a stolen .38 caliber revolver and a .25 caliber automatic pistol were found.

Cecil Laverne Hemingway, 26, of Michigan City, Ind., was booked at the county jail after he was stopped on I-94 at Pipestone road. Troopers said he was stopped for driving with yellow headlights.

Connally Trial Gets Underway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecutors in the John B. Connally bribery trial, after hearing their star witness described by the defense as a liar and a thief, are preparing to present their first evidence.

Edward Bennett Williams, chief defense lawyer for former Treasury Secretary Connally, said Wednesday he would prove that Connally's old friend, Jake Jacobsen, embezzled for himself the $10,000 he swears he gave to Connally.

But Assistant Special Prosecutor Jon Sale said he would show the jury a trail of bank records, hotel receipts, a chartered plane log and official appointment calendars that will prove Jacobsen is now telling the truth and that he was lying when he swore repeatedly in 1973 and 1974 that Connally took no money.

The prosecution begins presenting evidence today with Agriculture Department economist Don Paarlberg expectad to testify. Testimony from Jacobsen isn't expected until at least next week.

Connally is accused of taking two $5,000 gifts from Jacobsen as an illegal "thank-you" from AMPI for Connally's help in urging former President Richard Nixon to raise milk prices in 1971. Jacobsen represented Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy co-op.

Wednesday's opening statements came after a predominantly middle-class, middle-aged jury of seven women and five men was seated. Reflecting Washington's population, there are only three whites on the panel, two of them male.

As spelled out by defense and prosecution, the jury will hear two directly conflicting stories about the alleged bribe money.

Undisputed is the fact that Jacobsen approached a milk producer official, lobbyist Bob A. Lilly, after Nixon raised price supports in early 1971 and told Lilly he needed $10,000 to offer to Connally.

But there the stories diverge.

Williams told the jury he would show that Jacobsen "never told anyone in the world that Connally had turned the money down. He kept it..... He converted it to his own use ... he embezzled the money. That's what the evidence will show."

However, Sale said what really happened is that Connally, after helping get Nixon to raise price supports, hit up Jacobsen for money.

White House Employes Get New 'Ethical' Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has had a new ethical code drawn up for all White House employes and they have been asked to attend 90-minute briefing sessions to assure they understand it.

The eight-page code spells out ethical concepts and legal restrictions in such areas as conflicts of interests, acceptance of gifts, political activities and contact with regulatory agencies.

After the code and a packet of federal statutes were distributed to White House employes, staffers were asked to attend one of several 90-minute briefings initiated by chief of staff Donald Rumsfeld and the White House counsel's office. Rumsfeld has spoken at some of the briefings.

Most of the 600 White House staffers have attended one of the briefings, Jerry Jones, staff assistant to Ford, said. Another briefing will be held for the rest, about 100, he said.

Jones said that there has always been a written standard of conduct for White House staffers, but that many portions of it were vague and had to be rewritten.

"Everyone is terribly concerned about this, given what we've gone through in the last three years," Jones said in a reference to the Watergate scandal.

Discussing the code that existed during the administration of President Richard M. Nixon, Jones said, "A lot wasn't made of it. We've tried to bring it more to staffers' attention."

Connally Trial Gets Underway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecutors in the John B. Connally bribery trial, after hearing their star witness described by the defense as a liar and a thief, are preparing to present their first evidence.

Edward Bennett Williams, chief defense lawyer for former Treasury Secretary Connally, said Wednesday he would prove that Connally's old friend, Jake Jacobsen, embezzled for himself the $10,000 he swears he gave to Connally.

But Assistant Special Prosecutor Jon Sale said he would show the jury a trail of bank records, hotel receipts, a chartered plane log and official appointment calendars that will prove Jacobsen is now telling the truth and that he was lying when he swore repeatedly in 1973 and 1974 that Connally took no money.

The prosecution begins presenting evidence today with Agriculture Department economist Don Paarlberg expectad to testify. Testimony from Jacobsen isn't expected until at least next week.

Connally is accused of taking two $5,000 gifts from Jacobsen as an illegal "thank-you" from AMPI for Connally's help in urging former President Richard Nixon to raise milk prices in 1971. Jacobsen represented Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy co-op.

Wednesday's opening statements came after a predominantly middle-class, middle-aged jury of seven women and five men was seated. Reflecting Washington's population, there are only three whites on the panel, two of them male.

As spelled out by defense and prosecution, the jury will hear two directly conflicting stories about the alleged bribe money.

Undisputed is the fact that Jacobsen approached a milk producer official, lobbyist Bob A. Lilly, after Nixon raised price supports in early 1971 and told Lilly he needed $10,000 to offer to Connally.

But there the stories diverge.

Williams told the jury he would show that Jacobsen "never told anyone in the world that Connally had turned the money down. He kept it.... He converted it to his own use ... he embezzled the money. That's what the evidence will show."

However, Sale said what really happened is that Connally, after helping get Nixon to raise price supports, hit up Jacobsen for money.

White House Employes Get New 'Ethical' Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has had a new ethical code drawn up for all White House employes and they have been asked to attend 90-minute briefing sessions to assure they understand it.

The eight-page code spells out ethical concepts and legal restrictions in such areas as conflicts of interests, acceptance of gifts, political activities and contact with regulatory agencies.

After the code and a packet of federal statutes were distributed to White House employes, staffers were asked to attend one of several 90-minute briefings initiated by chief of staff Donald Rumsfeld and the White House counsel's office. Rumsfeld has spoken at some of the briefings.

Most of the 600 White House staffers have attended one of the briefings, Jerry Jones, staff assistant to Ford, said. Another briefing will be held for the rest, about 100, he said.

Jones said that there has always been a written standard of conduct for White House staffers, but that many portions of it were vague and had to be rewritten.

"Everyone is terribly concerned about this, given what we've gone through in the last three years," Jones said in a reference to the Watergate scandal.

Discussing the code that existed during the administration of President Richard M. Nixon, Jones said, "A lot wasn't made of it. We've tried to bring it more to staffers' attention."

Benton Dryer Inventor Hunts A Manufacturer

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

John Glowacki, of 425 North Euclid avenue, Benton township, decided there must be a better way of drying clothes than a tumbling commercial dryer.

So in 1970 he invented his own "collapsible dryer" and had it patented. Glowacki says his dryer saves wear and tear on clothes and is relatively cheap to produce.

But he's still seeking a manufacturer.

Glowacki's dryer employs a hollow metal tree with hooks for clothes which can be arranged on hangers. The unit is enclosed in a heat-resistant cloth tent. A motor, which could be electric, gas or battery powered, would blow hot air through the hollow tubes and through a series of holes arranged near the hooks.

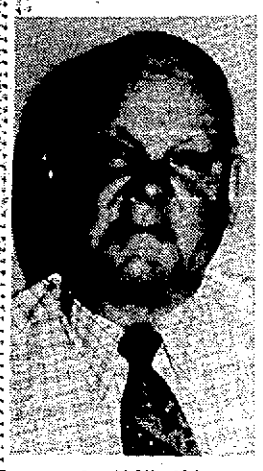

The hot air would "fluff" the clothes rather than tumble them, Glowacki said.

The dryer would also save energy, by using normal house current rather than 220-volt; and save space because the hollow tree is "collapsible" and folds down. Glowacki estimates that the entire dryer would weigh about 25 pounds, and could be mass produced for about $50.

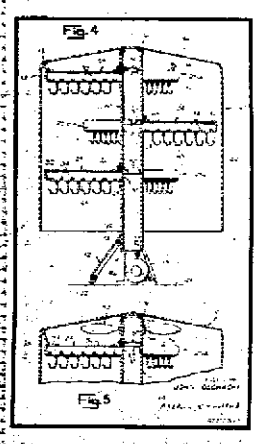

Several companies have expressed interest in the dryer and one in California has offered to make a working model of the machine. However, no company has yet stated a willingness to produce it, a fault Glowacki blames on the current recession in which most companies are reluctant to produce a new line of products.

Glowacki said he will continue to try to sell the idea to appliance manufacturing companies. He also said he has several other inventions in mind he will get underway "once this one gets off the ground."

Glowacki is retired after sustaining a disability.

DETROIT PAIR WED

Love Overcomes Official Red Tape

DETROIT (AP) — A pair of Detroit teenagers are to become husband and wife Friday, thanks to two judges and the American Civil Liberties Union, which stepped in Wednesday after a county clerk's office employe refused the pair a marriage license.

The license to James Giganic, 17, and Deborah Vargas, 18, was refused because of a murky state law. The statute says girls between the ages of 16 and 18 must have parental consent to marry, but says nothing about boys of the same age.

County spokesman said boys in the age bracket are denied permission to marry, even with parental consent, on the grounds the legislature would have specifically stated its intention to let them marry had it wished to do so.

"I couldn't believe it," said Patricia Giganic, mother of the intended groom. "I thought it was some kind of April Fool's joke."

Gordon Giganic, the boy's father, found he was powerless in the matter, so called the ACLU, which, along with the judges, did Cupid's work.

Kathleen Smith, an ACLU official, said she was shocked to learn that 17-year-old males can marry only if the girl is pregnant or if the couple already live together.

She contended because James could not marry, he was denied equal protection under the law.

"He can drive and fire a tank as Jim does in the U.S. Army and he can be tried for a crime as an adult, but he can't get married," she protested.

ACLU attorney David Eason convinced Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James Montante to order the county clerk to issue the license and Probate Court Judge Ernest C. Boehm waived the traditional three-day waiting period so the Friday wedding could take place as scheduled.

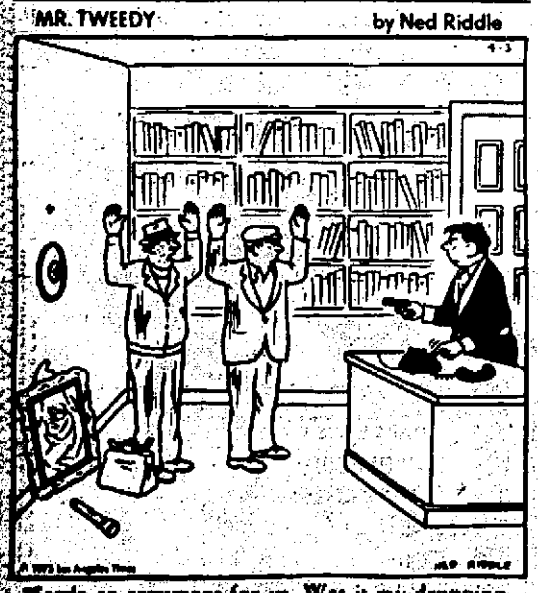

Clerk James Killeen said he did not now whether Montante's ruling, which affects only James and Debbie, will result in a change in office policy.

Brewers Cut Use Of Rice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breweries which have been using large quantities of rice for making premium quality beer are using less of that grain these days and are turning to lower-priced corn grits, the Agriculture Department says.

Only two major breweries use rice to any degree, Anheuser-Busch of St. Louis and Coors of Golden, Colo., an Agriculture Department expert said.

HURON HARBINGER: The first ship of 1975 bringing cement to the Huron Cement Division slipped into St. Joseph at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, just 15 minutes behind schedule. The 456-foot Paul H. Townsend of the National Gypsum Co. fleet brought 7,543 tons of cement to be stored in the company's silos in St. Joseph. The Townsend's captain, Robert Stone, reported no difficulty with ice at the straits in the trip from Alpena. (Staff photo)

Knife-Wielding Bandits Rob Blind Man, 50

A 50 - year - old blind man was robbed at his home Wednesday afternoon by two bandits who posed as employes of the Benton Harbor housing commission.

Phil Hubbard, 50, of McCord street public housing apartments told Benton Harbor police he allowed two men to enter his apartment at about 3:30 p.m. Hubbard said they wanted to check his plumbing because of plumbing problems in the next apartment.

Hubbard and one of the bandits went to an upstairs bathroom, where he was threatened with a knife and robbed of $25.

The other bandit stayed downstairs with Hubbard's wife. The bandit got a knife from the kitchen and took $8 and a watch from Mrs. Hubbard's purse.

Patrolman Steve Hansen said there were no injuries, the bandits threatened to return if the robbery was reported to police.

Benton Harbor police said this robbery may be related to two robberies which occurred Saturday. Three bandits entered two homes and robbed and assaulted two occupants.

A Benton township furniture store was robbed Monday by three bandits, but city and township police said the robbery of Plangger's furniture store does not appear to be connected with the others.

The bandits who robbed the Hubbards were not employes of the housing commission.

Subpoena Issued In Church Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — In a rarely used tactic, a subpoena has been issued for the presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church to testify at a forthcoming ecclesiastical trial in Washington, D.C., it was learned today.

The subpoena was directed to the Rt. Rev. John M. Allin, of New York, by defense counsel in a case that is shaping up as the first legal test in a broiling controversy over ordination of women.

Ask Your Dentist

By ALFRED E. SEYLER, D.D.S.

Q. Some of my child's permanent teeth are coming in crooked. What do I do? E.S.

A. See your dentist to determine if anything should be done now. Two of the more common reasons are the early loss of baby teeth and insufficient development of the jawbones. Your dentist might recommend you consult and orthodontist, a dentist who specializes in correcting crooked teeth, or he may advice you to wait until nature has time to help the situation through normal growth and development of the jaws.

* * * * *

Q. My parents have bad teeth. Will I have them too? C.M.

A. Not necessarily. The quality of your teeth depends on many factors such as diet, brushing and fluoridated water. Take care of your teeth and don't blame your parents if you have cavities.

* * * * *

Q. I have been told to remove my dentures at night, but I'm afraid it's going to affect my sex life. S.Y.

A. It should not effect your sex life at all. If you've worried, give yourself and your dentures a rest during the day.

* * * * *

A. Not if their diet is natural for a pet and contains hard, coarse foods. Brushing may be necessary if soft foods are the diet. For a nice smile, better ask your veterinarian.

* * * * *

Q. My teeth have had a stain recently and a hygienist said it might be caused by the fact that I drink a lot of tea. I don't think so. I do not smoke. J.C.

A. She's right. Many foods and food products contain chemicals which can stain teeth. Tea has such chemicals, as do coffee and wines.

* * * * *

A. You bet. For years I have been advocating that people brush their tongue at the same time as they brush their teeth. Use a forceful forward stroke with the brush, with or without toothpaste.

* * * * *

Q. I have trouble chewing and swallowing with my new dentures. It is very embarrassing. What can I do? F.F.

A. It takes time for the tissues and muscles of the mouth to adjust to new dentures, and that can vary from person to person. It also takes determination. In time, your muscles will adjust and they'll seem to fit and feel better. Because difficulty in chewing is usual at first, eat foods that need little chewing and work gradually into foods which are more difficult to chew. You'll make it!

* * * * *

Q. When should I first take my child to the dentist? M.E.

A. If you are a good patient, it may be a good idea to take your 2-year-old along when you have an appointment. If the dentist is agreeable, have the youngster sit on a small chair in the operatory so he can see the things a dentist does to a patient. When your child has all of his primary teeth — somewhere around 3 years of age — he should be ready for an appointment of his own.

Vietnam TV Special Is A Race Of 'Up-Dating'

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last Thursday, as thousands of Hue refugees fled for what they thought was safety in Da Nang, Les Midgley got the go-ahead for an April 8 CBS News special on the conflict in Southeast Asia.

This week, as he talked about the special, Da Nang was in North Vietnamese hands, as well as the coastal cities of Qui Nhon and Nha Trang and two other cities within 100 miles east of Saigon were being abandoned.

Midgley, in charge of the CBS special, "Indochina 1975: The End of the Road?", would seem to have an impossible task of keeping the show updated amid fast-moving developments both in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

But he says if sudden events don't require a hurried special this week in addition to the one to be aired next Tuesday night, "then a week is a lot of time for me," even on such a complex story.

Midgley, who has produced CBS News specials for 20 years, says a Middle East news program originally was planned to air on CBS next Tuesday, but was bumped because of the worsening Vietnam situation.

He said the day he got the green light for the Indochina special, he ordered CBS newsman Bob Simon, two producers and a cameraman to immediately fly from their London base to Saigon.

They arrived there Sunday, and promptly began work along with newsman Murray Fromson, who already was in Saigon and was detached with a camera crew from his daily news chores to also work on the program.

In New York, veteran CBS correspondent Charles Collingwood, who has covered the Indochina story on and off since the mid-1950s, was assigned as anchorman of the one-hour special.

"We have to do a program which in a way is like a magazine cover story," said Midgley, meaning the show will cover not only breaking news but also provide background and analysis of the war in Southeast Asia.

It means, he said, that the program's reporters "have to do more work, more interviews and provide more background than they ever possibly could get in the daily news shows" because of time limits.

He said while Collingwood is writing analyses of how the war began, how America became involved in it and the major turning points of the war, other CBS staffers are busy culling appropriate film clips taken in this and previous wars to illustrate points made in the show.

He said new film stories for the special — they'll be shipped by jet from Saigon to New York — will cover such topics as the massive refugee problem created by the latest North Vietnamese advances, the political situation in Vietnam, the mood of Saigon and the state of South Vietnam's remaining military forces.

Next Tuesday, if need be, last-minute film will be shipped from Saigon to Hong Kong for satellite transmission even after the usual late-afternoon satellite "feed" for scheduled evening news shows.

He Declined, But The Voters Ruled Otherwise

NORTH PRAIRIE, Wis. (AP) — Wayne Broesamle was awakened late Tuesday and told he had been re-elected president of this rural village.

That was news to Broesamle, who had said he would never serve again. But he received 185 votes, more than any of the other 67 write-in candidates, and said he would return to office.

"I guess I really didn't have a good reason" not to run, Broesamle acknowledged.

World Relies On American Water

EDITOR'S NOTE — Delegates from the 50 states gather in Washington this month to talk about the nation's water supply. The world has reached a point where water and international politics mingle. What happens, for example, if severe drought hits the United States, the world's largest supplier of wheat? Following is the second of two articles on the world's water situation.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Hundreds of millions of people around the world, most without knowing it, are heavily dependent on continuing American weather, good fortune, and now some scientists say that luck may not hold out much longer.

As world nations take new and hard looks at their fresh water resources, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) warns that whims of weather could mean disaster. A severe weather setback, like a drought, in the United States would have heavy impact, because Americans are the world's largest wheat exporters.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says if good weather prevails into this fall, record corn and wheat crops can help recovery from severe stocks reserves depletion in recent years. But world population is growing rapidly.

Dr. J. Mitchell Murray of the U.S. Environmental Data Service and Dr. James McQuigg, director of the Center for Climatic Environmental Assessment, agree that American luck with weather has been extraordinary for 15 years and thus see a likelihood that the benevolent period is about to end. "We've been extraordinarily lucky because the weather in major crop growing areas of the United States has been uniformly good for many years — so uniformly good that it's almost a fluke," says Dr. Murray. "To make plans as if the climate were going to continue stable and favorable to U.S. agriculture would be absolutely irresponsible."

Statistics suggest drought every 20 years or so, and Dr. Murray says he's concerned, without being able to prove it, that there might be another cycle coming.

"I see circumstantial evidence for it," he says. "If there is a cycle, it's about time for us to have more drought."

Such possibilities impart a note of urgency to forthcoming water conferences. A U.N.sponsored world meeting is planned in Buenos Aires in 1977, to be preceded by regional sessions. In the United States, delegates from all 50 states and foreign observers meet April 22-24 in Washington.

"We want to start moving in earnest before it's too late, because if we don't, the consequences can be painful in the United States and elsewhere," says a spokesman for the U.S. Water Resources Council, a cabinet-level body.

Among other things, nations want to define their manifold and complex problems. Constantly increasing quantities of industrial, agricultural, biological and military wastes steadily poison fresh water resources. Fertilizers and pesticides that increase food production also contaminate ground water, as does waste from big cattle populations. Competition for fresh water resources rises constantly.

The nations need to weigh new approaches and concepts, costs and priorities, technologies, education of large users in the avoidance of waste; especially in developing countries, and whether the ever-rising demand for fresh water can be reversed, among many other problems.

THE UNITED STATES

Although Americans face many sticky problems, they are better off with regard to water than 85 per cent of the world's nations. But water costs may soon be soaring for Americans.

Water management in the United States involves a multiplicity of legal entanglements, state laws, concepts and philosophies concerning rights and conflicting interests.

The forthcoming Washington conference will be regarded as an important step toward the first attempt by a large, qualified group to examine the national picture as a whole.

A recent National Water Commission report noted that demands of fresh water are increasing rapidly and added that "society cannot have all of everything it would like."

This suggested that some day resources may have to be apportioned for maximum beneficial return. One way of decreasing demand would be by a price mechanism whereby high cost would insure its being put to the most economic uses.

EUROPE

The nine European Common Market members have a 10-year program to attack waste disposal, industrial pollution and other questions.

Many millions of Europeans drink water after chemical purification. The West Germans, after spending more than $4 billion in five years to purify rivers, principally the Rhine, succeeded only in keeping pollution from getting worse.

East and West European scientists, worried about drought prospects, met in Berlin in February and noted that weather changes in the next 10 years could cause major crop failures in the northern Hemisphere.

SOVIET UNION

Some American experts credit the Russians with paying more attention to global water problems than any others, possibly because they occupy so much land. The Russians have concentrated on cleaning up rivers and reservoirs and have had notable success in rescuing magnificent Lake Baikal in Siberia.

MIDDLE EAST

The Biblical River Jordan and Sea of Galilee are heavily polluted. Israeli experts, says the world Environment Report published by the Center for International Environmental Information, fear irreversible damage and urge rapid action.

Dr. Robert Clark of the Office of Hydrology in Washington says Egypt's Aswan High Dam is a "scientific mistake." It has provided dependable flow and stored water for irrigation and reclamation and for hydroelectric power. But, scientists say, the Aswan, in a high evaporation area, will affect water resources along the Blue and White Niles. It will also, they say, end Egypt's Mediterranean fishing industry, increase snail-carrying diseases and rob Egypt of 50 million tons of fertile silt that the Nile had dropped annually in flood.

Algeria, however, is going forward with a dam project it hopes will raise a green barrier of reforestation to slow the steady advance of the sahara and even alter climate in the area along the desert's edge.

DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Scientists say there are boundless resources of fresh water deep under Africa's deserts, but that continent needs both money and will.

Developing countries now depend on rainfall for half their farm production. Thus, when rain fails, it means calamity. Africa's Sahel, a belt bordering the Sahara, has suffered long spells of drought that brought suffering and death to millions.

ASIA

Asia's always growing population means expanding food needs. This will require more effective use of flood waters and more storage facilities than now available. India, Pakistan and Bangladesh, along with Egypt, have asked rich nations and world organizations to provide up to $4 billion annually for seeking new water sources and improving conservation.

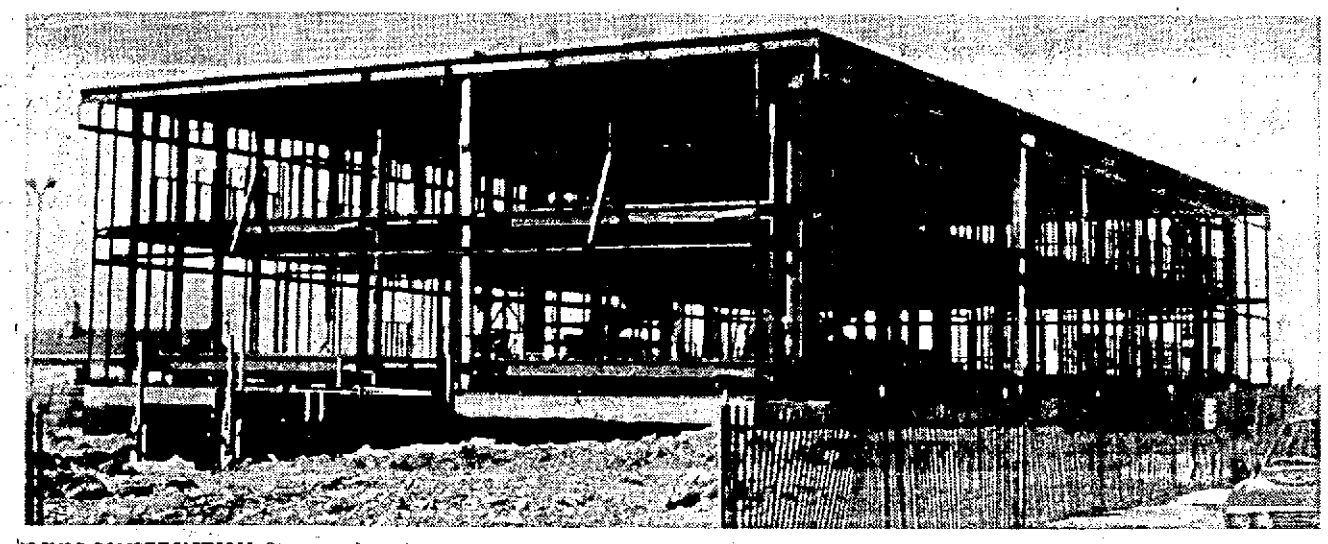

Iran has ambitious plans for using oil money on water programs.

China has sunk millions of pump wells and is building millions of reservoirs. She is still far short of taming her rivers, including the Yellow, whose raging floods earned the name of China's Sorrow.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE

Haiti provides an example of what misuse of land can cause. Haiti's subsurface water reserves are dangerously low after two centuries of neglect, primitive agriculture and deforestation, and she has made only a feeble start on remedies.

In Brazil, exploitation threatens even the Amazon jungle. The Brazilian Congress of Botanists has warned that the heavy destruction of forests may one day make the Amazon jungle arid.

CLINIC CONSTRUCTION: Structural steel is going up for Twin City Medical Clinic of Southwestern Michigan on Lester avenue, off Niles avenue, in south St. Joseph. Costing $1 million, clinic will house professional corporation of physicians and surgeons. Clinic is being built by Health Care Industries, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., a subsdiary of Bank Building Corp. (Walter M. Booth photo)

Massive Babylift Begins

First Viet Orphans Arrive

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Their eyes wide with wonder and showing no ill effects from a 25-hour dash across the Pacific from endangered Saigon, 55 Vietnamese orphans have arrived to a new life in the United States.

A World Airways DC8 carrying the orphans touched down at Oakland International Airport at about 10:50 p.m. Wednesday. Most of the children, including some fathered by American servicemen, have already been adopted.

One of them, a pretty 11-year-old named Wendy Carol, will be the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norberg of Los Angeles.

Also aboard the jet were half dozen Vietnamese adults who scrambled aboard the plane at the last moment without papers.

Two of the orphans were left at the U.S. Air Force base at Yokota, Japan, on the advice of one of the two doctors on board the plane, Gene Hilderbrand of the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital in Saigon.

"They were malnourished and dehydrated and I didn't want to risk them on the long hop across the Pacific to the States," Hilderbrand said. "We'll leave them in Japan a couple of days."

The youngsters brought on to Oakland are the first real refugees of the Vietnam war to arrive in the United States, and U.S. Immigration officials gave all of them 90-day parole visas. The few children not already adopted were given indefinite parole visas.

The plane's captain was Ken Healy of San Leandro, Calif., who flew refugees in collapsing cities in mainland China in the late 1940's and who says Vietnam today is worse.

Also aboard was an American contractor who heard the plane was leaving packed and got aboard in only 15 minutes. He said he was convinced Saigon soon would fall into Communist hands.

World Airways also expected some problems with the Federal Aviation Administration because it broke a lot of federal regulations in carrying the orphans on a seatless cargo jet. Children and adult attendants sat on the floor for the 25-hour journey and it looked like the hold of a ship.

Healy said, "I don't care if I lose my license. It would be a cheap price to pay to bring these kids from danger to their American families."

Mary Fisher of Loma Linda, Calif., who was bringing back six of the orphans to their waiting adopted parents, told a Federal Aviation Administration official who inspected the plane at its first stop in Japan: "This is the most comfortable and friendly journey I have ever been on."

One orphanage refused to send 400 children, and World Airways said the U.S. Embassy had advised the orphanage against the flight. The Embassy says the orphanage pulled out on its own, because the DC8 was heatless and not pressurized.

Actually, the plane was warm and pressurized. The only real danger was in landing, takeoffs and occasional turbulence.

Several American adult volunteers and the plane's crew sat with the babies on these occasions, and none were even bumped.

The excitement of the journey, the first outside the Saigon area for the children, meant multiple diaper changes for many of them.

"Hell, it's diaper changing time already," said World Airways vice president Charles Patterson as he carried one child on board at Saigon.

After the plane landed here, the youngsters were bundled aboard five buses and taken across San Francisco Bay to the Presidio, an Army facility in the city of San Francisco close by the Golden Gate Bridge.

A spokesman at the Presidio said most of the children will be there about 48 hours until they are picked up their news parents. He said all of the orphans will be given medical examinations.

The orphans, most of them from about two months old to two years old, slept soundly through the night hours of the flight. But in the sunlight of the mid-Pacific, the jet plane's cabin came alive.

Those who could walk charged up and down the length of the cabin. Those who could crawl pulled themselves up to the windows and watched the wisps of white clouds over the blue Pacific far below.

Stewardesses handed out crayons and some of the kids drew pictures of what they thought their new moms and dads would look like. Those old enough to talk chatted happily in Vietnamese about their new parents.

Adding to the picnic atmosphere of the flight was a constant food service of milk and fruit juices for the youngest children and crackers, rice, bananas and sandwiches for the older children.

The frightened little orphans who had boarded at Saigon were, by flight's end, in America, a laughing, confident group.

Nation Energy Use Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only two of five causes which contributed to a decline in U.S. energy use last year seem certain to continue for the next year or more.

But despite this outlook, Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said Wednesday he hopes the lower energy consumption figures for 1974 mean "we are seeing the start of a new trend."

The Bureau of Mines announced that energy use dropped 2.2 per cent from 1973. It was the first drop in annual consumption since 1952.

Morton cited the Arab oil embargo, higher prices, economic slowdown, conservation efforts and relatively mild winter weather as the five principal causes of the decrease.

Of these, only higher prices and conservation efforts seem certain to continue. And even conservation at the individual level may prove difficult to sustain.

HEART'S IN SAIGON: New York City druggist Ben Kolinsky displays an album containing pictures of his adopted daughter, South Vietnamese orphan Nguyen Thi My Buong at his pharmacy in the Bronx Wednesday. Kolinsky, his wife and their three boys have been wondering how to get the girl, now in Saigon, to the United States. (AP Wirephoto)

State Mobilizes To Help Orphans

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan is mobilizing to receive hundreds of Vietnam War orphans while a parents group scrambles to make arrangements to fly the children out of Saigon.

Gov. William Milliken announced Wednesday that the state will waive the normally lengthy procedures for handling foreign orphans to accomodate Vietnamese children as quickly as possible.

The announcement set off an effort by a group called Adoptive Parents of Asian Children to raise the money needed to fly children from Saigon to Detroit.

Nancy Fox of Troy, a member of the group, said some $85,000 is needed for each mercy flight to Vietnam and back. She said speed is essential.

"There's lots of nice talk about what might be done, but we're running out of time," she said. "Right now there are no definite plans. We're trying to make the arrangements."

Milliken said at least 600 Michigan residents already are seeking to adopt foreign children.

He said arrangements have been made for hundreds of foster parents to pick up children at a temporary reception center at the W. J. Maxey Training School at Whitmore Lake near Detroit Metropolitan Airport. It was not known when the youngsters might arrive.

"Our arms are open to these innocent young victims of the Vietnam tragedy, and we are ready to help them live in the peace that their parents never knew," Milliken said in telegrams to President Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

White House sources said they had not received similar requests from other states, according to George Weeks, Milliken's news secretary.

"Our hope is that other states will mobilize, too. The war was a Vietnam and an American tragedy," Weeks said.

Elizabeth Martoni of Airlift for Orphans, which is working on the effort, said she expects 1,300 children to arrive in Detroit on Sunday.

First Viet Orphans Arrive

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Their eyes wide with wonder and showing no ill effects from a 25-hour dash across the Pacific from endangered Saigon, 55 Vietnamese orphans have arrived to a new life in the United States.

A World Airways DC8 carrying the orphans touched down at Oakland International Airport at about 10:50 p.m. Wednesday. Most of the children, including some fathered by American servicemen, have already been adopted.

One of them, a pretty 11-year-old named Wendy Carol, will be the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norberg of Los Angeles.

Also aboard the jet were half dozen Vietnamese adults who scrambled aboard the plane at the last moment without papers.

Two of the orphans were left at the U.S. Air Force base at Yokota, Japan, on the advice of one of the two doctors on board the plane, Gene Hilderbrand of the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital in Saigon.

"They were malnourished and dehydrated and I didn't want to risk them on the long hop across the Pacific to the States," Hilderbrand said. "We'll leave them in Japan a couple of days."

The youngsters brought on to Oakland are the first real refugees of the Vietnam war to arrive in the United States, and U.S. Immigration officials gave all of them 90-day parole visas. The few children not already adopted were given indefinite parole visas.

The plane's captain was Ken Healy of San Leandro, Calif., who flew refugees in collapsing cities in mainland China in the late 1940's and who says Vietnam today is worse.

Also aboard was an American contractor who heard the plane was leaving packed and got aboard in only 15 minutes. He said he was convinced Saigon soon would fall into Communist hands.

World Airways also expected some problems with the Federal Aviation Administration because it broke a lot of federal regulations in carrying the orphans on a seatless cargo jet. Children and adult attendants sat on the floor for the 25-hour journey and it looked like the hold of a ship.

Healy said, "I don't care of I lose my license. It would be a cheap price to pay to bring these kids from danger to their American families."

Mary Fisher of Loma Linda, Calif., who was bringing back six of the orphans to their waiting adopted parents, told a Federal Aviation Administration official who inspected the plane at its first stop in Japan, "This is the most comfortable and friendly journey I have ever been on."

One orphanage refused to send 400 children, and World Airways said the U.S. Embassy had advised the orphanage against the flight. The Embassy says the orphanage pulled out on its own, because the DC8 was heatless and not pressurized.

Actually, the plane was warm and pressurized. The only real danger was in landing, takeoffs and occasional turbulence.

Several American adult volunteers and the plane's crew sat with the babies on these occasions, and none were even bumped.

The excitement of the journey, the first outside the Saigon area for the children, meant multiple diaper changes for many of them.

"Hell, it's diaper changing time already," said World Airways vice president Charles Patterson as he carried one child on board at Saigon.

After the plane landed here, the youngsters were bundled aboard five buses and taken across San Francisco Bay to the Presidio, an Army facility in the city of San Francisco close by the Golden Gate Bridge.

A spokesman at the Presidio said most of the children will be there about 48 hours until they are picked up their news parents. He said all of the orphans will be given medical examinations.

The orphans, most of them from about two months old to two years old, slept soundly through the night hours of the flight. But in the sunlight of the mid-Pacific, the jet plane's cabin came alive.

Those who could walk charged up and down the length of the cabin. Those who could crawl pulled themselves up to the windows and watched the wisps of white clouds over the blue Pacific far below.

Stewardesses handed out crayons and some of the kids drew pictures of what they thought their new moms and dads would look like. Those old enough to talk chatted happily in Vietnamese about their new parents.

Adding to the picnic atmosphere of the flight was a constant food service of milk and fruit juices for the youngest children and crackers, rice, bananas and sandwiches for the older children.

The frightened little orphans who had boarded at Saigon were, by flight's end in America, a laughing, confident group.

Nation Energy Use Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only two of five causes which contributed to a decline in U.S. energy use last year seem certain to continue for the next year or more.

But despite this outlook, Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said Wednesday he hopes the lower energy consumption figures for 1974 mean "we are seeing the start of a new trend."

The Bureau of Mines announced that energy use dropped 2.2 per cent from 1973. It was the first drop in annual consumption since 1952.

Morton cited the Arab oil embargo, higher prices, economic slowdown, conservation efforts and relatively mild winter weather as the five principal causes of the decrease.

Of these, only higher prices and conservation efforts seem certain to continue. And even conservation at the individual level may prove difficult to sustain.

HEART'S IN SAIGON: New York City druggist Ben Kolinsky displays an album containing pictures of his adopted daughter, South Vietnamese orphan Nguyen Thi My Buong at his pharmacy in the Bronx Wednesday. # State Mobilizes To Help Orphans

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan is mobilizing to receive hundreds of Vietnam War orphans while a parents group scrambles to make arrangements to fly the children out of Saigon.

Gov. William Milliken announced Wednesday that the state will waive the normally lengthy procedures for handling foreign orphans to accomodate Vietnamese children as quickly as possible.

The announcement set off an effort by a group called Adoptive Parents of Asian Children to raise the money needed to fly children from Saigon to Detroit.

Nancy Fox of Troy, a member of the group, said some $85,000 is needed for each mercy flight to Vietnam and back. She said speed is essential.

"There's lots of nice talk about what might be done, but we're running out of time," she said. "Right now there are no definite plans. We're trying to make the arrangements."

Milliken said at least 600 Michigan residents already are seeking to adopt foreign children.

He said arrangements have been made for hundreds of foster parents to pick up children at a temporary reception center at the W. J. Maxey Training School at Whitmore Lake near Detroit Metropolitan Airport. It was not known when the youngsters might arrive.

"Our arms are open to these innocent young victims of the Vietnam tragedy, and we are ready to help them live in the peace that their parents never knew," Milliken said in telegrams to President Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

White House sources said they had not received similar requests from other states, according to George Weeks, Milliken's news secretary.

"Our hope is that other states will mobilize, too. The war was a Vietnam and an American tragedy," Weeks said.

Elizabeth Martoni of Airlift for Orphans, which is working on the effort, said she expects 1,300 children to arrive in Detroit on Sunday.

Illinois' Bartow New UCLA Basketball Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Chatting with reporters in a hotel room in 1973, UCLA Athletic Director J.D. Morgan calmly mentioned that he liked the way Memphis State's basketball team played.

He said Memphis players were disciplined and played good defense and he added that he liked the Memphis State coach ... but that his name had slipped Morgan's mind.

That name was Gene Bartow and Wednesday afternoon Morgan officially ended the John Wooden era of basketball by naming Bartow as the new Bruin coach. Morgan said the selection was approved by Chancellor Charles E. Young.

"I regard Gene Bartow as one of the nation's outstanding coaches who is a fine, proven teacher of the sport of basketball," said Morgan. "I am pleased to welcome him as our new basketball coach and look forward to him continuing the great heritage of UCLA basketball."

Thus the Bruins get a coach 20 years younger than the 64 - year - old Wooden, a man who is reportedly just as conservative as was church deacon Wooden; a man who dresses in business suits, teaches the game from the ground up, stresses defense and likes to fast break.

Gary Cunningham, Wooden's No. assistant who took himself out of contention for the job some time ago, said, "Gene is an outstanding person and an outstanding coach and UCLA is a great place for him. I know he has impressed J.D. over the years with the type of person and the type of coach he is."

Wooden, contacted by telephone at his Los Angeles residence, said he also likes what he's seen of Bartow.

"The only time my team played his was for the NCAA championship in 1973. I thought he had a very well-coached team and I know he's very well thought of in the profession," Wooden said.

UCLA won the game 87-66 as Bill Walton made 21 of 22 field goal attempts.

Wooden also said he would help Bartow any way he could, but only if he were asked.

Bartow was released from the last four years of his five-year contract at Illinois. He had become the Illini coach after four successful seasons at Memphis State.

Bartow was a strong choice for the UCLA job from the moment Wooden announced last Saturday he was retiring. The announcement came after the Bruins had beaten Louisville 75-74 in overtime in the NCAA semifinal game at San Diego.

Bartow, who also coached at Valparaiso University in Indiana, holds a 14-year college coaching record of 229-140. He was 8-18 at Illinois this past season, but the school was under NCAA probation for recruiting violations incurred by the previous coach.

Morgan said Bartow will choose his own assistants.

Ailing Lanier Helps Beat Bulls

Pistons Gain Playoffs

Those exclamations were one result of the Detroit Pistons' 97-89 victory over Chicago Wednesday, a triumph which clinched a wild card playoff spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs against Seattle.

But the Pistons, who celebrated with beer rather than champagne, probably feel like South Vietnamese who made it on the last plane out of Da Nang — relieved, but not in a mood to brag.

Not only did Detroit's victory over the Bulls end Milwaukee's playoff chances for only the second time in the Bucks' history, but it also ended the struggling of a Pistons' team that experts predicted would breeze into post-season play.

Last season the Pistons finished with a 52-30 record for a .634 winning average, and then went seven games before losing to the Bulls in the first round of the playoffs.

Ray Scott became Coach of the Year and Detroit was immediately ballyhooed as possible championship timber.

But things just didn't go right this year: Bob Lanier played all season with a bum knee, Dave Bing and Don Adams were holdouts with Adams eventually being cut. Bing then criticized Scott, and the team simply had a hard time winning.

Should the Pistons beat Milwaukee at home Saturday in the regular season finale, they would finish with an even .500 record at 41-41.

"It feels like a big relief," said Lanier, dragging out the word "big" while asking someone to throw him a can of beer. "It feels much better this year than last year because we've been struggling all year. Hopefully we'll be on the upswing going in (to the playoffs) rather than on a downswing like we've been."

Lanier scored a game-high 26 points against Chicago and his seven rebounds put him three over the previous Detroit career record of 4,986 set by Walter Dukes over six seasons.

Howard Porter, a former Bull, came off the bench to play a strong game with 12 rebounds and 18 points, while Curtis Rowe also scored 18 and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Norm VanLier and Tom Boerwinkle topped Chicago with 17 points each.

"We're not as good as the team last year," Scott said. "We're not as deep. But we do have a lot more spirit because we had to come through a lot of reversals to come to this point."

Chicago has had a few reversals of its own lately and is in danger of losing the Midwest Division title to Kansas City-Omaha. The Bulls have lost 13 of their last 19 games and dreams of finishing with the best record in the Western Conference also have about gone down the drain. Golden State has two more victories.

"It really doesn't make a difference who's in the playoffs," Coach Dick Motta said, "because we still have to go through the business of winning ourselves. I think we just blew our chances of winning the conference in this game. The only thing left to shoot for is to win the Midwest Division."

The Pistons expanded a 37-31 halftime lead to 69-55 after three quarters, outscoring the Bulls 17-8 in the last five minutes of the third period.

Chicago pulled within five at one point in the final period but, mostly on the free-throw shooting of John Mengelt, Detroit stayed ahead. Twelve of Mengelt's 14 points were in the final quarter and 10 of his points were from the foul line.

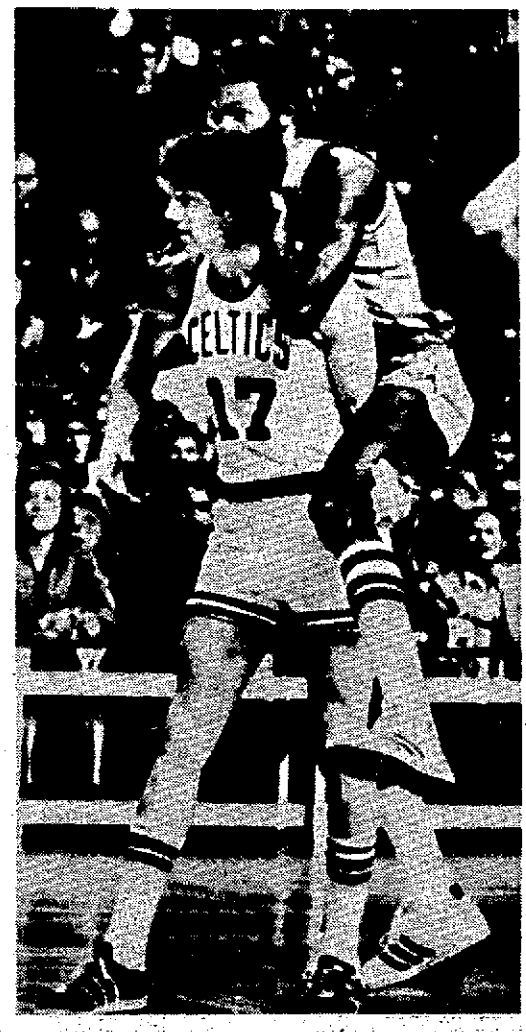

This is the first time in 12 years Detroit has reached the playoffs in two consecutive seasons.

It hasn't been decided who'll have the home court advantage in the three-game series with Seattle. If the Pistons' final record is better they'll host the SuperSonics the first and third games. Otherwise, Seattle will host two of three.

Seattle has a 40-39 record with three games left. The SuperSonics and Pistons split their season series with two victories each. Detroit bested Chicago five games to four.

Only 2,493 fans need to attend the final Pistons game to set a team attendance mark. The record of 300,565 home fans was set last year.

Colonels, Nets Facing One-Game Playoff

From Associated Press

The Kentucky Colonels and New York Nets trade opponents tonight and the expectation is they will then meet each other Friday night.

Both clubs are on the road tonight — the Colonels at Memphis, the Nets at Virginia. If they both win — or if they both lose — there will be a onegame playoff at Louisville Friday night to settle the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division championship.

Wednesday night, Kentucky downed the Virginia Squires 88-81 while New York crushed the Memphis Sounds 119-97. Elsewhere, the Utah Stars defeated the Indiana Pacers 119-112 and the Spirits of St. Louis trounced the San Diego Conquistadors 134-110.

The streaking Colonels won their eighth straight game although they were held to their second lowest point total of the year. Nevertheless, it was good enough to defeat Virginia for the 11th straight time this season.

The Colonels were led by Ted McClain with 17 points while Mike Jackson of Virginia led all scorers with 25. Kentucky took an early 10-4 lead and never trailed. By losing, the Squires set an ABA record for fewest victories in a season — 15.

Meanwhile, Julius Erving's 26 points led a balanced New York attack against Memphis. The Nets fell behind 9-4 but took the lead for good 15-13 on Larry Kenon's jump shot midway through the opening period. New York rapidly pulled away and opened a 60-38 spread on Brian Taylor's lay-up 13 seconds before halftime.

Kenon and John Williamson added 17 points apiece while Taylor and Mike Gale had 16 and Willie Sojourner 12. Stew Johnson and Tom Owens had 17 apiece to lead Memphis.

Utah's John Roche pumped in 15 fourth-quarter points and finished with 29 as the Stars subdued an Indiana rally. Indiana trailed 78-63 late in the third period but outscored the Stars 14-4 to get back in the game. The Pacers took a 91-90 lead early in the final quarter and stayed close until the closing minutes.

Ron Boone scored 21 for Utah and Jim Eakins and Randy Denton added 20 and 19, respectively. Billy Knight led the Pacers with 25 while George McGinnis scored 24.

St. Louis scored a league record 25 consecutive points and Fred Lewis pumped in 27 points to lead the Spirits and extend San Diego's losing streak to 10 games despite a career-high 24 points by rookie forward Scott English. The previous record was 18 consecutive points by Indiana against San Antonio in December 1973.

THE WORLD OF Sports

Red Sox Are Facing Discrimination Case

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox will open the 1975 baseball season with a landmark discrimination case pending against them.

It stems from two hiring discrimination complaints initiated against the American League team in March 1974 by the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination.

State officials have said it is the first discrimination case of its kind brought against a professional sports team.

One complaint alleges that the Red Sox have discriminated against minorities in the hiring of managers and coaches. The second complaint alleges discrimination in team hiring of a broad range of other jobs, such as ushers and groundskeepers.

The Red Sox were the last major league team to field a black player when infielder Pumpsie Green joined the club in 1959.

MCAD Commissioner Douglas Sherer, heading the investigation, said the original complaints were initiated by the state "in response to information from a number of sources." But he declined to identify those sources.

Officials at the agency said Wednesday that no resolution is in sight and the MCAD's investigation is continuing. Sherer said the case has received low priority because it is complicated and time-consuming and would severely tax the MCAD's limited staff if the complaints were pursued on a daily basis.

He also said it is not uncommon for the agency to move slowly on alleged violations that "seem to have a broad impact," such as the Red Sox' case.

"We're understaffed and other cases take priority," Sherer said. "When there's a case involving (discrimination against) a man with a wife and five kids at home you want to resolve that first."

He said it would be at least two or three months before the MCAD decides if it can prove its allegations. If the agency thinks it has a sound case, Sherer said, it will seek a hiring agreement with the Red Sox.

If no agreement can be worked out, the MCAD then would have to call public hearings which eventually could result in a hiring order.

A spokesman for the team at its Winter Haven, Fla., spring training headquarters said any statement on the case would have to come from Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell, who was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

Haywood Leads Seattle To Win

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seattle's Spencer Haywood scored 25 points Wednesday night, including two clinching free throws with 1:13 left to play, as the SuperSonics shaded the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 99-96.

The Kings' Nate Archibald also had 25 points. KC-Omaha thus remained two games behind Chicago in the Midwest Division.

Elsewhere, the Washington Bullets routed the Houston Rockets 112-85, the Boston Celtics edged the Buffalo Braves 95-92 and the Phoenix Suns nipped the Los Angeles Lakers 108-106.

Elvin Hayes scored 33 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as the Bullets boosted their record to 58-21 and maintained their half-game edge over Boston in the race for the best record in the NBA. The Celtics host the Bullets Friday night.

The Bullets also set a club record for victories in one season, surpassing their 57-25 mark in 1968-69. The loss dropped Houston's final record to 41-41 and the Rockets must wait until 39-40 New York and 39-41 Cleveland complete their seasons to see if they qualify for the playoffs.

Dave Cowens' six-point burst in the last three minutes enabled Boston to turn back Buffalo. The Celtics were nursing an 87-86 lead with 2:57 remaining when Cowens hit a basket and then matched Jim McMillian's two free throws.

John Havlicek scored a basket and Lee Winfield hit two free throws for Buffalo, then Cowens came back with the basket that put the Celtics ahead by five points.

Bob McAdoo paced the Brayes with 25 points while Cowens and Havlicek shared scoring honors for Boston with 23 points each.

Gary Melchionni's 13-foot shot with four seconds remaining gave Phoenix its triumph. Each team has two games to play. Los Angeles is 30-50 while Phoenix is 32-48. The last-place finisher in the Pacific Division will take part in the coin flip against the Atlanta Hawks for the first draft choice.

Nordiques Rally To Clinch First

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Quebec Nordiques had something going for them — first place.

Behind 3-0, the Nordiques scored twice in the final 78 seconds to defeat the Minnesota Fighting Saints 5-3 Wednesday night and clinch first place in the Canadian Division of the World Hockey Association.

"We were kind of loose from clinching the playoff spot against Edmonton Tuesday night," said Nordiques Coach Jean-Guy Gendron. "But we didn't quit after falling behind 3-0."

Minnesota had won four of the five games between the two teams going into Wednesday night's contest. The Saints can still clinch a playoff spot.

"We were flying at the start and they were the ones hanging on. They seemed to be tiring," said Wayne Connelly of the Saints. "Then they got a couple of power play goals and we were the ones hanging on."

Serge Bernier triggered Quebec's comeback at 13:27 of the second period with his 53rd goal of the season. Chris Bordeleau cut the margin to 3-2 at 16:33 of the second period and Dale Hoganson tied it at 1:57 of the third period on a power play, setting the stage for goals by Marc Tardif and Rejean Houle as the game neared the end.

Fran Huck, Mike Antonovich and Mike Walton tallied for Minnesota.

In the only other WHA games played Wednesday, Houston nipped Cleveland 7-6 and Vancouver stopped Winnepeg 6-4.

Houston held a 5-1 lead shortly after the second period began before Cleveland tied it up on goals by Al McDonough, Terry Holbrook, Ron Ward andim Harrison.

Then Don Larway scored 12 minutes into the third period and Mark Howe tallied two minutes later to give the Aeros a 7-5 lead before Harrison scored his second goal of the night in the final minute.

Lawson tallied two goals in the opening period, then Larry Israelson scored twice in less than a minute in the second period to give Vancouver a 4-0 lead. After Winnipeg cut the margin to 4-2, Don Burgess and Lawson retaliated to again put the Blazers in front by four goals, 6-2.

Snowstorm Postpones Black Hawk Game

Flames Keep Playoff Hopes Flickering

From Associated Press

Reports of the Atlanta Flames' demise have been greatly exaggerated ... so far.

The Flames kept flickering Wednesday night with a 3-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs on goals by Rey Comeau, Tom Lysiak and Tim Ecclestone and Dan Bouchard's shutout goaltending.

The triumph left the Flames three points behind the second-place New York Islanders and two in back of the New York Rangers. The Flames who would have been eliminated had they lost, meet the Rangers Friday night in Atlanta after the Rangers play in Philadelphia Thursday night.

Elsewhere, the Vancouver Canucks blanked the California Seals 3-0, the Los Angeles Kings downed the St. Louis Blues 5-2, the Montreal Canadiens routed the Pittsburgh Penguins 8-0 and the Detroit Red Wings drubbed the Washington Capitals 8-3. The Kansas City - at - Chicago game was postponed because of a snowstorm and rescheduled for tonight.

Atlanta's Bouchard turned back every Toronto threat as the Maple Leafs outshot the Flames 45-30, including a 26-7 edge in the third period.

Vancouver goalie Ken Lockett recorded his second shutout in two nights, both over California. Lockett was momentarily stunned with 7:46 left in the game after being checked by Len Frig, but recovered to finish his shutout.

Vancouver has one game remaining and leads Division 2 by four points over St. Louis, which has two games left. Chicago is six points behind with three to go.

Frank St. Marseille scored two goals, Mike Murphy and Gene Carr had one apiece and goalie Gary Edwards sparkled in the nets as the ex-St. Louis contingent paced Los Angeles' victory over the Blues.

Guy Lafleur and Steve Shutt scored six seconds apart to start a five-goal second-period Montreal barrage. Guy Lapointe boosted Montreal's lead to 3-0 before the period was two minutes old and Mario Tremblay and Bob Gainey completed the five-goal burst as the Canadiens tied the idle Buffalo Sabres at 109 points, most in the NHL. Both teams have two games remaining.

Detroit's Danny Grant scored his 49th and 50th goals and became the second player in the history of the Red Wings to reach the "50-goal plateau. Mickey Redmond scored 51 last season and 52 the year before. It was the hapless Capitals' 30th road defeat in 39 games.

Mr. Neal's Open House On Saturday

Mr. Neal's Karate School will hold an open house this Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

Karate demonstrations are scheduled and refreshments will be served.

The school is located in the Robert F. Kay Building, 145 West Main, Room 203, Benton Harbor.

The new karate school is owned by Charles Neal, who has a first degree black belt. Neal received his black belt in August of 1974 from the International Taekwon-do Association.

Mrs. Pat Woodard, who has a second degree red belt, will serve as assistant instructor.

Karate classes are slated for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 6:30 to 8:30. More information on classes will be available at the open house.

Illinois' Bartow New UCLA Basketball Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Chatting with reporters in a hotel room in 1973, UCLA Athletic Director J.D. Morgan calmly mentioned that he liked the way Memphis State's basketball team played.

He said Memphis players were disciplined and played good defense and he added that he liked the Memphis State coach ... but that his name had slipped Morgan's mind.

That name was Gene Bartow and Wednesday afternoon Morgan officially ended the John Wooden era of basketball by naming Bartow as the new Bruin coach. Morgan said the selection was approved by Chancellor Charles E. Young.

"I regard Gene Bartow as one of the nation's outstanding coaches who is a fine, proven teacher of the sport of basketball," said Morgan. "I am pleased to welcome him as our new basketball coach and look forward to him continuing the great heritage of UCLA basketball."

Thus the Bruins get a coach 20 years younger than the 64 - year - old Wooden, a man who is reportedly just as conservative as was church deacon Wooden; a man who dresses in business suits, teaches the game from the ground up, stresses defense and likes to fast break.

Gary Cunningham, Wooden's No. assistant who took himself out of contention for the job some time ago, said, "Gene is an outstanding person and an outstanding coach and UCLA is a great place for him. I know he has impressed J.D. over the years with the type of person and the type of coach he is."

Wooden, contacted by telephone at his Los Angeles residence, said he also likes what he's seen of Bartow.

"The only time my team played his was for the NCAA championship in 1973. I thought he had a very well-coached team and I know he's very well thought of in the profession," Wooden said.

UCLA won the game 87-66 as Bill Walton made 21 of 22 field goal attempts.

Wooden also said he would help Bartow any way he could, but only if he were asked.

Bartow was released from the last four years of his five-year contract at Illinois. He had become the Illini coach after four successful seasons at Memphis State.

Bartow was a strong choice for the UCLA job from the moment Wooden announced last Saturday he was retiring. The announcement came after the Bruins had beaten Louisville 75-74 in overtime in the NCAA semifinal game at San Diego.

Bartow, who also coached at Valparaiso University in Indiana, holds a 14-year college coaching record of 229-140. He was 8-18 at Illinois this past season, but the school was under NCAA probation for recruiting violations incurred by the previous coach.

Morgan said Bartow will choose his own assistants.

Ailing Lanier Helps Beat Bulls

Pistons Gain Playoffs

Those exclamations were one result of the Detroit Pistons' 97-89 victory over Chicago Wednesday, a triumph which clinched a wild card playoff spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs against Seattle.

But the Pistons, who celebrated with beer rather than champagne, probably feel like South Vietnamese who made it on the last plane out of Da Nang — relieved, but not in a mood to brag.

Not only did Detroit's victory over the Bulls end Milwaukee's playoff chances for only the second time in the Bucks' history, but it also ended the struggling of a Pistons' team that experts predicted would breeze into post-season play.

Last season the Pistons finished with a 52-30 record for a .634 winning average, and then went seven games before losing to the Bulls in the first round of the playoffs.

Ray Scott became Coach of the Year and Detroit was immediately ballyhooed as possible championship timber.

But things just didn't go right this year: Bob Lanier played all season with a bum knee, Dave Bing and Don Adams were holdouts with Adams eventually being cut. Bing then criticized Scott, and the team simply had a hard time winning.

Should the Pistons beat Milwaukee at home Saturday in the regular season finale, they would finish with an even .500 record at 41-41.

"It feels like a big relief," said Lanier, dragging out the word "big" while asking someone to throw him a can of beer. "It feels much better this year than last year because we've been struggling all year. Hopefully we'll be on the upswing going in (to the playoffs) rather than on a downswing like we've been."

Lanier scored a game-high 26 points against Chicago and his seven rebounds put him three over the previous Detroit career record of 4,986 set by Walter Dukes over six seasons.

Howard Porter, a former Bull, came off the bench to play a strong game with 12 rebounds and 18 points, while Curtis Rowe also scored 18 and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Norm VanLier and Tom Boerwinkle topped Chicago with 17 points each.

"We're not as good as the team last year," Scott said. "We're not as deep. But we do have a lot more spirit because we had to come through a lot of reversals to come to this point."

Chicago has had a few reversals of its own lately and is in danger of losing the Midwest Division title to Kansas City-Omaha. The Bulls have lost 13 of their last 19 games and dreams of finishing with the best record in the Western Conference also have about gone down the drain. Golden State has two more victories.

"It really doesn't make a difference who's in the playoffs," Coach Dick Motta said, "because we still have to go through the business of winning ourselves. I think we just blew our chances of winning the conference in this game. The only thing left to shoot for is to win the Midwest Division."

The Pistons expanded a 37-31 halftime lead to 69-55 after three quarters, outscoring the Bulls 17-6 in the last five minutes of the third period.

Chicago pulled within five at one point in the final period but, mostly on the free-throw shooting of John Mengelt, Detroit stayed ahead. Twelve of Mengelt's 14 points were in the final quarter and 10 of his points were from the foul line.

This is the first time in 12 years Detroit has reached the playoffs in two consecutive seasons.

It hasn't been decided who'll have the home court advantage in the three-game series with Seattle. If the Pistons' final record is better they'll host the SuperSonics the first and third games. Otherwise, Seattle will host two of three.

Seattle has a 40-39 record with three games left. The SuperSonics and Pistons split their season series with two victories each. Detroit bested Chicago five games to four.

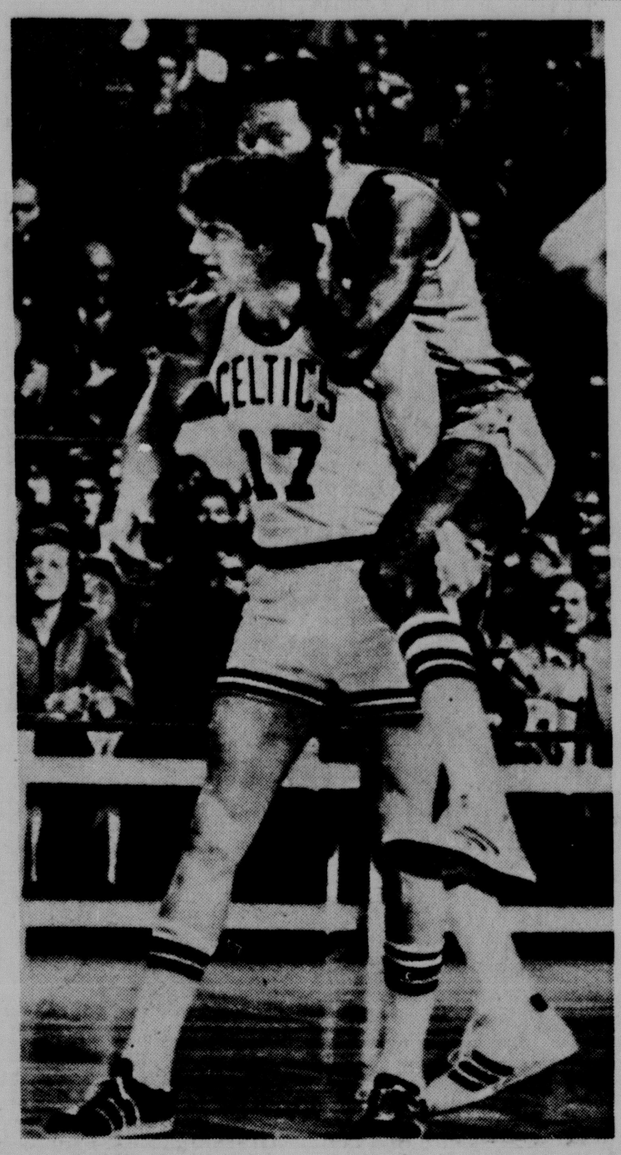

Only 2,493 fans need to attend the final Pistons game to set a team attendance mark. The record of 300,565 home fans was set last year.

Colonels, Nets Facing One-Game Playoff

From Associated Press

The Kentucky Colonels and New York Nets trade opponents tonight and the expectation is they will then meet each other Friday night.

Both clubs are on the road tonight — the Colonels at Memphis, the Nets at Virginia. If they both win — or if they both lose — there will be a onegame playoff at Louisville Friday night to settle the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division championship.

Wednesday night, Kentucky downed the Virginia Squires 88-81 while New York crushed the Memphis Sounds 119-97. Elsewhere, the Utah Stars defeated the Indiana Pacers 119-112 and the Spirits of St. Louis trounced the San Diego Conquistadors 134-110.

The streaking Colonels won their eighth straight game although they were held to their second lowest point total of the year. Nevertheless, it was good enough to defeat Virginia for the 11th straight time this season.

The Colonels were led by Ted McClain with 17 points while Mike Jackson of Virginia led all scorers with 25. Kentucky took an early 10-4 lead and never trailed. By losing, the Squires set an ABA record for fewest victories in a season — 15.

Meanwhile, Julius Erving's 26 points led a balanced New York attack against Memphis. The Nets fell behind 9-4 but took the lead for good 15-13 on Larry Kenon's jump shot midway through the opening period. New York rapidly pulled away and opened a 60-38 spread on Brian Taylor's lay-up 13 seconds before halftime.

Kenon and John Williamson added 17 points apiece while Taylor and Mike Gale had 16 and Willie Sojourner 12. Stew Johnson and Tom Owens had 17 apiece to lead Memphis.

Utah's John Roche pumped in 15 fourth-quarter points and finished with 29 as the Stars subdued an Indiana rally. Indiana trailed 78-63 late in the third period but outscored the Stars 14-4 to get back in the game. The Pacers took a 91-90 lead early in the final quarter and stayed close until the closing minutes.

Ron Boone scored 21 for Utah and Jim Eakins and Randy Denton added 20 and 19, respectively. Billy Knight led the Pacers with 25 while George McGinnis scored 24.

St. Louis scored a league record 26 consecutive points and Fred Lewis pumped in 27 points to lead the Spirits and extend San Diego's losing streak to 10 games despite a career-high 24 points by rookie forward Scott English. The previous record was 18 consecutive points by Indiana against San Antonio in December 1973.

Red Sox Are Facing Discrimination Case

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox will open the 1975 baseball season with a landmark discrimination case pending against them.

It stems from two hiring discrimination complaints initiated against the American League team in March 1974 by the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination.

State officials have said it is the first discrimination case of its kind brought against a professional sports team.

One complaint alleges that the Red Sox have discriminated against minorities in the hiring of managers and coaches. The second complaint alleges discrimination in team hiring of a broad range of other jobs, such as ushers and groundskeepers.

The Red Sox were the last major league team to field a black player when infielder Pumpsie Green joined the club in 1959.

MCAD Commissioner Douglas Sherer, heading the investigation, said the original complaints were initiated by the state "in response to information from a number of sources." But he declined to identify those sources.

Officials at the agency said Wednesday that no resolution is in sight and the MCAD's investigation is continuing. Sherer said the case has received low priority because it is complicated and time-consuming and would severely tax the MCAD's limited staff if the complaints were pursued on a daily basis.

He also said it is not uncommon for the agency to move slowly on alleged violations that "seem to have a broad impact," such as the Red Sox' case.

"We're understaffed and other cases take priority," Sherer said. "When there's a case involving (discrimination against) a man with a wife and five kids at home you want to resolve that first."

He said it would be at least two or three months before the MCAD decides if it can prove its allegations. If the agency thinks it has a sound case, Sherer said, it will seek a hiring agreement with the Red Sox.

If no agreement can be worked out, the MCAD then would have to call public hearings which eventually could result in a hiring order.

A spokesman for the team at its Winter Haven, Fla., spring training headquarters said any statement on the case would have to come from Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell, who was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

Haywood Leads Seattle To Win

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seattle's Spencer Haywood scored 25 points Wednesday night, including two clinching free throws with 1:13 left to play, as the SuperSonics shaded the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 99-96.

The Kings' Nate Archibald also had 25 points. KC-Omaha thus remained two games behind Chicago in the Midwest Division.

Elsewhere, the Washington Bullets routed the Houston Rockets 112-85, the Boston Celtics edged the Buffalo Braves 95-92 and the Phoenix Suns nipped the Los Angeles Lakers 108-106.

Elvin Hayes scored 33 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as the Bullets boosted their record to 58-21 and maintained their half-game edge over Boston in the race for the best record in the NBA. The Celtics host the Bullets Friday night.

The Bullets also set a club record for victories in one season, surpassing their 57-25 mark in 1968-69. The loss dropped Houston's final record to 41-41 and the Rockets must wait until 39-40 New York and 39-41 Cleveland complete their seasons to see if they qualify for the playoffs.

Dave Cowens' six-point burst in the last three minutes enabled Boston to turn back Buffalo. The Celtics were nursing an 87-86 lead with 2:57 remaining when Cowens hit a basket and then matched Jim McMillian's two free throws.

John Havlicek scored a basket and Lee Winfield hit two free throws for Buffalo, then Cowens came back with the basket that put the Celtics ahead by five points.

Bob McAdoo paced the Braves with 25 points while Cowens and Havlicek shared scoring honors for Boston with 23 points each.

Gary Melchionni's 13-foot shot with four seconds remaining gave Phoenix its triumph. Each team has two games to play. Los Angeles is 30-50 while Phoenix is 32-48. The last-place finisher in the Pacific Division will take part in the coin flip against the Atlanta Hawks for the first draft choice.

Nordiques Rally To Clinch First

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Quebec Nordiques had something going for them — first place.

Behind 3-0, the Nordiques scored twice in the final 78 seconds to defeat the Minnesota Fighting Saints 5-3 Wednesday night and clinch first place in the Canadian Division of the World Hockey Association.

"We were kind of loose from clinching the playoff spot against Edmonton Tuesday night," said Nordiques Coach Jean-Guy Gendron. "But we didn't quit after falling behind 3-0."

Minnesota had won four of the five games between the two teams going into Wednesday night's contest. The Saints can still clinch a playoff spot.

"We were flying at the start and they were the ones hanging on. They seemed to be tiring," said Wayne Connelly of the Saints. "Then they got a couple of power play goals and we were the ones hanging on."

Serge Bernier triggered Quebec's comeback at 13:27 of the second period with his 53rd goal of the season. Chris Bordeleau cut the margin to 3-2 at 16:33 of the second period and Dale Hoganson tied it at 1:57 of the third period on a power play, setting the stage for goals by Marc Tardif and Rejean Houle as the game neared the end.

Fran Huck, Mike Antonovich and Mike Walton tallied for Minnesota.

In the only other WHA games played Wednesday, Houston nipped Cleveland 7-6 and Vancouver stopped Winnepeg 6-4.

Houston held a 5-1 lead shortly after the second period began before Cleveland tied it up on goals by Al McDonough, Terry Holbrook, Ron Ward andim Harrison.

Then Don Larway scored 12 minutes into the third period and Mark Howe tallied two minutes later to give the Aeros a 7-5 lead before Harrison scored his second goal of the night in the final minute.

Lawson tallied two goals in the opening period, then Larry Israelson scored twice in less than a minute in the second period to give Vancouver a 4-0 lead. After Winnipeg cut the margin to 4-2, Don Burgess and Lawson retaliated to again put the Blazers in front by four goals, 6-2.

Mr. Neal's Open House On Saturday

Mr. Neal's Karate School will hold an open house this Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

Karate demonstrations are scheduled and refreshments will be served.

The school is located in the Robert F. Kay Building, 145 West Main, Room 203, Benton Harbor

The new karate school is owned by Charles Neal, who has a first degree black belt. Neal received his black belt in August of 1974 from the International Taekwon-do Association.

Mrs. Pat Woodard, who has a second degree red belt, will serve as assistant instructor.

Karate classes are slated for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 6:30 to 8:30. More information on classes will be available at the open house.

Snowstorm Postpones Black Hawk Game

Flames Keep Playoff Hopes Flickering

From Associated Press

Reports of the Atlanta Flames' demise have been greatly exaggerated ... so far.

The Flames kept flickering Wednesday night with a 3-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs on goals by Rey Comeau, Tom Lysiak and Tim Ecclestone and Dan Bouchard's shutout goaltending.

The triumph left the Flames three points behind the second-place New York Islanders and two in back of the New York Rangers. The Flames who would have been eliminated had they lost, meet the Rangers Friday night in Atlanta after the Rangers play in Philadelphia Thursday night.

Elsewhere, the Vancouver Canucks blanked the California Seals 3-0, the Los Angeles Kings downed the St. Louis Blues 5-2, the Montreal Canadiens routed the Pittsburgh Penguins 6-0 and the Detroit Red Wings drubbed the Washington Capitals 8-3. The Kansas City - at - Chicago game was postponed because of a snowstorm and rescheduled for tonight.

Atlanta's Bouchard turned back every Toronto threat as the Maple Leafs outshot the Flames 45-30, including a 26-7 edge in the third period.

Vancouver goalie Ken Lockett recorded his second shutout in two nights, both over California. Lockett was momentarily stunned with 7:46 left in the game after being checked by Len Frig, but recovered to finish his shutout.

Vancouver has one game remaining and leads Division 2 by four points over St. Louis, which has two games left. Chicago is six points behind with three to go.

Frank St. Marseille scored two goals, Mike Murphy and Gene Carr had one apiece and goalie Gary Edwards sparkled in the nets as the ex-St. Louis contingent paced Los Angeles' victory over the Blues.

Guy Lafleur and Steve Shutt scored six seconds apart to start a five-goal second-period Montreal barrage. Guy Lapointe boosted Montreal's lead to 3-0 before the period was two minutes old and Mario Tremblay and Bob Gainey completed the five-goal burst as the Canadiens tied the idle Buffalo Sabres at 109 points, most in the NHL. Both teams have two games remaining.

Detroit's Danny Grant scored his 49th and 50th goals and became the second player in the history of the Red Wings to reach the 50-goal plateau. Mickey Redmond scored 51 last season and 52 the year before. It was the hapless Capitals' 38th road defeat in 39 games.

Bears Again Big Six Contenders

Norrix Track Power; Northern, Niles '9' Tough

St. Joseph was a step behind in the Big Six track and baseball races a year ago, and even though the Bears return plenty of veterans this spring, they still face a tough task in turning from contenders to champions.

St. Joseph tracksters finished second last season to fast Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, a team which now has even more speed.

And St. Joe was third in Big Six baseball behind co-champs Niles and Portage Northern, squads the Bears will again have to overcome along with Portage Central.

St. Joe track coach Ron Waldvogel has excellent runners from the quarter mile on up and adequate field event strength, but the Bears lack sprinters.

"It'll be Norrix and St. Joe, no question about it...no one else should be even close," says Niles coach Ed Kelly, who gives the edge to Norrix because of "so much speed."

Norrix returns Daryel Pruitt, who set a Big Six record in the 100-yard dash of 10 seconds flat last year, and the Knights have also added two speedy transfer students.

St. Joseph returns seven thinclads who placed in last year's Big Six meet, including four who ranked on the southwestern Michigan track honor roll.

Brian Nisbet was the area's best pole vaulter at 13 feet, 5 inches while teammate Mike Ryan ended up second in the high hurdles with a 15.3 clocking and third in the low hurdles at 21.2.

Other Bear honor roll runners returning are Henry Follman (third in 880 at 1:58.5) and Tim Dine (fifth in the two-mile at 9:47.8).

Adding places in the Big Six meet were Dick Goodman in the long jump and 440 dash, Marty Kirk in the mile and Mike Bruenling in the 220 dash.

Other thinclads expected to be among St. Joe pointmakers this season are distance runners Dave Willemin and Joe Palazzolo, middle distance men Bob Goodman and Dave Karsten, hurdler Mark Laukus, shot putter Mark Hanley, long jumper Vince Ball and high jumper Tom Osborn.

St. Joe opens April 10 at Dowagiac.

Down at Niles, Dave Gutschenritter is the only returning Viking who placed in the Big Six. He also took fourth in the half mile on the area honor roll at 1:59.0.

Carl VanDyck, who placed in the Big Six long jump and was the leading Niles pointmaker last season, is injured and doubtful this spring. And Greg Ingelright, the area's third best miler at 4:23.4 as a sophomore, is not out.

The Chiefs will also be counting on Tim Pugh, Keith Kellis, Dennis Bacon and Mike Leets.

St. Joseph baseballers will be coming off a 12-9 overall season with 11 lettermen. Only second baseman-pitcher Frank Olson, centerfield Randy Collier and pitcher Kit Karsten were lost through graduation.

Mike Collier, who finished second to Olson in hitting last season at .320, will start at first or in the outfield. Another outfielder will be Roger Vogle, the leading Bear power hitter a year ago.

Elsewhere, Mike Priebe and Bubba LaBaumbard will catch and play first while Greg Priebe plays second and Cory Benford holds down the third sack. Gerald Wolf and Jeff Miskill will be at shortstop.

Other outfielders are Jay Ciaravino, Rick Dyer and Tim Ward. Steve Toney will also see infield duty.

Coach Dave Durr expects to go with a four-man pitching rotation of Miskill, Mickey Ott, Tim Case and Eddie Owsianka. Ott was 3-1 last season, Miskill 4-2 and Owsianka 0-3.

"We would have to be a contender," says Durr when looking over the Big Six field. "I would say it will be very close. It could be like last year."

New Dowagiac coach Dave Mahar has five returning starters from last year's 3-12 squad which finished next to last in the Big Six.

Centerfield Jim Casey is back after hitting .357 last spring and shortstop-outfielder Randy Pompey returns after swinging at a .305 clip. The other Chief veterans are pitcher Denny Grady, catcher John Russom and second baseman Kevin Pompey.

Niles has five starters back from a 13-7 overall squad which was 8-2 on the Big Six.

Junior lefty Tim Gowen should be the mound ace. He was 5-1 last spring, including a no-hitter with 19 strikeouts in his varsity debut. He averaged more than two strikeouts per inning for the season.

ALL FALL DOWN: Heavy traffic at third base resulted from Houston Astros' Greg Gross getting trapped between third and home on Enos Cabell grounder to St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman Ken Reitz in Wednesday exhibition action. Gross dislocated finger in play, Rob Andrews made third base, as Reitz tried late tag. Catcher Ted bsimmons and shortstop Ed Brinkman watched the action. (AP Wirephoto)

Tigers Receive Another Pounding

Gibson Ready For Season

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

National League hitters, be on guard! Bob Gibson says he's ready.

"Yeah, I'm ready for the season," said the veteran righthander, who will pitch the baseball opener for the St. Louis Cardinals next Monday.

"I'm always ready," he said. "Sometimes the hitting isn't quite sharp. And, when I lose a few close games, they say I'm not ready."

The Cardinals' winningest pitcher, who says he's retiring after this, his 16th full season in the majors, warmed up for the opener by limiting Houston to just six hits in an exhibition game Wednesday. But he gave up two runs in the third inning and was charged with the 2-1 defeat.

In other games Wednesday, Kansas City defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2, the New York Yankees downed Texas 6-2, Baltimore edged Atlanta 1-0, Philadelphia out-slugged Boston 13-10, Montreal nipped Cincinnati 6-5, Cleveland crushed Oakland 11-3, Milwaukee stopped San Diego 5-1, San Francisco whipped California 6-4, the Chicago Cubs downed Los Angeles 9-5 and Pittsburgh blanked Detroit 8-0.

The Pirates amassed 13 hits to one for the hapless Bengals. It was the second straight shutout defeat for Detroit, which now has gone 19 innings without scoring a run. The only hit the Tigers got was a single in the second inning by Willie Horton, off Jerry Reuss, who walked two batters and struck out four during five innings on the mound.

The Pirates have a 16-14 record for the spring training season, and the Tigers are 11-17.

Sam McDowell, who is trying to make a comeback after being released by the New York Yankees, followed Reuse and pitched four perfect innings. He struck out six Tiger batters.

McDowell has now pitched 18 innings and given up only one run.

Hank Aaron slammed his first home run of the spring and teammates John Briggs and Gorman Thomas also homered to power Milwaukee past San Diego.

Two hits by Gaylord Perry in seven innings led Cleveland as the Indians scalped Oakland. Perry allowed only singles by Bert Campaneris in the first inning and Joe Rudi in the fourth while John Ellis was the hitting star with three runs batted in on two singles and a double.

Grand slam home runs by veteran Ollie Brown and rookie Alan Bannister in successive innings rallied Philadelphia over Boston. Tony Conigliaro, making a comeback after being out of baseball for 3½ years, batted in four runs with a double and a three-run homer.

Don Baylor scored on Tim Nordbrook's suicide squeeze in the 12th inning as Baltimore edged Atlanta. Baylor had reached base on an error, stole second and moved to third on an infield grounder before Nordbrook brought him home.

Steve Busby's pitching and a two-run homer by Hal McRae led the Kansas City Royals to victory over the Chicago White Sox.

A strong seven-inning stint by Doc Medich broke a four-game losing streak for New York and lifted the Yankees over the Texas Rangers. Medich lowered his spring earned run average to 0.77.

Cincinnati clipped Montreal when Larry Parrish doubled with one out in the eighth, then scored on Tony Scott's triple. Montreal rookie Gary Carter hit a three-run homer and Bombo Rivera had a solo blast while Johnny Bench slammed a two-run home run for the Reds.

Gary Thomasson's homer and single highlighted two three-run rallies to lift San Francisco over California.

Lion Running Back Owens

Trying To Build Up Knee

DETROIT (AP) — Steve Owens, the Detroit Lions premier running back, is less than excited with his routine these days.

But Owens, trying to rebuild the injured knee, predicts he'll be "stronger and quicker" this season, partly as a result of a rigorous physical training program.

"If hard work will do it, he'll make it," said Lions General Manager Russ Thomas.

"He looks great," said quarterback Greg Landry. "He'll be in the best shape he's been in for five years."

"It was bad," he said. "There was a lot of damage in there to cartilage, ligaments, muscle. But it's getting stronger every day."

"Right now this is the most important thing in my life except my family ... getting in shape to play," said Owens, grimacing as he worked out for his sixth National Football League season.

"I've played hurt for five years. Playing hurt doesn't bother me. But not playing bothers me. It's a helpless feeling. When I can't perform, I'll quit."

Owens, 27, has been injured virtually every year with the Lions, missing several games nearly every season. But, after winning the Heisman Trophy at Oklahoma, he gained 1,000 yards for the Lions in 1971. He still is one of the most important features of Detroit's ground game, which was all but non-existant last season.

"A lot of people think I can't do it any more," he said. "But I have confidence I can. I'm a young man ... I've had some serious injuries but the law of averages says I'm due for a healthy season."

"I plan to play three more years in the NFL, but if I can't do it right I'll quit."

'Danny Boy' Scores 50th Goal Of Season

Grant Leads Wings Past Caps

DETROIT (AP) — While the organist at Wednesday's Detroit-Washington National Hockey League game played the serene song "Danny Boy," the ice was filled with cheering skaters and debris and the air was just as crowded with applause.

The reason? Danny Grant had just scored his 50th goal of the season to become only the second player in Detroit Red Wing history to hit the magic mark.

Grant's goal was his second of the night as the Wings skated to an 8-3 victory over the Capitols after falling behind 2-0 in the opening period. Goal No. 50 came at 6:16 of the final period on a backhand shot that scooted the puck past Washington goaltender John Adams. Phil Roberto got the assist on the goal after taking the puck behind the Washington net and centering it to Grant.

The loss, incidentally, was the 38th on the road for the Caps this season, setting a new league record.

After the goal, Grant was surrounded by teammates, skated to the bench to enjoy a handshake from coach and general manager Alex Delvecchio and bowed to the crowd from center ice.

"I didn't get thinking that I could reach 50 until I got the 41st," said Grant. "Then looking at the schedule, I thought if I worked hard and got some breaks it would come, and it did tonight, thanks to Phil Roberto.

"I was so happy and when the players all came off the bench, it gave me one of my greatest thrills in pro hockey. I have the puck and the stick and am keeping them as souvenirs forever."

Marcel Dionne edged a bit closer to the 50-goal mark, scoring his 47th tally of the season. He has two more games to hit the 50 mark, and Grant conceivably could break Mickey Redmond's team record of 52 in those same two games. Redmond, who missed most of this season with a back injury, has posted 50 goals twice.

Another high point of the night for Detroit was defenseman Bryan Watson's first goal of the season.

Bill Lesuk and Ron Anderson made things look dim for the Red Wings in the opening period, but Bill Hogaboam scored twice and Mike Bloom, Mike Korney and Grant all hit in the second frame to give Detroit a three-goal lead.

Grant, Dionne and Watson lengthened the margin for Detroit in the final period before Nelson Pyatt gave the Caps their final goal with just under two minutes remaining.

Norrix Track Power; Northern, Niles '9' Tough

St. Joseph was a step behind in the Big Six track and baseball races a year ago, and even though the Bears return plenty of veterans this spring, they still face a tough task in turning from contenders to champions.

St. Joseph tracksters finished second last season to fast Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, a team which now has even more speed.

And St. Joe was third in Big Six baseball behind co-champs Niles and Portage Northern, squads the Bears will again have to overcome along with Portage Central.

St. Joe track coach Ron Waldvogel has excellent runners from the quarter mile on up and adequate field event strength, but the Bears lack sprinters.

"It'll be Norrix and St. Joe, no question about it...no one else should be even close," says Niles coach Ed Kelly, who gives the edge to Norrix because of "so much speed."

Norrix returns Daryel Pruitt, who set a Big Six record in the 100-yard dash of 10 seconds flat last year, and the Knights have also added two speedy transfer students.

St. Joseph returns seven thinclads who placed in last year's Big Six meet, including four who ranked on the southwestern Michigan track honor roll.

Brian Nisbet was the area's best pole vaulter at 13 feet, 5 inches while teammate Mike Ryan ended up second in the high hurdles with a 15.3 clocking and third in the low hurdles at 21.2.

Other Bear honor roll runners returning are Henry Follman (third in 880 at 1:58.5) and Tim Dine (fifth in the two-mile at 9:47.8).

Adding places in the Big Six meet were Dick Goodman in the long jump and 440 dash, Marty Kirk in the mile and Mike Bruenling in the 220 dash.

Other thinclads expected to be among St. Joe pointmakers this season are distance runners Dave Willemin and Joe Palazzolo, middle distance men Bob Goodman and Dave Karsten, hurdler Mark Laukus, shot putter Mark Hanley, long jumper Vince Ball and high jumper Tom Osborn.

St. Joe opens April 10 at Dowagiac.

Down at Niles, Dave Gutschenritter is the only returning Viking who placed in the Big Six. He also took fourth in the half mile on the area honor roll at 1:59.0.

Carl VanDyck, who placed in the Big Six long jump and was the leading Niles pointmaker last season, is injured and doubtful this spring. And Greg Ingelright, the area's third best miler at 4.23.4 as a sophomore, is not out.

The Chiefs will also be counting on Tim Pugh, Keith Kellis, Dennis Bacon and Mike Leets.

St. Joseph baseballers will be coming off a 12-9 overall season with 11 lettermen. Only second baseman-pitcher Frank Olson, centerfield Randy Collier and pitcher Kit Karsten were lost through graduation.

Mike Collier, who finished second to Olson in hitting last season at .320, will start at first or in the outfield. Another outfielder will be Roger Vogie, the leading Bear power hitter a year ago.

Elsewhere, Mike Priebe and Bubba LaBaumbard will catch and play first while Greg Priebe plays second and Cory Benford holds down the third sack. Gerald Wolf and Jeff Miskill will be at shortstop.

Other outfielders are Jay Ciaravino, Rick Dyer and Tim Ward. Steve Toney will also see infield duty.

Coach Dave Durr expects to go with a four-man pitching rotation of Miskill, Mickey Ott, Tim Case and Eddie Owsianka. Ott was 3-1 last season, Miskill 4-2 and Owsianka 0-3.

"We would have to be a contender," says Durr when looking over the Big Six field. "I would say it will be very close. It could be like last year."

New Dowagiac coach Dave Mahar has five returning starters from last year's 3-12 squad which finished next to last in the Big Six.

Centerfield Jim Casey is back after hitting .357 last spring and shortstop-outfielder Randy Pompey returns after swinging at a .305 clip. The other Chief veterans are pitcher Denny Grady, catcher John Russom and second baseman Kevin Pompey.

Niles has five starters back from a 13-7 overall squad which was 8-2 on the Big Six.

Junior lefty Tim Gowen should be the mound ace. He was 5-1 last spring, including a no-hitter with 19 strikeouts in his varsity debut. He averaged more than two strikeouts per inning for the season.

ALL FALL DOWN: Heavy traffic at third base resulted from Houston Astros' Greg Gross getting trapped between third and home on Enos Cabell grounder to St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman Ken Reitz in Wednesday exhibition action. Gross dislocated finger in play, Rob Andrews made third base, as Reitz tried late tag. Catcher Ted bsimmons and shortstop Ed Brinkman watched the action. (AP Wirephoto)

Tigers Receive Another Pounding

Gibson Ready For Season

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

National League hitters, be on guard! Bob Gibson says he's ready.

"Yeah, I'm ready for the season," said the veteran righthander, who will pitch the baseball opener for the St. Louis Cardinals next Monday.

"I'm always ready," he said. "Sometimes the hitting isn't quite sharp. And, when I lose a few close games, they say I'm not ready."

The Cardinals' winningest pitcher, who says he's retiring after this, his 16th full season in the majors, warmed up for the opener by limiting Houston to just six hits in an exhibition game Wednesday. But he gave up two runs in the third inning and was charged with the 2-1 defeat.

In other games Wednesday, Kansas City defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2, the New York Yankees downed Texas 6-2, Baltimore edged Atlanta 1-0, Philadelphia out-slugged Boston 13-10, Montreal nipped Cincinnati 6-5, Cleveland crushed Oakland 11-3, Milwaukee stopped San Diego 5-1, San Francisco whipped California 6-4, the Chicago Cubs downed Los Angeles 9-5 and Pittsburgh blanked Detroit 8-0.

The Pirates amassed 13 hits to one for the hapless Bengals. It was the second straight shutout defeat for Detroit, which now has gone 19 innings without scoring a run. The only hit the Tigers got was a single in the second inning by Willie Horton, off Jerry Reuss, who walked two batters and struck out four during five innings on the mound..

The Pirates have a 16-14 record for the spring training season, and the Tigers are 11-17.

Sam McDowell, who is trying to make a comeback after being released by the New York Yankees, followed Reuse and pitched four perfect innings. He struck out six Tiger batters.

McDowell has now pitched 18 innings and given up only one run.

Hank Aaron slammed his first home run of the spring and teammates John Briggs and Gorman Thomas also homered to power Milwaukee past San Diego.

Two hits by Gaylord Perry in seven innings led Cleveland as the Indians scalped Oakland. Perry allowed only singles by Bert Campaneris in the first inning and Joe Rudi in the fourth while John Ellis was the hitting star with three runs batted in on two singles and a double.

Grand slam home runs by veteran Ollie Brown and rookie Alan Bannister in successive innings rallied Philadelphia over Boston. Tony Conigliaro, making a comeback after being out of baseball for 3½ years, batted in four runs with a double and a three-run homer.

Don Baylor scored on Tim Nordbrook's suicide squeeze in the 12th inning as Baltimore edged Atlanta. Baylor had reached base on an error, stole second and moved to third on an infield grounder before Nordbrook brought him home.

Steve Busby's pitching and a two-run homer by Hal McRae led the Kansas City Royals to victory over the Chicago White Sox.

A strong seven-inning stint by Doc Medich broke a four-game losing streak for New York and lifted the Yankees over the Texas Rangers. Medich lowered his spring earned run average to 0.77.

Cincinnati clipped Montreal when Larry Parrish doubled with one out in the eighth, then scored on Tony Scott's triple. Montreal rookie Gary Carter hit a three-run homer and Bombo Rivera had a solo blast while Johnny Bench slammed a two-run home run for the Reds.

Gary Thomasson's homer and single highlighted two three-run rallies to lift San Francisco over California.

Lion Running Back Owens Trying To Build Up Knee

But Owens, trying to rebuild an injured knee, predicts he'll be "stronger and quicker" this season, partly as a result of a rigorous physical training program.

"If hard work will do it, he'll make it," said Lions General Manager Russ Thomas.

"He looks great," said quarterback Greg Landry. "He'll be in the best shape he's been in for five years".

"It was bad," he said. "There was a lot of damage in there to cartilage, ligaments, muscle. But it's getting stronger every day."

"Right now this is the most important thing in my life except my family ... getting in shape to play," said Owens, grimacing as he worked out for his sixth National Football League season.

"I've played hurt for five years. Playing hurt doesn't bother me. But not playing bothers me. It's a helpless feeling. When I can't perform, I'll quit."

Owens, 27, has been injured virtually every year with the Lions, missing several games nearly every season. But, after winning the Heisman Trophy at Oklahoma, he gained 1,000 yards for the Lions in 1971. He still is one of the most important features of Detroit's ground game, which was all but nonexistant last season.

"I plan to play three more years in the NFL, but if I can't do it right I'll quit."

Decatur's Raiders Could Rule SAC Spring Sports

Coach Tom Gibson's Raider track squad will be shooting for its fourth straight league title — an accomplishment that appears to be within its grasp.

The team most likely to keep them from another repeat performance is Marcellus...last season's runnerup squad.

The Raider baseball team edged Marcellus 2-1 in a playoff for the SAC crown one year ago. And Decatur could again be the team to beat this spring.

"We'll have real good balance," says Raider baseball coach Jack Gleason, "we could be stronger than last year."

All-conference pitcher Kim Thomas (7-2) returns to give Decatur strength on the mound. It was Thomas who hurled the Raiders to the title in 1974.

Decatur will be missing only two regulars from last year's outfit that batted nearly .300 as a team. Experience is obviously another Raider strong suit.

"I don't think we'll be in it for the title this time," offers Stevenson.

Not all league coaches would agree with this.

Marcellus will be hurt with the loss of pitcher Roy Mann, who won nine conference games in 1974. Top hitters are Gary Kline (.420), catcher Wade Bent (.350) and all-conference outfielder Larry Ivens (.340).

Area coaches have lots of respect for Lawrence this year. Mostly because of strong Tiger pitching.

"This should be my best balanced team in four years," says Lawrence coach Dave Baker. "We're looking forward to a real good season...that's for sure."

A number of league coaches look to Gobles to come through with a good season...just like they did in basketball this past winter.

Hudson bases much of his optimism on the return of three all-conference players, each of whom batted over .300 last season. That trio: catcher Mark Walburn, shortstop Jim Glass and first baseman Kevin Page. Top pitchers should be Charlie Lynch and Dan Hopwood.

Lawton should have good stickers in Damon DeVries (.450 last year), John Lepley and Deloyd Waite. Coach Dave Anderson needs solid pitchers most of all. Portage Northern transfer Kevin Burke may help in this department.

Bloomingdale hopes to improve on a 2-10 record with the hitting of Jeff Melvin (.584), Steve Allen, Bob Lindsey and Pat Barnes. Allen, Tim Hoyt, Tom Rigney and Jim Keoper will handle many of the pitching assignments.

Martin isn't expected to climb to the top of the SAC rankings this year. Pitching and hitting are called "average", with the infield being Martin's biggest strength.

"We'll be as strong as anybody," says acting Marcellus coach Earl Haan. Haan is that school's athletic director, filling in for Dave DeCou who is out with illness. "Frankly, I'd be disappointed if we don't win it."

Pat Regner will once more be a big point getter for Marcellus in the sprints, relays and shotput. Larry Ivens should be a good backup man for Regner in the sprints, while Ray McKenzie and Mike Burleight are prime distance aces.

"Although there should be lots of balance in the league this time," says Gibson, "I think Marcellus should be considered the team to beat."

The Raiders lost proven sprinters through graduation. Top pointgetter should be Dave Warkentien, a double winner in the conference meet in '74, winning the quarter and half-mile races. He is undefeated the last two years in the SAC.

Gobles will rely on Keith Pyron in the 220 and middle distances, while Tim Healy should be one of the top sprinters with Shawn Killeen competitive in the hurdlers. Todd Smith is a strong distance entry.

Bloomingdale is looking for lots of points from dashman Bobby Whitelow this spring. Whitelow is expected to anchor the 440 and 880 relay teams.

Lawton will be strong in the mile with state-placer Cruz Martinez competing in his last year. He is a two-year conference champ.

John Seppala was second on the two mile in the SAC last year, while Gary Sanderson took runnerup honors in the pole vault. Frank Gray should provide points in the quarter and half.

Conigliaro 'Swinging' Back

Likely To Win DH Job With Red Sox

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Officially, Tony Conigliaro is not a member of the Boston Red Sox. He's in the non-roster category, invited to training on a look-see basis after having signed a contract with Boston's Pawtucket farm club in the International League.

But the more you look, the more you seem to see him in uniform — and maybe even in the starting line-up — next Tuesday at Fenway Park.

That would be one of the last major steps for Tony C., already being tagged a comeback player of the year before the year has even officially started, a remarkable comeback from that frightening moment during the 1967 season when he was hit in the face and nearly blinded by a pitch.

Now, after being out of baseball for 3½ years, he's blinding the opposition pitchers with his hot bat, the main reason why he's given a solid shot at being the Red Sox' designated hitter when they open the 1975 season at home against Henry Aaron and the Milwaukee Brewers.

On Wednesday, he was positively explosive against the Philadelphia Phillies, getting three hits and a walk in four at-bats, one of the few things Boston could smile about in a 13-10 loss.

In the first inning, he rifled a run-scoring line drive up the alley in left-center field. And in the fourth, with two runners aboard, he displayed that old Conigliaro swing. On the first pitch, he sent a tremendous drive over the screen in left-center for his first home run of the spring.

"I think that's just what I needed," Conigliaro said. "I've been pressing, maybe subconsciously at times. Now I've finally busted one. It's got to help me. I'm going to continue to go up there swnging. That's my game.

"I haven't really been swinging from my fanny for fear of embarassing myself. When I used to hit all those homers, I often would fall down when I swung and missed. Maybe it's about time I started doing it again."

When Darrell Johnson was asked about a report that a decision already had been made, that Conigliaro would open the season at Pawtucket and be available for recall by Boston, the Red Sox' manager exploded.

"That's a lie," he snapped. "No decision has been made and none will be made until after we leave here Sunday."

And if Tony C keeps swinging the bat the way he has thus far, the decision will be an easy one.

Ron LeFlore Banquet Circuit Star

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Ron LeFlore is becoming the flower of the banquet circuit.

The success story of the Detroit Tigers' centerfielder — who has had only a half season in the major leagues and only 1½ as a professional baseball player — is phenomenal and fascinating.

Instead of trying to ignore the past, he talks freely about it before awed audiences, often consisting of young teenagers, at a variety of banquets.

LeFlore mentioned at least seven off-season banquets at which he spoke.

"A few I do for free and at a few I get paid," he said. "I spoke at a blind kids party in Detroit. I've got a couple dates set up for off days after the season starts."

What does the soft-spoken, well-mannered Detroit native say at these affairs?

"I tell them about my background and the things I went through," LeFlore explained. "I tell them I don't want them to think they could go out and get in trouble and then play baseball. It just doesn't work out that way."

But it has worked out that way for LeFlore, who was signed to a Tiger minor league contract in 1973 while serving some three years at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for armed robbery.

He was paroled and assigned to Clinton (Iowa) of the Class A Midwest League, where he batted .277, despite having never played organized baseball before, except with the prison team. His natural talents became evident there, the Tigers scouted him and signed him.

Last year, LeFlore led the Class A Florida State League with a .339 batting average and 79 runs for Lakeland, despite appearing in just 93 games before his promotion to Detroit's Triple-A farm at Evansville (Ind.). LeFlore was there just nine games before Tiger centerfielder Mickey Stanley broke a hand and Detroit called up LeFlore.

LeFlore, 22, batted .260 in half a season and stole 23 bases — the first Tiger with more than 20 steals since 1962. He was voted Tiger Rookie of the Year by the Detroit Sports Broadcasters.

He said young teens usually ask him more about baseball than prison.

"They ask me how I learned to run and things like this," he said. "Some of them ask about prison. I tell them I messed with drugs before and I encourage them to stay away from them because it does nothing but hold you down."

Nothing much is expected to hold LeFlore down this year. Manager Ralph Houk has said centerfield is his and that he believes LeFlore is a potential superstar.

Mohawks, Gears Make IHL Semis

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mario Lessard and Dennis Desrosiers of the Saginaw Gears and Sid Prysunka of Muskegon were instrumental Wednesday in lifting their clubs to spots in the International Hockey League's semifinals.

Prysunka scored twice in the third period goals, breaking a 3-3 tie as the Mohawks took a 7-4 victory over Port Huron. Saginaw stopped Flint 4-0.

Muskegon, which won its quarterfinal series 4-1, hosts Saginaw for the Turner Cup semis Saturday. The Gears also won their series with Port Huron by a 4-1 game margin.

Also scoring for the Mohawks were Murray Flegel, Brian Derksen, Ernie Moser, Carry Ryan and Bob Tombari. Port Huron's losing effort was aided by goals from Don Gierson, Len Fontaine, Bill Watt and Doug Acomb.

In Flint, the home ice advantage was not enough for the Generals to stop Saginaw. Goalie Lessard blocked 40 shots — earning his second straight shutout — and Desrosiers scored twice in the Saginaw triumph.

Aaron Loses 200 Homers

A release on the opening of the season next week notes that Aaron, baseball's all-time home run king, "starts the new year with 533 round-trippers."

Actually, Aaron, who passed Babe Ruth last season, has 733.

Decatur's Raiders Could Rule SAC Spring Sports

Coach Tom Gibson's Raider track squad will be shooting for its fourth straight league title — an accomplishment that appears to be within its grasp.

The team most likely to keep them from another repeat performance is Marcellus...last season's runnerup squad.

The Raider baseball team edged Marcellus 2-1 in a playoff for the SAC crown one year ago. And Decatur could again be the team to beat this spring.

"We'll have real good balance," says Raider baseball coach Jack Gleason, "we could be stronger than last year."

All-conference pitcher Kim Thomas (7-2) returns to give Decatur strength on the mound. It was Thomas who hurled the Raiders to the title in 1974.

Decatur will be missing only two regulars from last year's outfit that batted nearly .300 as a team. Experience is obviously another Raider strong suit.

Top batter back is senior outfielder Dan Stambeck, who clouted the ball at a .362 clip last season. Al Adams is a .333 sticker, while pitcher Jim Overley (4-1) had a .320 average last spring as did junior Mike High.

"I don't think we'll be in it for the title this time," offers Stevenson.

Not all league coaches would agree with this.

Marcellus will be hurt with the loss of pitcher Roy Mann, who won nine conference games in 1974. Top hitters are Gary Kline (.420), catcher Wade Bent (.350) and all-conference outfielder Larry Ivens (.340).

Area coaches have lots of respect for Lawrence this year. Mostly because of strong Tiger pitching.

"This should be my best balanced team in four years," says Lawrence coach Dave Baker. "We're looking forward to a real good season...that's for sure."

A number of league coaches look to Gobles to come through with a good season...just like they did in basketball this past winter.

Hudson bases much of his optimism on the return of three all-conference players, each of whom batted over .300 last season. That trio: catcher Mark Walburn, shortstop Jim Glass and first baseman Kevin Page. Top pitchers should be Charlie Lynch and Dan Hopwood.

Lawton should have good stickers in Damon DeVries (.450 last year), John Lepley and Deloyd Waite. Coach Dave Anderson needs solid pitchers most of all. Portage Northern transfer Kevin Burke may help in this department.

Bloomingdale hopes to improve on a 2-10 record with the hitting of Jeff Melvin (.584), Steve Allen, Bob Lindsey and Pat Barnes. Allen, Tim Hoyt, Tom Rigney and Jim Keoper will handle many of the pitching assignments.

Martin isn't expected to climb to the top of the SAC rankings this year. Pitching and hitting are called "average", with the infield being Martin's biggest strength.

Decatur is expected to be hard-pressed by Marcellus in the scramble for the 1975 track crown.

"We'll be as strong as anybody," says acting Marcellus coach Earl Haan. Haan is that school's athletic director, filling in for Dave DeCou who is out with illness. "Frankly, I'd be disappointed if we don't win it."

Pat Regner will once more be a big point getter for Marcellus in the sprints, relays and shotput. Larry Ivens should be a good backup man for Regner in the sprints, while Ray McKenzie and Mike Burleight are prime distance aces.

"Although there should be lots of balance in the league this time," says Gibson, "I think Marcellus should be considered the team to beat."

The Raiders lost proven sprinters through graduation. Top pointgetter should be Dave Warkentien, a double winner in the conference meet in '74, winning the quarter and half-mile races. He is undefeated the last two years in the SAC.

Gobles will rely on Keith Pyron in the 220 and middle distances, while Tim Healy should be one of the top sprinters with Shawn Killeen competitive in the hurdlers. Todd Smith is a strong distance entry.

Bloomingdale is looking for lots of points from dashman Bobby Whitelow this spring. Whitelow is expected to anchor the 440 and 880 relay teams.

Lawton will be strong in the mile with state-placer Cruz Martinez competing in his last year. He is a two-year conference champ.

John Seppala was second on the two mile in the SAC last year, while Gary Sanderson took runnerup honors in the pole vault. Frank Gray should provide points in the quarter and half.

Conigliaro 'Swinging' Back

Likely To Win DH Job With Red Sox

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Officially, Tony Conigliaro is not a member of the Boston Red Sox. He's in the non-roster category, invited to training on a look-see basis after having signed a contract with Boston's Pawtucket farm club in the International League.

But the more you look, the more you seem to see him in uniform — and maybe even in the starting line-up — next Tuesday at Fenway Park.

That would be one of the last major steps for Tony C., already being tagged a comeback player of the year before the year has even officially started, a remarkable comeback from that frightening moment during the 1967 season when he was hit in the face and nearly blinded by a pitch.

Now, after being out of baseball for 3½ years, he's blinding the opposition pitchers with his hot bat, the main reason why he's given a solid shot at being the Red Sox' designated hitter when they open the 1975 season at home against Henry Aaron and the Milwaukee Brewers.

On Wednesday, he was positively explosive against the Philadelphia Phillies, getting three hits and a walk in four at-bats, one of the few things Boston could smile about in a 13-10 loss.

In the first inning, he rifled a run-scoring line drive up the alley in left-center field. And in the fourth, with two runners aboard, he displayed that old Conigliaro swing. On the first pitch, he sent a tremendous drive over the screen in left-center for his first home run of the spring.

"I think that's just what I needed," Conigliaro said. "I've been pressing, maybe subconsciously at times. Now I've finally busted one. It's got to help me. I'm going to continue to go up there swnging. That's my game.

"I haven't really been swinging from my fanny for fear of embarassing myself. When I used to hit all those homers, I often would fall down when I swung and missed. Maybe it's about time I started doing it again."

When Darrell Johnson was asked about a report that a decision already had been made, that Conigliaro would open the season at Pawtucket and be available for recall by Boston, the Red Sox' manager exploded.

"That's a lie," he snapped. "No decision has been made and none will be made until after we leave here Sunday."

And if Tony C keeps swinging the bat the way he has thus far, the decision will be an easy one.

Ron LeFlore Banquet Circuit Star

The success story of the Detroit Tigers' centerfielder — who has had only a half season in the major leagues and only 1½ as a professional baseball player — is phenomenal and fascinating.

Instead of trying to ignore the past, he talks freely about it before awed audiences, often consisting of young teenagers, at a variety of banquets.

LeFlore mentioned at least seven off-season banquets at which he spoke.

"A few I do for free and at a few I get paid," he said. "I spoke at a blind kids party in Detroit. I've got a couple dates set up for off days after the season starts."

What does the soft-spoken, well-mannered Detroit native say at these affairs?

"I tell them about my background and the things I went through," LeFlore explained. "I tell them I don't want them to think they could go out and get in trouble and then play baseball. It just doesn't work out that way."

But it has worked out that way for LeFlore, who was signed to a Tiger minor league contract in 1973 while serving some three years at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for armed robbery.

He was paroled and assigned to Clinton (Iowa) of the Class A Midwest League, where he batted .277, despite having never played organized baseball before, except with the prison team. His natural talents became evident there, the Tigers scouted him and signed him.

Last year, LeFlore led the Class A Florida State League with a .339 batting average and 79 runs for Lakeland, despite appearing in just 93 games before his promotion to Detroit's Triple-A farm at Evansville (Ind.). LeFlore was there just nine games before Tiger centerfielder Mickey Stanley broke a hand and Detroit called up LeFlore.

LeFlore, 22, batted .260 in half a season and stole 23 bases — the first Tiger with more than 20 steals since 1962. He was voted Tiger Rookie of the Year by the Detroit Sports Broadcasters.

He said young teens usually ask him more about baseball than prison.

"They ask me how I learned to run and things like this," he said. "Some of them ask about prison. I tell them I messed with drugs before and I encourage them to stay away from them because it does nothing but hold you down."

Nothing much is expected to hold LeFlore down this year. Manager Ralph Houk has said centerfield is his and that he believes LeFlore is a potential superstar.

Phils' Problems Blossom In Spring

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Spring training developments have clouded the prospects of the Philadelphia Phillies, potentially a National League pennant contender.

Since training opened in Florida, reliever Tug McGraw has undergone an operation that will sideline him at least two weeks into the season; slugger Mike Schmidt hasn't hit any long balls, the home run bat of Greg Luzinski has been conspicuous by its absence, catcher Bob Boone can't throw out a runner, the pitching has been spotty and two outfield positions still are not solidified.

Manager Danny Ozark is concerned, but he still believes the Phillies will field a young, hard-hitting team, with excellent speed and tight defense. Ozark is confident that lefthander Steve Carlton will head an effective corps of starting pitchers, and that McGraw will be as good as ever after recovering from the removal of a growth on his back.

There is some concern about Schmidt, who led the major leagues in home runs and batted in 116 runs despite slumping in September. The third baseman suffered a bone bruise on his right arm and has been slow getting his stroke.

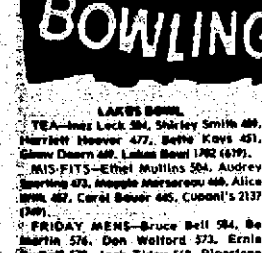

The Phillies' big strength is in the infield, where they start four Golden Glove runners-up. Willie Montanez, a .304 hitter with 79 RBI is at first; Dave Cash, a .300 hitting second baseman and the team's leader, combines with shortstop Larry Bowa, a .275 hitter with a super glove. Schmidt hit .282 and provided fine defense at third.

Only Luzinski, who missed most of the 1974 season with an injured knee that necessitated a operation, is a certain starter in left field. Rookie Alan Bannister, a speedster who stole 36 bases in the International League last year; Mike Anderson (.251) and Bill Robinson, coming off a .238 season, are the centerfield candidates. Jay Johnstone, who hit .295 in 110 games, figures to platoon in right with a loser of the centerfield competition.

The catching is a question mark. Boone, in his third major league season, has to improve his .242 batting average, but even more important he has to overcome a scatter arm. The backup catcher, Larry Cox, is strictly around for his fielding. He carries a weak stick.

The Phillies felt they had solved their bullpen deficiency in the trade last December that brought McGraw from the New York Mets. Without a healthy and effective McGraw, catching East Division champion Pittsburgh and runner-up St. Louis looks too tough. Also in the bullpen are righthander Gene Garber and lefthanders Joe Hoerner and Tom Hilgendorf, both picked up from the American League, and long reliever Ron Schueler.

The pitching could be first rate if young Dick Ruthven, 6-11, curbs his emotions and recovers from an operation to remove bone chips from his pitching arm; Wayne Twitchell, 8-9, snaps back after spending last season battling back from knee surgery, and Carlton, 16-13, and Jim Lonborg, 17-13, can maintain their consistency.

Phils' Problems Blossom In Spring

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Spring training developments have clouded the prospects of the Philadelphia Phillies, potentially a National League pennant contender.

Since training opened in Florida, reliever Tug McGraw has undergone an operation that will sideline him at least two weeks into the season; slugger Mike Schmidt hasn't hit any long balls, the home run bat of Greg Luzinski has been conspicuous by its absence, catcher Bob Boone can't throw out a runner, the pitching has been spotty and two outfield positions still are not solidified.

Manager Danny Ozark is concerned, but he still believes the Phillies will field a young, hard-hitting team, with excellent speed and tight defense. Ozark is confident that lefthander Steve Carlton will head an effective corps of starting pitchers, and that McGraw will be as good as ever after recovering from the removal of a growth on his back.

There is some concern about Schmidt, who led the major leagues in home runs and batted in 116 runs despite slumping in September. The third baseman suffered a bone bruise on his right arm and has been slow getting his stroke.

The Phillies' big strength is in the infield, where they start four Golden Glove runners-up. Willie Montanez, a .304 hitter with 79 RBI is at first; Dave Cash, a .300 hitting second baseman and the team's leader, combines with shortstop Larry Bowa, a .275 hitter with a super glove. Schmidt hit .282 and provided fine defense at third.

Only Luzinski, who missed most of the 1974 season with an injured knee that necessitated a operation, is a certain starter in left field. Rookie Alan Bannister, a speedster who stole 36 bases in the International League last year; Mike Anderson (.251) and Bill Robinson, coming off a .238 season, are the centerfield candidates. Jay Johnstone, who hit .295 in 110 games, figures to platoon in right with a loser of the centerfield competition.

The catching is a question mark. Boone, in his third major league season, has to improve his .242 batting average, but even more important he has to overcome a scatter arm. The backup catcher, Larry Cox, is strictly around for his fielding. He carries a weak stick.

The Phillies felt they had solved their bullpen deficiency in the trade last December that brought McGraw from the New York Mets. Without a healthy and effective McGraw, catching East Division champion Pittsburgh and runner-up St. Louis looks too tough. Also in the bullpen are righthander Gene Garber and lefthanders Joe Hoerner and Tom Hilgendorf, both picked up from the American League, and long reliever Ron Schueler.

The pitching could be first rate if young Dick Ruthven, 6-11, curbs his emotions and recovers from an operation to remove bone chips from his pitching arm; Wayne Twitchell, 6-9, snaps back after spending last season battling back from knee surgery, and Carlton, 16-13, and Jim Lonborg, 17-13, can maintain their consistency.

Woman Given Two-Year Probation In Shooting

A Benton Harbor woman was placed on two years probation Monday in Berrien circuit court for careless use of firearms in the shooting death of another woman.

Sentence was imposed by Judge William S. White on JoAnn Anderson, 25, of 642 Green avenue. She was accused of discharging a .22 caliber revolver which killed Josephine Mabian, 31, of 719 Buss avenue, Benton Harbor, on Sept. 21.

An original charge of murder against Miss Anderson was dismissed on motion of the prosecutor's office, and she pleaded guilty to the lesser charge. Mrs. Mabian died Sept. 29 of complications from the gunshot wounds received in the parking lot at Rosey's party store at Territorial road and Fair avenue, Benton Harbor.

In other sentences by White:

Arthur E. Swanigan, 18, of 444 Maple street, Benton Harbor, got 2 to 15 years in prison for assault with intent to rob while armed. He assaulted Bob Hoffman with a machete Dec. 6 at the American Laundry, 415 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

Robert J. Goodlow, 21, of 601 Thresher avenue, Benton Harbor, drew a 1 to 4 year prison term for a no contest plea to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He was accused of assaulting Roy Brown with a knife Nov. 23 at 443 Washington street, Benton Harbor.

Robbie Lee Robinson, 19, of 2818 Irving drive, Benton township, was sentenced to 2 to 10 years in prison, and Raymond D. Roseburgh, 17, of 197 Frederick street, Benton township, got four months in jail, both for breaking and entering the Benton Heights TV shop on Red Arrow highway Dec. 24.

Robert D. Chandler, 18, of 1158 Highland avenue, Benton township, was placed on two years probation, with the first 90 days in jail, for attempted breaking and entering Dec. 18 at the home of William Ware, 1169 Highland avenue, Benton township.

Orson W. Nixon, 23, of 1142 Hurd street, Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation, with the first 31 days in jail, for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident Dec. 7 at Union and Cross streets in Benton Harbor. He was the driver of a car that hit another car, injuring Albert and Luella McCoy.

Queen Esther Parker, 23, of 434 South McCord street, Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation for assault with intent to rob while unarmed. She assaulted Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Truhn Dec. 2 at their home at Circle drive, Benton township.

Dennis P. McGill, 27, of Manitou Beach, Mich., was placed on one year probation, and assessed fine and costs of $175, for larceny from a construction site — theft of pipe and fittings Sept. 8 from the site of the New Buffalo township West elementary school on Detroit street.

Brent S. Batchelor, 35, of 103 West Third street, Buchanan, got one year probation for possession of amphetamines Oct. 16 in Buchanan.

Julius L. Papoi, 33, of Buchanan, was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 fine and costs for possession of a controlled substance (narcotic) Dec. 17 in Niles.

Jury Says He's Rapist

Convicted by jurors in Judge Julian Hughes' court was Russell Lee Taylor, of 1732 Sweet avenue. After the verdict, Hughes revoked Taylor's bond privileges and remanded him to the county jail to await sentencing of up to life in prison.

Taylor was accused of raping a 25 - year - old Benton township woman at knifepoint Nov. 14 in the woman's home. He was also charged with two other counts of rape alleging he raped two other Benton township women, ages 72 and 74, the previous day.

Assistant Prosecutor Pat Murphy said the prosecutor's office will probably drop the other rape charges because of the conviction.

Young Calls Detroit Police

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Detroit Mayor Coleman Young said Wednesday a typical result of failure to require police to live in the cities they patrol is "the police department of Detroit—largely and literally a foreign army of occupation."

Young and Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson, who has recommended residency requirements for police in Atlanta, are the first black mayors of their cities.

An arbitration board is considering the fate of a Detroit regulation requiring police to live within city limits, Young said. But he added that the requirement as interpreted in the Michigan city has not been effective.

"As many as seven officers share one apartment in the city where they do little more than change into their uniforms," he said.

Young said no police department in the nation has as high a percentage of blacks as the cities themselves, and he said an enforced residency requirement would change that.

The 1975 Georgia Legislature passed a bill prohibiting cities from establishing such residency requirements for their employes, and Gov. George Busbee has said he will sign the bill.

Like U.S. Delicacy

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP) — Tokihide Inchinose of San Francisco has an unusual business. He hires divers, Caucasians because they can stand the cold bay water, once a year to collect herring eggs and seaweed from the rocks near here.

The eggs and seaweed are placed in large barrels and salted down, then shipped to Japan where they are considered a delicacy.

Inchinose has the only commercial license for taking unlimited quantities of eggs from the bay. However, other divers can hunt for 25 pounds a day on sport fishing licenses.

When received in Japan the product is called komochi konbu and is a favorite snack.

Rusk Urges Vietnam Aid

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, a chief architect of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia during the 1960s, says more U.S. aid should be sent to the collapsing government in South Vietnam.

"Though the smell of defeat is strong in South Vietnam," Rusk told newsmen Wednesday, "I believe that food and munitions should be sent while there is yet a chance for the people to receive and use it.... But right now I wouldn't bet on the survival of either the Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu government or the Lon Nol regime in Cambodia."

Woman Given Two-Year Probation In Shooting

A Benton Harbor woman was placed on two years probation Monday in Berrien circuit court for careless use of firearms in the shooting death of another woman.

Sentence was imposed by Judge William S. White on JoAnn Anderson, 25, of 642 Green avenue. She was accused of discharging a .22 caliber revolver which killed Josephine Mabian, 31, of 719 Buss avenue, Benton Harbor, on Sept. 21.

An original charge of murder against Miss Anderson was dismissed on motion of the prosecutor's office, and she pleaded guilty to the lesser charge. Mrs. Mabian died Sept. 29 of complications from the gunshot wounds received in the parking lot at Rosey's party store at Territorial road and Fair avenue, Benton Harbor.

In other sentences by White:

Arthur E. Swanigan, 18, of 444 Maple street, Benton Harbor, got 2 to 15 years in prison for assault with intent to rob while armed. He assaulted Bob Hoffman with a machete Dec. 6 at the American Laundry, 415 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

Robert J. Goodlow, 21, of 601 Thresher avenue, Benton Harbor, drew a 1 to 4 year prison term for a no contest plea to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He was accused of assaulting Roy Brown with a knife Nov. 23 at 443 Washington street, Benton Harbor.

Robbie Lee Robinson, 19, of 2818 Irving drive, Benton township, was sentenced to 2 to 10 years in prison, and Raymond D. Roseburgh, 17, of 197 Frederick street, Benton township, got four months in jail, both for breaking and entering the Benton Heights TV shop on Red Arrow highway Dec. 24.

Robert D. Chandler, 18, of 1158 Highland avenue, Benton township, was placed on two years probation, with the first 90 days in jail, for attempted breaking and entering Dec. 18 at the home of William Ware, 1169 Highland avenue, Benton township.

Orson W. Nixon, 23, of 1142 Hurd street, Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation, with the first 31 days in jail, for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident Dec. 7 at Union and Cross streets in Benton Harbor. He was the driver of a car that hit another car, injuring Albert and Luella McCoy.

Queen Esther Parker, 23, of 434 South McCord street, Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation for assault with intent to rob while unarmed. She assaulted Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Truhn Dec. 2 at their home at Circle drive, Benton township.

Berrien Schools Project Praised By State Board

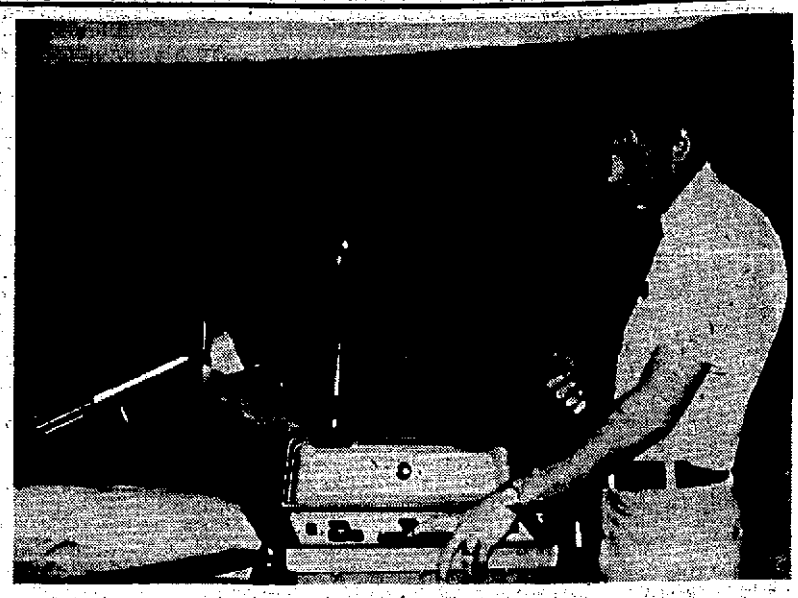

"IMPACT", an educational demonstration project started four years ago in a Benton Harbor school by the Berrien Intermediate school district, has been singled out as "worthy of statewide recognition."

The State Board of Education also cited a demonstration project in Niles Community schools as another among 13 such projects across Michigan for recognition.

IMPACT, or "Instructional Model Program for All Children and Teachers", is designed to train classroom teachers to devise class programs for children with learning and adjustment problems without referring them to special education classes. The first IMPACT demonstrations were conducted at Sterne Brunson school in the Benton Harbor system under a $125,000 grant through the Federal Elementary and Secondar Education Act. It since has been expanded into other school systems in Berrien county, and has been copied in other counties in Michigan and in other states according to Intermediate Superintendent Ray Sreboth.

Sreboth said evaluations of the project both by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and by Western Michigan university have indicated the success of the project.

The Niles school demonstration also singled out for recognition is titled "How to be an Effective Human Being". Its aim is to develop a humanized approach to education by conducting activities that encourage each student to feel worthy and exhibit self-esteem.

GIFT TO BERRIEN GENERAL: John Zinn, X-ray technologist at Berrien General hospital, demonstrates pressure injector donated recently to hospital's radiology department by Southwestern Medical clinic. The clinic is a corporation of physicians headquartered at the hospital. The $5,000 machine is used to introduce salt and iodine solution into circulatory system of patients, permitting circulatory system to be visible on X-ray. Zinn said pressure injector produces better results than previous manual injection method.

Rebekah Lodge Of Buchanan Meets Friday

BUCHANAN — A meeting of Bayleaf Rebekah lodge 248 is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 4, in the Buchanan Odd Fellow hall. A play practice will be held for the play to be presented at the spring meeting of Rebekah district 27 in Three Oaks, April 7, according to Mrs. Clayton Leiter.

Arts Display Returning To Gladiolus Event

COLOMA — After a two-year absence, an arts display will be included in the 1975 Coloma Gladiolus festival, Aug. 1-3, according to Michael Dilts, festival president. Dilts said Miss Constance Irvin of Coloma, will head the festival's arts display for southwestern Michigan and northern Indiana artists. Artists interested in participating their works in the festival should notify Dilts by mail by May 1, of their intent to be included in the arts display. Letters should be sent to the Coloma Gladiolus festival, route 2, box 124, Hennessey road, Watervliet. Dilts added that Miss Irvin would contact artists about details of the arts display at a later date.

Andrews Offers Physical Exams On April 6, 7

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Andrews university nursing department here will be offering medical examinations for area residents on April 6 from 7 to 11 a.m. on the campus in Marsh hall.

The exams are offered quarterly at the university to check for conditions that may lead to heart disease, cancer or a stroke.

Mrs. Charlotte Hamlin, a registered nurse and director of the program, said the exam will take 30 minutes per person and results would be available on the first of eight health improvement sessions to be held Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Marsh hall beginning April 14.

The cost of the program is $15 per person, $25 per couple and less for repeat testing.

Liquids, other than water, and any food eaten after 7 o'clock the night before will invalidate the test results, she said.

Pre-School Story Hour At Niles

NILES — Pre-school story hours at Niles Community library for next week will begin April 8, with a show and tell time. All children have been asked to bring something special from home to tell the class about.

Feature film for the week will be "Casey at the Bat." Stories will include "The Big Orange Thing," and "I Wish that I had Duck Feet."

REPORT PROMISE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal agency promises a more comprehensive report next month on widespread deficiencies in fire safety and health care it found in nursing homes across the country.

PORT DEVELOPMENT PROMOTED: Berrien county planning commission study recommending improved Twin Cities port facilities has been delivered to Twin Cities Area Transportation Study (Twin-CATS) group. It recommends that dredgings from harbor (center) be deposited on upstream part of Radio island (lower left), and that built-up area created by dredging be used for docks and other port facilities. Study also recommends reorganizing Twin Cities Port commission to "aggressively promote" port development. ## TRYING TO LURE MOTORISTS

California Pins Hopes On Trains

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Will Southern Californians forsake their prized automobiles to ride commuter trains? Officials in three counties are betting millions they will, but there are a lot of skeptics.

The idea is to run two trains between San Diego and Los Angeles, picking up workers in cities along the way.

One train is being financed by Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Eight coaches were bought from the Oregon Pacific & Eastern Railroad and are being refurbished at a cost of $1 million.

The other will be run jointly by Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties. Both trains will begin service by July 1, say planners. They will be operated by Amtrak, the semi-public corporation that runs all passenger trains in the United States. They will be the first commuter trains in Southern California in 10 years.

County officials say they expect the trains will be used most heavily by Orange County residents with Los Angeles jobs. The trains will stop in such cities as Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana.

A oneway Santa Ana-to-LA ticket is expected to cost $2. Fares are still being worked out.

The train will pull into the Los Angeles' downtown Union Station, and passengers can take buses to their jobs.

Some critics say that there is no assurance that enough people — officials hope for at least 800 passengers on two runs daily — will ride the trains to make them worthwhile. And they say that service facilities along the route are inadequate.

Some old terminals have been converted into restaurants, some have been destroyed and others have been moved to new locations.

Gerald B. Leonard, senior transportation planner for the Southern California Association of Governments, said: "It is kind of foot in the door to suggest to the public that there is an alternative — really an experiment — in which people can be drawn out of their automobiles into a rail service."

Planners estimate that subsidies amounting to $330,000 a year will be required to meet the difference between operating costs and revenue for the Los Angeles County-financed train. The subsidies will come from $4.15 million in federal revenue sharing funds provided in this year's county budget.

Under current plans, Amtrak will provide the engine and staff the train. The Southern California Rapid Transit District, as it does with its bus fleet, will run the train, setting schedules and fares.

Amtrak will provide the equipment, but under new state legislation Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties are entering into an agreement to share operational deficits up to $220,000 a year from transit-related state sales taxes.

The concept of the two trains also is different. Los Angeles County's train is for commuters and will run during rush hours. The tricounty train will have an off-peak schedule to accommodate tourists and overnight travelers.

Three existing Amtrak trains between Los Angeles and San Diego are not geared for commuter use. They are scheduled to connect with other trains to and from the East.

Public officials backing the train program say it could be the start of a larger network that would use not only existing railroad tracks but abandoned rights-of-way and space alongside flood channels as well.

A prime mover behind the railroad program is Baxter Ward, who has been promoting it since he took office as a Los Angeles County supervisor in 1972.

He has pointed out that it would have taken 12 years to build the 145-mile, $8 billion to $10 billion rapid transit system turned down by Los Angeles County voters last November.

"Rail corridors developed under this plan (using available facilities) could be upgraded over the years into the kind of high-speed, long-distance rapid transit the county needs," Ward said.

Specialist On Pesticides Will Speak At Andrews

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Dr. Tony J. Peterle, specialist in the effects of pesticides on wildlife and professor of zoology at Ohio State university, will speak at Andrews university Monday and Tuesday, April 7 and 8.

He will discuss artificial and natural methods for controlling mammal populations at a mammalogy class at 8:30 a.m. Monday in science complex room B-211; describe how pesticides affect birds at 10:30 a.m., same room; and at a science colloquium at 4:30 p.m. in the biology amphitheater will discuss how isotopes can be used to trace the transfer of pesticides from plants to animals and beyond.

On Tuesday at 7:30 a.m. in room B-211 he will offer ways ot predicting the effects of pesticides wherever they are found.

Any interested community resident is welcome to attend any of the lectures, according to Dr. Gerald Snow, AU assistant professor.

"It is unwise, if not sheer folly to continue dumping toxic compounds into the open environment," he said in an advanced text.

From 1968 to 1970 he edited the "Journal of Wildlife Management." He has done research for such agencies at the Department of Interior, the Atomic Energy commission, and the National Institute of Health.

After Peterle received a doctorate from the University of Michigan, he studied as a Fulbright scholar at Scotland university, Aberdeen.

HARTFORD — The big band sound will be presented by the Hartford high school stage band Friday night at 9 o'clock in the Hartford high school cafeteria. Tickets are $1 each and proceeds will be used for the school's band scholarship fund, according to Dale Kooi, co-director of the band.

Former Legislator Fighting Disbarment

DETROIT (AP) — Former State Rep. John P. Smeekens has filed suit in Federal Court seeking to prevent the State Bar Association and the Michigan Supreme Court from disbarring him.

He also asked more than $2 million in damages from various state officials.

U.S. District Court Judge Damon Keith turned down a request by Smeekens' attorneys for a temporary order restraining the bar association from continuing disbarment proceedings against Smeekens.

Keith said he would not issue any such order until he had an opportunity to hear from attorneys for the defendants. He set April 10 for a hearing.

Smeekens contended he feared "immediate, irreparable and permanent harm, loss and damage" would result to him unless the disbarment proceedings are lifted.

Smeekens did not attend the hearing and process-servers were unable to locate him to hand him a subpoena.

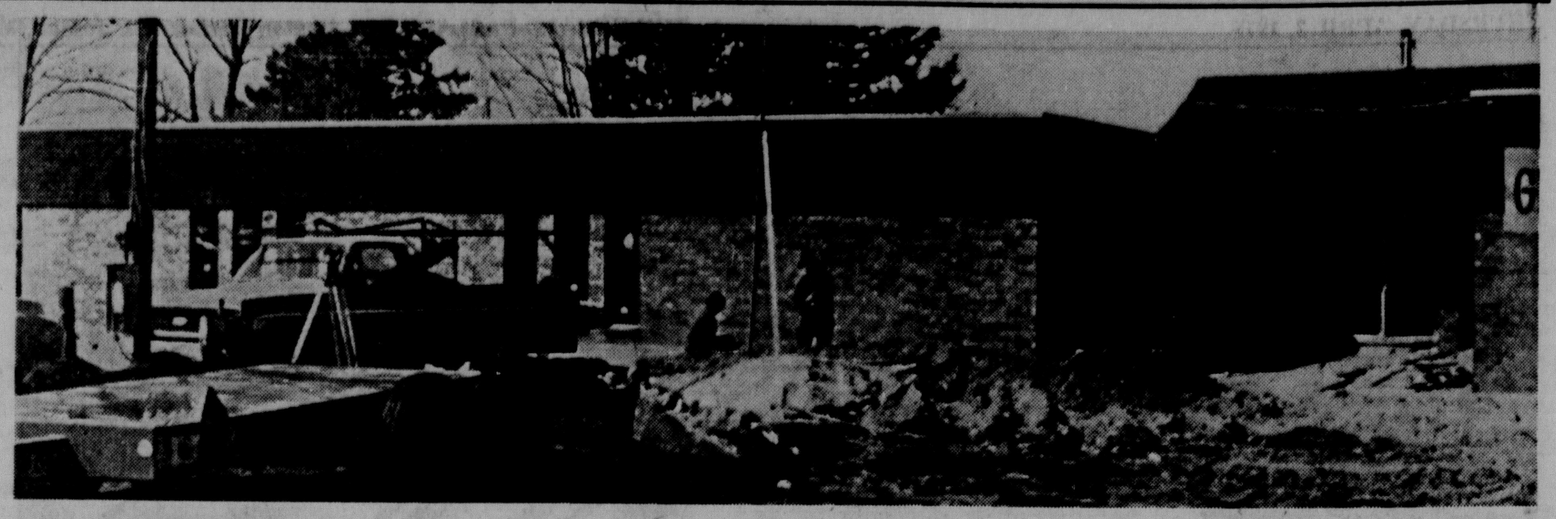

A Coldwater Republican, Smeekens was defeated in the August primary. In September he was censured by his colleagues in the legislature for alleged misuse of state money and conflict of interest.

The legislative action came after complaints that Smeekens at one time had a monetary interest in the Hillsdale Foundry Co. which was engaged in a dispute with the state over alleged air pollution.

The federal suit contends Smeekens could not get a fair trial because the defendants and other Michigan Supreme Court justices are "unduly prejudiced and biased" against him.

Byrns: Berrien Needs 4th Circuit Judge

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Is a fourth circuit judge in the offing for Berrien county?

Judge Chester J. Byrns, presiding judge of the Berrien circuit court, believes it should be.

"We are obviously going to need a fourth circuit judge," Byrns said, noting "we're about at our capacity."

Byrns' comments came in the wake of a statistical report released by the state supreme court which compares a number of three-judge circuits in Michigan. Berrien county is one of the circuits with three judges.

The report indicates Judges Byrns, Julian E. Hughes and William S. White tried more jury and bench cases, handled more cases on a per judge and total basis, and worked more criminal cases than any other three-judge circuit.

And Byrns said the volume of work isn't going to decrease—in fact, he predicts a 30 per cent increase in the number of cases "across the board" during 1975.

But the process of getting another circuit judge for is a lengthy and time-consuming one.

Byrns said that for the additional position to be created, either the supreme court must authorize it, or the legislature must pass a bill, and the governor sign it, authorizing the extra judge.

The judge would then be elected at the next regular election, which would be in November, 1976, and would not take the bench until January, 1977.

The closest circuit to Berrien on a statistical basis is Kalamazoo county. That circuit had only 193 more new cases filed during fiscal 1973-74 than Berrien, and worked 22 more session days than Berrien.

During the fiscal year used as the basis for the report, 3,062 new cases were filed in Berrien county, meaning each judge worked 1,021 cases on the average. Byrns said the "rule of thumb" is usually one circuit judge for each 800 cases.

The three judges worked 230.5 jury days handling 119 jury cases and tried 123 bench cases (no jury) for a total of 242 cases tried. The report says that averaged out to 81 trials per judge. The statewide circuit court average for cases tried per judge was 59.

The state report gave these statistics on major categories of court work for three-judge circuits: Total new cases per judge, Berrien 1,021, Jackson 976, Kalamazoo 1,085, Muskegon 924; Jury days, Berrien 230.5, Jakckson 144, Kalamazoo 181, Muskegon 129.5; Total cases tried, Berrrien 242, Jackson 102, Kalamazoo 150, Muskegon 186; Criminal trials per judge, Berrien 34, Jackson 22, Kalamazoo 16, Muskegon 24.

Byrns feels one of the key reasons that Berrien's judges are able to handle the volume without too much of a backlog is because of the "specialized courtroom" concept. In Berrien circuit court, each judge is assigned for one month to either criminal, civil, or domestic relations cases, as opposed to many other circuits where each judge has his own docket for the three categories.

An example of keeping the backlog to a minimum is also evidenced in the supreme court report. It says in Berrien county from the time of filing a case to time of trial it takes 4.6 months for a criminal jury trial and 4.4 months for a criminal non-jury trial.

The state average for those categories is 5.4 months for a jury trial and 5.9 for a non-jury. And suprisingly, Berrien has the same time-span for a criminal jury trial as does Kent county, which has five judges.

Berrien county's circuit operated for 121 years, from 1833 to 1954, with one judge. It ran for another 14 years, from 1954 to 1968, with two, and has operated with the current three judges since 1968.

When the third judge was authorized in 1967, the circuit tried 107 cases, compared with today's 242, and averaged 54 trials per judge. Now that figure is 81, and Byrns feels it's going to go much higher unless another judge is authorized.

500 Brave Storm To Watch Berrien 4-H Awards Ceremony

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Nearly 500 parents and youngsters braved Michigan's version of "spring" last night to watch teenage 4-H girls model clothing they had made themselves, during the conclusion of the three-day 4-H Spring Achievement show.

Normally on the last night of Spring Achievement upwards to 3,000 persons are on hand but last night 4-H leaders were pleased to see that the auditorium at Lakeshore High school was even half-full.

Clothing achievement honors for girls 14 to 19 went to Susan Bennett, of Berrien Springs, and Kathy Steinke, of St. Joseph.

For the first time excellence awards went to several girls for sewing, crocheting and knitting skills. The honors are called Eileen Everhart Excellence Awards named after the Benton Harbor woman who for 27 years has served as a 4-H clothing leader.

Winning Everharts in the Young Miss category were: Susan Klug, Cheryl Jury, Kristine Hirsch, Wendy Johnson, Jackie Zahl, Heidi Wendland, Sally Stover, Cindy Johnson, Vickie Richardson and Julie Lockman.

Co-chairmen for the program were Mrs. Gerald Robson, of Niles, and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner, of Berrien Springs. Michael Tate and Larry Cushman, Berrien 4-H agents, and the co-chairmen, were assisted by over 100 adult volunteers.

CLOTHING TROPHIES: Kathy Steinke (left), 18, of Royalton township, and Susan Bennett, 16, of Berrien Springs, were honored last night following Senior Miss style show for their continuing achievements during their 4-H careers in clothing projects. Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett, was awarded first place trophy and Kathy, the daughter of M. and Mrs. John Steinke, was runner-up. (Staff photo)

QUITE A DOLL: Marci Davis, 10, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagner, Route 2, Berrien Springs, shows doll she made that won best of show honors in its category at the 4-H Spring Achievement show last night. Marci said of the doll: "He's a hippie." (Staff photo)

HAND MADE ROCKER: Brian Piggott, 17, of Benton township, kneels beside his hand-made Swedish glider which won "best of show" honors in woodworking category last night during Berrien's 4-H Achievement show held at Lakeshore high school. Brian said the chair was copied from an antique owned by his grandfather, Stanley Piggott, Sr. (Staff photo)

Michigan Road Deaths Down From Last March

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ninety-four persons were killed in traffic accidents last month in Michigan, 12 per cent fewer than in March 1974, State Police report. State Police said Wednesday there were 107 traffic fatalities in March 1974. The average traffic death toll for March was 150 for the 1970-1974 period, the department said. This year's March figures bring to 306 the total death toll for the first quarter of 1975. This is 24 fatalities fewer than the 330 reported in the same period last year, the department said.

Small-Size School Districts Vanishing From State

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Over 87 per cent of Michigan's public school students are enrolled in 53 per cent of the kindergarten-through-grade-12 districts, officials say. Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, said Wednesday those 283 districts contain 1.9 million of the state's 2.2 million students. He said they also account for 87 per cent of the state's K-12 teachers and 85 per cent of classroom buildings. He said the 114 smallest school districts—or 21 per cent of the total 531—account for less than four per cent of the state's students and teachers and less than six per cent of classroom buildings.

"These figures are astronomical," Byrns said, refering to the report. "Comparable to other circuits, we're putting out more work."

"We're managing to keep pace now, but we're really pushing the limit," he added.

And Byrns said the volume of work isn't going to decrease—in fact, he predicts a 30 per cent increase in the number of cases "across the board" during 1975.

But the process of getting another circuit judge for is a lengthy and time-consuming one.

Byrns said that for the additional position to be created, either the supreme court must authorize it, or the legislature must pass a bill, and the governor sign it, authorizing the extra judge.

The judge would then be elected at the next regular election, which would be in November, 1976, and would not take the bench until January, 1977.

The closest circuit to Berrien on a statistical basis is Kalamazoo county. That circuit had only 193 more new cases filed during fiscal 1973-74 than Berrien, and worked 22 more session days than Berrien.

However, a fourth circuit judge assumed the bench in Kalamazoo county in January.

During the fiscal year used as the basis for the report, 3,062 new cases were filed in Berrien county, meaning each judge worked 1,021 cases on the average. Byrns said the "rule of thumb" is usually one circuit judge for each 800 cases.

The three judges worked 230.5 jury days handling 119 jury cases and tried 123 bench cases (no jury) for a total of 242 cases tried. The report says that averaged out to 81 trials per judge. The statewide circuit court average for cases tried per judge was 59.

The state report gave these statistics on major categories of court work for three-judge circuits: Total new cases per judge, Berrien 1,021, Jackson 976, Kalamazoo 1,085, Muskegon 924; Jury days, Berrien 230.5, Jakckson 144, Kalamazoo 181, Muskegon 129.5; Total cases tried, Berrrien 242, Jackson 102, Kalamazoo 150, Muskegon 186; Criminal trials per judge, Berrien 34, Jackson 22, Kalamazoo 16, Muskegon 24.

Byrns feels one of the key reasons that Berrien's judges are able to handle the volume without too much of a backlog is because of the "specialized courtroom" concept. In Berrien circuit court, each judge is assigned for one month to either criminal, civil, or domestic relations cases, as opposed to many other circuits where each judge has his own docket for the three categories.

An example of keeping the backlog to a minimum is also evidenced in the supreme court report. It says in Berrien county from the time of filing a case to time of trial it takes 4.6 months for a criminal jury trial and 4.4 months for a criminal non-jury trial.

The state average for those categories is 5.4 months for a jury trial and 5.9 for a non-jury. And suprisingly, Berrien has the same time-span for a criminal jury trial as does Kent county, which has five judges.

Berrien county's circuit operated for 121 years, from 1833 to 1954, with one judge. It ran for another 14 years, from 1954 to 1968, with two, and has operated with the current three judges since 1968.

When the third judge was authorized in 1967, the circuit tried 107 cases, compared with today's 242, and averaged 54 trials per judge. Now that figure is 81, and Byrns feels it's going to go much higher unless another judge is authorized.

500 Brave Storm To Watch Berrien 4-H Awards Ceremony

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Nearly 500 parents and youngsters braved Michigan's version of "spring" last night to watch teenage 4-H girls model clothing they had made themselves, during the conclusion of the three-day 4-H Spring Achievement show.

Normally on the last night of Spring Achievement upwards to 3,000 persons are on hand but last night 4-H leaders were pleased to see that the auditorium at Lakeshore High school was even half-full.

Clothing achievement honors for girls 14 to 19 went to Susan Bennett, of Berrien Springs, and Kathy Steinke, of St. Joseph.

For the first time excellence awards went to several girls for sewing, crocheting and knitting skills. The honors are called Eileen Everhart Excellence Awards named after the Benton Harbor woman who for 27 years has served as a 4-H clothing leader.

Winning Everharts in the Young Miss category were: Susan Klug, Cheryl Jury, Kristine Hirsch, Wendy Johnson, Jackie Zahl, Heidi Wendland, Sally Stover, Cindy Johnson, Vickie Richardson and Julie Lockman.

Also last night, All-Achievement awards, sponsored by the Berrien county 4-H foundation, were given to the following youngsters:

Ardie Long and Pamela Hill, leathercraft; Brian Piggott and Jeff Nitz, woodworking; Maria Fohs and Suzette Villermain, arts and crafts; Wayde Sumerix, electrical; Suzanne Janke and Janice Jung, cake decoration.

On Tuesday girls 12 to 14 competed in the Junior Miss Style Review. Winners of Review Pins were: Susan Clymer, Deborah Jackson, Lynn Wedel, Paula Duschek, Kim Bixby, Deb Crouch, Michelle Priefer, Nancy Porter, Judy Meyer, Rosanne Ster, Jan Lausch and Laura MacKimmie.

Monday night girls 9 to 12 competed for Young Miss Style Review honors. Selected were:

Sculpture — Kris Haase.

Rocketry — Dave Fritz.

Small motors — Rex Dennefell.

Home design — Dave Fritz, Joy Giver and Jeff Nitz.

Creative art — David Fritz and Pamela Koebel.

Co-chairmen for the program were Mrs. Gerald Robson, of Niles, and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner, of Berrien Springs. Michael Tate and Larry Cushman, Berrien 4-H agents, and the co-chairmen, were assisted by over 100 adult volunteers.

CLOTHING TROPHIES: Kathy Steinke (left), 18, of Royalton township, and Susan Bennett, 16, of Berrien Springs, were honored last night following Senior Miss style show for their continuing achievements during their 4-H careers in clothing projects. Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett, was awarded first place trophy and Kathy, the daughter of M. and Mrs. John Steinke, was runner-up. (Staff photo)

QUITE A DOLL: Marci Davis, 10, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagner, Route 2, Berrien Springs, shows doll she made that won best of show honors in its category at the 4-H Spring Achievement show last night. Marci said of the doll: "He's a hippie." (Staff photo)

HAND MADE ROCKER: Brian Piggott, 17, of Benton township, kneels beside his hand-made Swedish glider which won "best of show" honors in woodworking category last night during Berrien's 4-H Achievement show held at Lakeshore high school. Brian said the chair was copied from an antique owned by his grandfather, Stanley Piggott, Sr. (Staff photo)

Michigan Road Deaths Down From Last March

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ninety-four persons were killed in traffic accidents last month in Michigan, 12 per cent fewer than in March 1974, State Police report. State Police said Wednesday there were 107 traffic fatalities in March 1974. The average traffic death toll for March was 150 for the 1970-1974 period, the department said. This year's March figures bring to 306 the total death toll for the first quarter of 1975. This is 24 fatalities fewer than the 330 reported in the same period last year, the department said.

Small-Size School Districts Vanishing From State

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Over 87 per cent of Michigan's public school students are enrolled in 53 per cent of the kindergarten-through-grade-12 districts, officials say. Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, said Wednesday those 283 districts contain 1.9 million of the state's 2.2 million students. He said they also account for 87 per cent of the state's K-12 teachers and 85 per cent of classroom buildings. He said the 114 smallest school districts—or 21 per cent of the total 531—account for less than four per cent of the state's students and teachers and less than six per cent of classroom buildings.

U.S. Selective Service Halts Registration Of 18-Year-Olds

The U.S. Selective Service has discontinued the registration of 18-year olds for the draft, Margaret Grabbe, local board technician at the Kalamazoo Selective Service area office, announced yesterday. The directive to end the registration until further notice came from the National Selective Service headquarters, according to Mrs. Grabbe, and became effective April 1. Registration will be discontinued until new regulations on registration are established, Mrs. Grabbe said. Mail-in registration is also discontinued, she said. Previously, 18-year olds had to register 30 days before or after the

Watervliet Fills Trustee Vacancies

JAMES P. DELAPA

ROBERT H. STRASBURG

WATERVLIET — Announcement of the appointments of James P. DeLapa of Coloma and Robert H. Strasburg of Benton Harbor to fill vacancies on the Watervliet Community hospital board of trustees, has been made by Richard Lindenberg, board president.

The board vacancies were created by the resignations of T.E. "Ted" Daniels of Riverside, and Dean McKinney of St. Joseph.

DeLapa, 40, is president and founder of Saluto Foods corporation, Benton Harbor. A graduate of Michigan State university with a bachelor's degree in restaurant and hotel administration, he is a member of various local, regional, and national business and professional groups. He and his wife, Judith, and four children reside in Coloma.

Strasburg, 38, manager of marketing services for Watervliet Paper company, Inc., is a 1958 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio. Prior to joining the Watervliet Paper company in 1968, he served as director of educational services for National Graphics, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, and as director of corporate and foundation relations for Ohio Wesleyan university. He and his wife, Nancy, and their two children reside in Benton Harbor.

Snickers Follow Ex-Mayor's Try As Movie Actor

Q: How did New York's ex-mayor, John Lindsay, work out as an actor in that movie he made last summer in Europe? — J.V., Erie, Pa.

A: Preview audiences are said to be openly snickering at Lindsay's rather embarrassing performance in Otto Preminger's "Rosebud." According to reports, Peter O'Toole, star of the film, was hard-pressed to keep a straight face while watching the Lindsay scenes. But you can judge for yourself when it opens.

Q: Is Pat Kennedy friendly with her ex-husband, Peter Lawford? Also, did the Kennedys like Peter's recent TV show on Jackie Kennedy Onassis? — H.W., Bensonhurst, N.J.

A: The answer to both questions is a resounding NO! Things are bitter between Pat and Peter despite their children in common. Lately, the Kennedy family seems to have decided that the old Ambassador may have been right in his initial disapproval of dear "Petah."

QUICKIES: Lucky girls know when they've been phoned by Warren "Shampoo" Beatty. Q: Why was Jimmy Caan wearing a bandage on his right hand on the TV special from Washington, D.C. with Barbra Streisand? My buddies bet he hurt himself riding a horse. — H.H., Bronx, N.Y.

A: The "Funny Lady" leading man does like to play cowboy but his bandage was the result of a playful karate chop that went awry.

Q: I couldn't believe it. I saw Evel Knievel on TV playing in a celebrity golf tournament. Has he gone that soft? — D.U., Reno, Nev.

A: No. He still defies death regularly on soaring motorcycles while touring with his daredevil circus. His main fear now is that somebody will harm him or his family trying to get at all his money. While on the road he sleeps with a loaded .38 revolver under his pillow. Not exactly the soft life.

Q: Is it true that they aren't going to build a Nixon library at San Clemente? I thought all ex-Presidents get libraries. — L.A., Athens, Ga.

A: The foundation that was going to build the San Clemente library has been dissolved for lack of funds. But Nixon will probably get his library someday, somewhere. It will, however, most certainly not be located at the site proposed and elaborately sketched by two California architectural students — the old Alcatraz in San Francisco Bay.

PAT KENNEDY: No friendship with Peter.

SCOTT: $800 worth agreed.

Sex Change Certificates Requested

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The state health department has asked the Iowa legislature to allow it to issue new birth certificates for people who have undergone sex change operations.

Ted Ellis, department spokesman, said such a measure would protect the privacy of persons who must present birth certificates for things such as passports.

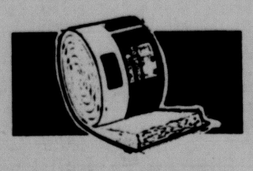

He said the department receives up to six requests a year for changes in birth certificates to reflect a surgical change of sex, most of them from former Iowans living in other states.

Band Group To Elect

BUCHANAN — Officers for 1975-76 of the Buchanan Band and Orchestra association are scheduled to be elected during the association's monthly meeting April 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Buchanan high school band room, according to Mrs. W.F. Firehammer, current president.

They'll Do It Every Time

Soybeans Grow More Popular As Costs Rise

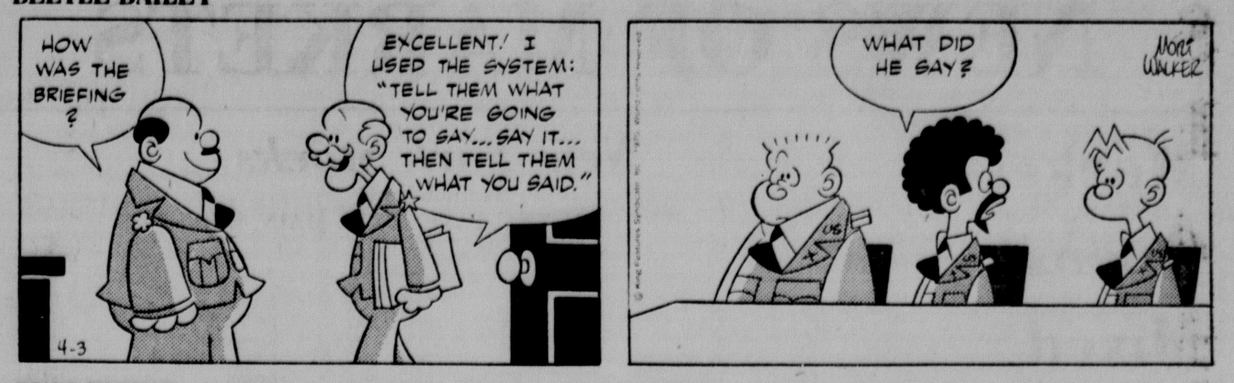

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — As the price of such protein foods as meats and dairy products rises, more and more Americans are turning to enzyme-produced meat substitutes made from protein-rich soybeans to balance their daily diets.

Popular for centuries in the Far East as the base for several foods, soybeans are now being made into sausages and breakfast and luncheon meats for the American market, thanks to the recent development of an enzyme process that removes the indigestible compounds from the beans and improves their taste.

Band Group To Elect

BUCHANAN — Officers for 1975-76 of the Buchanan Band and Orchestra association are scheduled to be elected during the association's monthly meeting April 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Buchanan high school band room, according to Mrs. W.F. Firehammer, current president.

Soybeans Grow More Popular As Costs Rise

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — As the price of such protein foods as meats and dairy products rises, more and more Americans are turning to enzyme-produced meat substitutes made from protein-rich soybeans to balance their daily diets.

Popular for centuries in the Far East as the base for several foods, soybeans are now being made into sausages and breakfast and luncheon meats for the American market, thanks to the recent development of an enzyme process that removes the indigestible compounds from the beans and improves their taste.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Opens Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today amid counterbalancing influences in the economic news.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down about a point, but gainers and losers were running almost dead-even on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market got some good news on inflation when the government reported at the opening that wholesale prices registered a seasonally adjusted 0.6 decline in March for their fourth monthly drop in a row.

But investors still appeared to be edgy over the prospective federal budget deficit and the upward pressure it was putting on interest rates.

There were estimates that the federal government would have to raise $80 billion through the rest of the year in the debt market. Heavy government and corporate borrowing demand has sent many interest rates upward in recent days, and a number of corporations have had to cancel bond and debenture offerings.

Today's prices included Sterndent, down 1/8 at 16 1/2; Carrier Corp., down 1/2 at 11 1/2; Lucky Stores, up 1/8 at 13 3/4, and U.S. Steel, unchanged at 57 3/8.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average gave up on an early 6-point advance and finished with a 1.02-point loss at 760.56.

Declines outnumbered advances by about a 4-3 margin on the NYSE in turnover of 15.60 million shares.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .12 to 43.72.

Business Sags In Public's Esteem

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "Among the Romans, the deity who presided over commerce and banking was Mercury, who, by a strange association, was also the god of thieves and of orators."

These were the words chosen by Harry O'Neill to begin an address a few days ago to a meeting of the Association of National Advertisers. In the world of big business, his remarks won't be forgotten for a long, long time.

O'Neill is executive vice president of Opinion Research Corp., a big polling organization based in Princeton, N.J., that documents the attitudes of people toward many things, business included.

"Big business, as reflected by the attitudes and opinions of the American public, has fallen on hard times," he said. Americans are beginning to think as the Romans thought, and a new holiday might result.

"The Romans, who looked upon merchants with contempt, fancied there was a resemblance between theft and merchandising and they easily found a figurative connection between theft and eloquence...

"On the 17th day of May, in each year, the merchants held a public festival, and walked in procession to the Temple of Mercury, for the purpose of begging pardon of that deity for all the lying and cheating they had found it convenient to practice, in the way of doing business..."

Today, said O'Neill, the reputation of business is badly tarnished, "its leaders are held in relatively low esteem, and the supposedly happy recipient of its products and services is becoming increasingly critical."

The public still recognizes the need for large companies to support growth and expansion, O'Neill related, citing polls to substantiate his statement, but public opinion on profits is becoming negative.

In 1965, about 67 per cent of Americans agreed that "profits of large companies help make things better for everyone." But the latest poll showed only 46 per cent agreed.

"This is the first time," said O'Neill, that agreement with this proposition has fallen below 50 per cent."

At the same time, a growing number of Americans support the proposition that "In many of our largest industries, one of two companeis have too much control of the industry." Seventy-six per cent agreed, up from 59 in 1959.

Almost the same proportion of the public believes "There's too much power concentrated in the hands of a few large companies," O'Neill stated. And a similar percentage agreed, "as they grow bigger, companies usually get cold and impersonal."

These opinions, said O'Neill are the basis for the majority of the public, "for the first time since we have been taking these measurements, supporting the notion that the best interests of the country would be served by breaking up some of our largest corporations."

It isn't only the enemies of business who have been intensifying their attacks, he said. "The traditional friends of business also have been weakening in their support at the same time."

Most favorably regarded in the polls are regulated industries, such as utilities, banks and telephone companies, although their support also has been falling in the past few years.

In fact, of 18 industries studied, only publishing is looked upon more favorably now than in 1968, the polls by Opinion Research show. Still, publishing remains in 15th place, topped by the automobile, food and insurance industries, among others.

Of 12 institutions evaluated in terms of the degree of confidence they inspire, large companies were at the bottom, in roughly the same category as Congress and labor unions. Churches topped all.

Rated on ethical and moral practices, advertising executives, labor union leaders, federal government officials and corporate executives were at the bottom, with scientists, physicians, school teachers, news reporters and the Supreme Court leading the list.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: Snow flurries are forecast Thursday from the lower Great Lakes to New England. Snow flurries are forecast for the Northern and western Plains. Rain is expected for the northern half of the Pacific coast. Mild weather is forecast for the Gulf and southern Atlantic coasts but most of the nation is expected to be unseasonably cold. ## Officers Chosen By Credit Union

HARTFORD — Jerome Shumate of Covert has been re-elected president of the Fruitbelt Federal Credit Union for a new term.

Also re-elected during the credit union's annual meeting was Mrs. Gene (Jewel) Story of Hartford as secretary. Mrs. Virginia Bench, former treasurer, was elected vice presidnt, and Mrs. Elinor Mullauer was elected treasurer. Both are from Hartford.

Mrs. Mullauer was also elected to the board of directors, and Roger Hallgren of Hartford and Mrs. Story were re-elected to the board.

Named to the credit committee were Nary Johnson, chairman, Roger Hallgren and William Dyer, all of Hartford.

The organization reported a membership of 682 with total assests of $278,238 at the end of 1974. A five per cent dividend also paid on savings at the end of last year.

The credit union is an independent credit union started by a group of Van Buren county farmers, and now serves residenzs living in a seven-township area in the county.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

It's Never Too Late To Plan Retirement

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I would like some information on retirement, including the list of stocks you recommend in a recent column. Or is it too late to plan? I am 68.

A. It is never too late to plan, although the earlier is always the better plan.

What I want to make clear to all readers, retired and otherwise, is that I do not recommend specific stocks in the column. And I am reluctant to discuss specific stocks even in personal messages.

To broadcast such recommendations could do considerable harm because the investment needs of all readers are not the same. I do have suggestions on retirement planning; I do have lists of stock which are considered long-time dividend providers; I do have a list of suggested growth stocks. But it would be foolhardy of me to advance a specific stock or group of stocks "recommended" as of the moment. That is not my business, and I am certain the SEC would take a very dim view of my acting as a market tipster.

EASING TAX BURDEN

Q. I have some money invested and the income is hurting me tax-wise. I plan to retire in 1980. How can I invest so as to ease my tax burden until then, after which my bracket will drop sharply.

A. E bonds are one answer. General obligation tax-exempt bonds issued by your state and due in 1980 are another.

Mr. Shulsky welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

For information on mutual funds, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address your requests to Sam Shulsky, care of this newspaper.

PUSH FOR PUBLIC POWER

Q. How much of the electricity we use in this country comes from privately-owned utilities and how much from publicly-owned companies?

A. About 80 per cent of our electricity comes from some 300 investor-owned utilities (known as IOUs).

The remainder is supplied by about 3,000 public power systems. Of these, most are either municipal or regional systems; the rest, rural electricity cooperatives. Public power companies function in every state except Montana and Hawaii. More than three-fourths serve communities of 10,000 or less, but others exist in such major cities as Seattle and Los Angeles.

Q. What about other countries?

A. The U.S. is among the few in which electricity production is largely managed by private firms. In Europe, as in Canada, almost all utilities are publicly owned — and in these countries, electricity rates have risen much more slowly than here. This despite almost identical pressures of increased fuel costs, expensive new construction, high interest rates.

Q. Are public power rates lower than IOU charges?

A. Yes, on average. According to a 1972 Federal Power Commission study (most recent available), private power costs the average residential user 2.4 cents per kilowatt hour as compared with 1.63 cents for public power.

Throughout the country, local governments are under conflicting pressures from irate utility customers and financially strapped utility firms — and in response are considering public takeovers of private, investor-owned utilities.

Feasibility studies have been commissioned by such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Vermont along with such communities as Fairfax, Va. and Erie County, N.Y. The reasons are as complex as the problem: the hope that public ownership will help curb electricity rate hikes; reduce the danger of future blackouts; turn local utilities into a source of much needed new revenue for local governments.

Above you read answers to some of the questions being asked about the highly charged issue. To continue:

Q. How can public utilities charge lower rates? Don't they face the same rising costs as private firms?

A. Unlike private companies, community-owned utilities pay no taxes and no dividends to stockholders. Municipal and regional power companies can issue tax-exempt bonds, borrow government funds at comparatively low interest rates to finance new construction, and buy low-cost power from government-run generating systems. Many of these are hydropower operations and thus, offer bargain-basement prices especially in contrast to costly fossil-fuel plants.

But of course — public systems also face the problem of higher operating costs. Their rates are going up but not as rapidly as the rates of the IOUs.

Q. Since publicly-owned utilities pay no taxes, doesn't the community lose valuable revenue?

A. Yes. The Edison Electric Institute estimates that other revenues received by local treasuries from public utilities amount to only 25 per cent of what IOUs pay in taxes.

Q. Government-run corporations (the Postal Service) are notoriously inefficient. Are public power systems different?

Despite IOU claims to the contrary, labor unions and consumer groups which support public power argue that Federal Power Commission reports show that community-owned utilities handle their accounting, promotion, advertising — and collections — more economically than private firms. They argue too that customer-controlled utilites must respond to local demands for good service and are more receptive to citizen pressure for pollution controls, underground power lines and controlled expansion.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Opens Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today amid counterbalancing influences in the economic news.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down about a point, but gainers and losers were running almost dead-even on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market got some good news on inflation when the government reported at the opening that wholesale prices registered a seasonally adjusted 0.6 decline in March for their fourth monthly drop in a row.

But investors still appeared to be edgy over the prospective federal budget deficit and the upward pressure it was putting on interest rates.

There were estimates that the federal government would have to raise $80 billion through the rest of the year in the debt market. Heavy government and corporate borrowing demand has sent many interest rates upward in recent days, and a number of corporations have had to cancel bond and debenture offerings.

Today's prices included Sterndent, down ⅛ at 16½; Carrier Corp., down ½ at 11½; Lucky Stores, up ⅛ at 13¾, and U.S. Steel, unchanged at 57⅞.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average gave up on an early 6-point advance and finished with a 1.02-point loss at 760.56.

Declines outnumbered advances by about a 4-3 margin on the NYSE in turnover of 15.60 million shares.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .12 to 43.72.

Bendix Firm Sets Open House

BOURBON, Ind. — Bendix Home Systems, Inc., an Alanta-based mobile home manufacturer, will hold an open house at its Bourbon plant, April 13.

Bendix Home Systems is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Bendix Corp., which purchased the mobile home business from Boise-Cascade about two years ago.

Tours of the mobile home manufacturing plant will be given at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., April 13, according to Tom Weiss, Bendix sales manager, and there will be no salesmen present at the open house.

Transportation will be provided to people living within a 40 mile radius of the Bourbon plant, which is located about 30 miles south of South Bend. People desiring the free transportation can obtain information on departure points by calling Weiss at Bourbon plant.

Hiram Walker Reports Big Earnings Drop

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts Ltd. earned $3.33 million, or 19 cents a share, in the three months ended Feb. 28, a sharp drop from the same period a year ago.

In the year-earlier period, the firm earned $12.8 million, or 75 cents a share.

Dollar sales were up eight per cent, but earnings were adversely affected by higher costs and interest charges, the firm said.

PUSH FOR PUBLIC POWER

Q. How much of the electricity we use in this country comes from privately-owned utilities and how much from publicly-owned companies?

A. About 80 per cent of our electricity comes from some 300 investor-owned utilities (known as IOUs).

The remainder is supplied by about 3,000 public power systems. Of these, most are either municipal or regional systems; the rest, rural electricity cooperatives. Public power companies function in every state except Montana and Hawaii. More than three-fourths serve communities of 10,000 or less, but others exist in such major cities as Seattle and Los Angeles.

Q. What about other countries?

A. The U.S. is among the few in which electricity production is largely managed by private firms. In Europe, as in Canada, almost all utilities are publicly owned — and in these countries, electricity rates have risen much more slowly than here. This despite almost identical pressures of increased fuel costs, expensive new construction, high interest rates.

Q. Are public power rates lower than IOU charges?

A. Yes, on average. According to a 1972 Federal Power Commission study (most recent available), private power costs the average residential user 2.4 cents per kilowatt hour as compared with 1.63 cents for public power.

Throughout the country, local governments are under conflicting pressures from irate utility customers and financially strapped utility firms — and in response are considering public takeovers of private, investor-owned utilities.

Feasibility studies have been commissioned by such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Vermont along with such communities as Fairfax, Va. and Erie County, N.Y. The reasons are as complex as the problem: the hope that public ownership will help curb electricity rate hikes; reduce the danger of future blackouts; turn local utilities into a source of much needed new revenue for local governments.

Above you read answers to some of the questions being asked about the highly charged issue. To continue:

Q. How can public utilities charge lower rates? Don't they face the same rising costs as private firms?

A. Unlike private companies, community-owned utilities pay no taxes and no dividends to stockholders. Municipal and regional power companies can issue tax-exempt bonds, borrow government funds at comparatively low interest rates to finance new construction, and buy low-cost power from government-run generating systems. Many of these are hydropower operations and, thus, offer bargain-basement prices especially in contrast to costly fossil-fuel plants.

But of course — public systems also face the problem of higher operating costs. Their rates are going up but not as rapidly as the rates of the IOUs.

Q. Since publicly-owned utilities pay no taxes, doesn't the community lose valuable revenue?

A. Yes. The Edison Electric Institute estimates that other revenues received by local treasuries from public utilities amount to only 25 per cent of what IOUs pay in taxes.

Q. Government-run corporations (the Postal Service) are notoriously inefficient. Are public power systems different?

Despite IOU claims to the contrary, labor unions and consumer groups which support public power argue that Federal Power Commission reports show that community-owned utilities handle their accounting, promotion, advertising — and collections — more economically than private firms. They argue too that customer-controlled utilites must respond to local demands for good service and are more receptive to citizen pressure for pollution controls, underground power lines and controlled expansion.

Officers Chosen By Credit Union

HARTFORD — Jerome Shumate of Covert has been re-elected president of the Fruithelt Federal Credit Union for a new term.

Also re-elected during the credit union's annual meeting was Mrs. Gene (Jewel) Story of Hartford as secretary. Mrs. Virginia Bench, former treasurer, was elected vice president, and Mrs. Elinor Mullauer was elected treasurer. Both are from Hartford.

Mrs. Mullauer was also elected to the board of directors, and Roger Hallgren of Hartford and Mrs. Story were re-elected to the board.

Named to the credit committee were Nary Johnson, chairman, Roger Hallgren and William Dyer, all of Hartford.

The organization reported a membership of 682 with total assests of $278,238 at the end of 1974. A five per cent dividend also paid on savings at the end of last year.

The credit union is an independent credit union started by a group of Van Buren county farmers, and now serves residenzs living in a seven-township area in the county.

Business Sags In Public's Esteem

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "Among the Romans, the deity who presided over commerce and banking was Mercury, who, by a strange association, was also the god of thieves and of orators."

These were the words chosen by Harry O'Neill to begin an address a few days ago to a meeting of the Association of National Advertisers. In the world of big business, his remarks won't be forgotten for a long, long time.

O'Neill is executive vice president of Opinion Research Corp., a big polling organization based in Princeton, N.J., that documents the attitudes of people toward many things, business included.

"Big business, as reflected by the attitudes and opinions of the American public, has fallen on hard times," he said. Americans are beginning to think as the Romans thought, and a new holiday might result.

"The Romans, who looked upon merchants with contempt, fancied there was a resemblance between theft and merchandising and they easily found a figurative connection between theft and eloquence...

"On the 17th day of May, in each year, the merchants held a public festival, and walked in procession to the Temple of Mercury, for the purpose of begging pardon of that deity for all the lying and cheating they had found it convenient to practice, in the way of doing business..."

Today, said O'Neill, the reputation of business is badly tarnished, "its leaders are held in relatively low esteem, and the supposedly happy recipient of its products and services is becoming increasingly critical."

The public still recognizes the need for large companies to support growth and expansion, O'Neill related, citing polls to substantiate his statement, but public opinion on profits is becoming negative.

In 1965, about 67 per cent of Americans agreed that "profits of large companies help make things better for everyone." But the latest poll showed only 46 per cent agreed.

"This is the first time," said O'Neill, that agreement with this proposition has fallen below 50 per cent."

At the same time, a growing number of Americans support the proposition that "In many of our largest industries, one of two companeis have too much control of the industry." Seventy-six per cent agreed, up from 59 in 1953.

Almost the same proportion of the public believes "There's too much power concentrated in the hands of a few large companies," O'Neill stated. And a similar percentage agreed, "as they grow bigger, companies usually get cold and impersonal."

These opinions, said O'Neill are the basis for the majority of the public, "for the first time since we have been taking these measurements, supporting the notion that the best interests of the country would be served by breaking up some of our largest corporations."

It isn't only the enemies of business who have been intensifying their attacks, he said. "The traditional friends of business also have been weakening in their support at the same time."

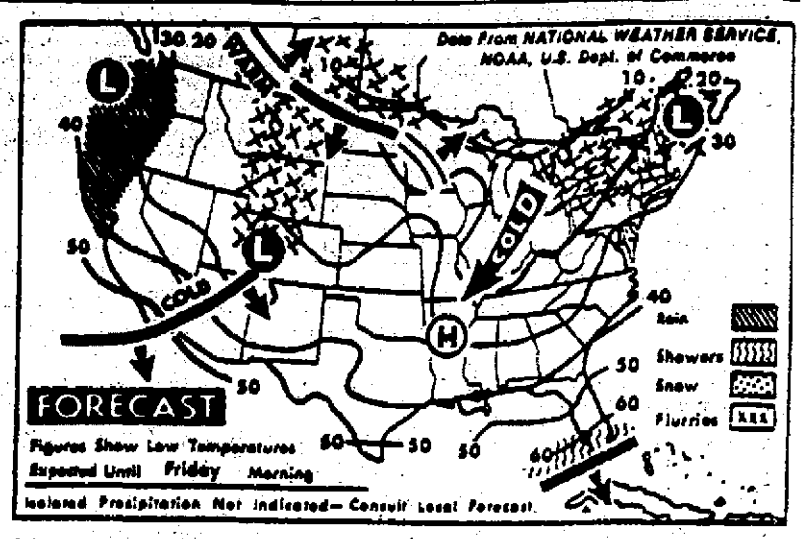

Most favorably regarded in the polls are regulated industries, such as utilities, banks and telephone companies, although their support also has been falling in the past few years.

In fact, of 18 industries studied, only publishing is looked upon more favorably now than in 1968, the polls by Opinion Research show. Still, publishing remains in 15th place, topped by the automobile, food and insurance industries, among others.

Of 12 institutions evaluated in terms of the degree of confidence they inspire, large companies were at the bottom, in roughly the same category as Congress and labor unions. Churches topped all.

Rated on ethical and moral practices, advertising executives, labor union leaders, federal government officials and corporate executives were at the bottom, with scientists, physicians, school teachers, news reporters and the Supreme Court leading the list.

One catalyst for improving the image, O'Neill indicated, could be stated simply: Tell the truth, openly and candidly.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: Snow flurries are forecast Thursday from the lower Great Lakes to New England. Snow flurries are forecast for the Northern and western Plains. Rain is expected for the northern half of the Pacific coast. Mild weather is forecast for the Gulf and southern Atlantic coasts but most of the nation is expected to be unseasonably cold. INVESTORS' GUIDE

It's Never Too Late To Plan Retirement

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I would like some information on retirement, including the list of stocks you recommend in a recent column. Or is it too late to plan? I am 68.

A. It is never too late to plan, although the earlier is always the better plan.

What I want to make clear to all readers, retired and otherwise, is that I do not recommend specific stocks in the column. And I am reluctant to discuss specific stocks even in personal messages.

To broadcast such recommendations could do considerable harm because the investment needs of all readers are not the same. I do have suggestions on retirement planning; I do have lists of stock which are considered long-time dividend providers; I do have a list of suggested growth stocks. But it would be foolhardy of me to advance a specific stock or group of stocks "recommended" as of the moment. That is not my business, and I am certain the SEC would take a very dim view of my acting as a market tipster.

EASING TAX BURDEN

Q. I have some money invested and the income is hurting me tax-wise. I plan to retire in 1980. How can I invest so as to ease my tax burden until then, after which my bracket will drop sharply.

A. E bonds are one answer. General obligation tax-exempt bonds issued by your state and due in 1980 are another.

Mr. Shulsky welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

For information on mutual funds, please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address your requests to Sam Shulsky, care of this newspaper.

A Supreme Court justice feels poor with over $40,000 annual income, and so does the unskilled laborer who gets a fraction of that amount. But the native in one of the underdeveloped nations might consider the laborer's income princely!

Poverty is more accurately characterized by the attitude towards the income, and the management of it.

Clearly anyone can feel poor, if he wants to. Or he can gratefully feel above the poverty level — regardless of the income. But the latter is very difficult, in view of the natural human tendency to make comparisons with neighbors . . . keeping up with the Joneses.

The second "P" stands for Prices. List prices and fixed prices and Fair Trade prices used to give the impression of stability of cost and value. A basic fallacy!

The price of a product, service or asset is simply the result of an agreement between seller and buyer. There is no basis for stability in that!

Usually a price fell in an area between what it cost and what it could be sold for. Obviously the seller would be reluctant to sell at a loss, and the buyer would object to paying more than necessary.

Oh, for small purchases there is little to gain by bargaining. But when meat and sugar and gasoline increased greatly in price, buyers simply refused to pay it and the seller couldn't make a sale. In 1973 customers saw the trend in car prices going up, not only because of inflation, but also because of anti-pollution gear by government edict. So they hurried to get their new car before the price went out of range. Now it IS out of range and sales are disastrously slow.

Prices for meat, sugar and gas came down somewhat, but sales are still not back up to former levels. The rebate program verified that lower prices attract buyers. But sellers can't operate at a loss for long.

The same arguments apply to our regulated industries: transportation, public utilities, etc. The market forces are handicapped by government control. So railroads and airlines go bankrupt and operate on taxpayers' money, and utilities reduce their services.

No one is entitled to a price which causes the seller a loss. But when supply is plentiful and demand slow, the price may drop below cost. In all fairness, a seller's market with high demand and short supply can bring unusually high profit and balance out the lean years.

The third "P" stands for Profits. Some people sneer at profits and root with great idealism for a no-profit world. But even the Good Book supports the profits made by the faithful servants, when they returned their talents, while the no-profit servant caught hell.

Some enterprises are in business to please and serve their customers. They have to make a profit, to be able to serve them next year. Others claim to be in business to make a profit, and have to provide a service, to be able to continue doing it. The former approach seems the better one and leads to a better attitude.

It should be clear that making a profit in not an option, but a necessity. It is a responsibility toward the owners, who insist on a return on their investment. And toward the employes, for their continued livelihood depends on it.

Excessive, unconscionable profits don't exist, at least not for long, in a free market. But a controlled market tolerates boty non-profit and excessive-profit operation. It even supports operating at a loss.

Profit is made by people. A day's pay should cover all expenses plus a little more for a rainy day . . . this is profit. Who would object to getting paid too much, to getting excessive profit?

Again, in a controlled market (employment contract, civil service, union rules) the profit may be excessive (featherbedding) or even negative (virtual slavery).

Not all profit is in the form of money. Some consider experience a profit, or knowledge, or enjoyment, or satisfaction.

Profit is a necessity, a responsibility to everyone around us. It seeks its own proper level in a free market. Let us all insist on a free market!

Eleven Sentenced By District Court

Two people were bound over to Circuit court, three demanded preliminary examinations and 11 were sentenced yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

Stephen B. Horace, 22, of Eighth avenue, South Haven, charged with resisting arrest at Jewel Foods, Benton township, March 25. He was freed on $3,500 bond.

Julius W. Hearington, 25, of 314 Arctic, Buchanan, charged with carrying a concealed pistol March 9 in Buchanan township. He waived examination.

Mark A. McDaniel, 19, of Territorial road, Millburg, on a charge of placing an explosive device (a pipe bomb) with intent to damage property near a telephone booth in Millburg March 31. He was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Jackie Carl McCord, 22, of M-62, Eau Claire, and Daniel R. Haltom, 18, of 305 West Chicago avenue, Buchanan, on charges of larceny of beer and onion rings from the Red Bud Inn, Buchanan township, April 1. Both were jailed on $2,500 bond. The alleged theft occurred after the inn was hit by fire. Sentenced were:

Michael L. Huff, 18, of Park road, Coloma, seven months probation and restitution for writing an insufficient fund check for less than $50 in Benton township.

Edwin W. Eastman, 19, of Sawyer, fine and costs of $50 for assault and battery against David DeMorrow March 18 in Chikaming township.

Ella Rice, 25, of 1190 Pavone, Benton Harbor, $121 for petty larceny of a pack of cigarettes from Benton Harbor Hilltop Foods Feb. 17.

Daniel A. Fischer, 19, of Michigan City, Ind., $50 or 10 days in jail for possession of a blank pistol April 2 in Bertrand township.

Jerome M. Johnson, 22, of 666 East Vineyard, Benton Harbor, 90 days in jail for creating a disturbance March 22 in Benton Harbor.

James Crow, 39, of 1028 Brookfield, St. Joseph, $151 and one year probation for impaired driving Nov. 11 in Benton township.

Paul H. Schultz, 63, of 1010½ Pipestone, Benton Harbor, 10 days in jail and $200 and 90 days in jail for driving while license suspended March 9 in Benton Harbor.

Theo Russell, 45, of Gary, Ind., $151 or 30 days in jail for driving under the influence of intoxicants April 1 in St. Joseph.

Michael L. Szymanski, 18, of South Bend, $50 or 10 days in jail for use of marijuana April 2 in Bertrand township.

Edward A. Rotter, 18, of 4181 Ridge road, Stevensville, $150 for use of marijuana and $101 and six months probation for impaired driving April 2 in Lincoln township.

James A. Kemp, 20, of Buchanan, 45 days in jail for use of marijuana April 1 in New Buffalo.

A Supreme Court justice feels poor with over $40,000 annual income, and so does the unskilled laborer who gets a fraction of that amount. But the native in one of the underdeveloped nations might consider the laborer's income princely!

Poverty is more accurately characterized by the attitude towards the income, and the management of it.

Clearly anyone can feel poor, if he wants to. Or he can gratefully feel above the poverty level — regardless of the income. But the latter is very difficult, in view of the natural human tendency to make comparisons with neighbors . . . keeping up with the Joneses.

The second "P" stands for Prices. List prices and fixed prices and Fair Trade prices used to give the impression of stability of cost and value. A basic fallacy!

The price of a product, service or asset is simply the result of an agreement between seller and buyer. There is no basis for stability in that!

Usually a price fell in an area between what it cost and what it could be sold for. Obviously the seller would be reluctant to sell at a loss, and the buyer would object to paying more than necessary.

Oh, for small purchases there is little to gain by bargaining. But when meat and sugar and gasoline increased greatly in price, buyers simply refused to pay it and the seller couldn't make a sale. In 1973 customers saw the trend in car prices going up, not only because of inflation, but also because of anti-pollution gear by government edict. So they hurried to get their new car before the price went out of range. Now it IS out of range and sales are disastrously slow.

Prices for meat, sugar and gas came down somewhat, but sales are still not back up to former levels. The rebate program verified that lower prices attract buyers. But sellers can't operate at a loss for long.

The same arguments apply to our regulated industries: transportation, public utilities, etc. The market forces are handicapped by government control. So railroads and airlines go bankrupt and operate on taxpayers' money, and utilities reduce their services.

No one is entitled to a price which causes the seller a loss. But when supply is plentiful and demand slow, the price may drop below cost. In all fairness, a seller's market with high demand and short supply can bring unusually high profit and balance out the lean years.

The third "P" stands for Profits. Some people sneer at profits and root with great idealism for a no-profit world. But even the Good Book supports the profits made by the faithful servants, when they returned their talents, while the no-profit servant caught hell.

Some enterprises are in business to please and serve their customers. They have to make a profit, to be able to serve them next year. Others claim to be in business to make a profit, and have to provide a service, to be able to continue doing it. The former approach seems the better one and leads to a better attitude.

It should be clear that making a profit in not an option, but a necessity. It is a responsibility toward the owners, who insist on a return on their investment. And toward the employes, for their continued livelihood depends on it.

Excessive, unconscionable profits don't exist, at least not for long, in a free market. But a controlled market tolerates boty non-profit and excessive-profit operation. It even supports operating at a loss.

Profit is made by people. A day's pay should cover all expenses plus a little more for a rainy day . . . this is profit. Who would object to getting paid too much, to getting excessive profit?

Again, in a controlled market (employment contract, civil service, union rules) the profit may be excessive (featherbedding) or even negative (virtual slavery).

Not all profit is in the form of money. Some consider experience a profit, or knowledge, or enjoyment, or satisfaction.

Profit is a necessity, a responsibility to everyone around us. It seeks its own proper level in a free market. Let us all insist on a free market!

Whatever you're doing, look better doing it in Palm Beach®

FASHION FIVER® OF DACRON®
BY Palm Beach®

Is it a business suit or a sports ensemble? It's both, because that's the whole idea behind the Palm Beach* Fashion Fiver. You get a handsome solid color suit plus an extra pair of color contrast check trousers and 2 coordinated belts. That means you're set for both business and leisure hours in top fashion form. Note the generous lapels and the patch and flap pockets. Here's the kind of front-runner styling you can always depend on from Palm Beach. Dependable fabric, too. It's 100% texturized Dacron† polyester that shuns wrinkles while keeping you breezily cool. Can you think of a more perfect outfit for the hot weather months ahead?

3-piece suit and 2 belts, $130.00
